REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The first Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkeudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |
| 5. Aberdeen (County). | 15. Edinburgh (County). | 24. Lanark. | 33. Selkirk. |

| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birthplaces of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses while the 1901 Table was based on the number of “Families.” In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads: “The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require.”

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 14.

THE COUNTY OF DUMFRIES.

THE population of the County of Dumfries is found to be 72,825, and to be 254, or 0·4 per cent., more than in 1901. Males enumerated in the County number 35,024, and females, 37,801. In 1901 males numbered 34,362, and females 38,209, and thus there is found an intercensal increase of males amounting to 662, or 1·9 per cent., but an intercensal decrease of females amounting to 408, or 1·1 per cent.

In 1801, by the first census of Scotland, the population of the County was found to be 54,597, and by the 1811 and 1821 censuses it was found to be substantially increased. At the latter date it amounted to 70,878, or 29·8 per cent., more than in 1801. Since 1821 the variations of the County population, found by successive censuses, have been comparatively small, and as some have been increases, and some decreases, the population is now very little different from the figures of 1821, the difference being an increase of only 1947, or 2·7 per cent. Since 1821, five censuses have shown the population to be decreasing, and four to be increasing, the largest decreases being found by the censuses of 1861 and 1891, when they amounted to 2245, or 2·9 per cent., and 1919, or 2·5 per cent., respectively, while the largest increases were found by those of 1851 and 1831, which were 5293, or 7·3 per cent., and 2892, or 4·1 per cent. In these comparisons the figures used are unadjusted for alterations of county boundaries, for the alterations which have taken place were too small to necessitate any such adjustment, a population of less than 30 having been affected.

TABLE B.—INTERCENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION IN THE COUNTY
AT EACH CENSUS SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated at the Censuses named in the first column, i.e. on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e. above. Thus the figure, + 254, in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, - 587, in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1871.

Distribution of Population within the County.—Of the total population, 30,258, or 41·5 per cent., were enumerated within the burghs of the County, and 42,567, or 58·5 per cent., in the extraburghal portions of the County. The former figure is 354, or 1·2 per cent., more than in 1901, but the latter is 100, or 0·2 per cent., less.

The extraburghal portions of the County are divided into five Public Health Districts, and of these two are found to have increased in population during the intercensal period, and three to have decreased. The two extraburghal Public Health Districts which are found to have increased are those of Dumfries and Thornhill, the population of the former now amounting to 8555, which is 297, or 3·6 per cent., more than in 1901, and that of the latter to 11,710, which is 445, or 4·0 per cent., more than in that year. The three extraburghal Public Health Districts whose populations have decreased during the period are Annan, where the population is now 10,515, and is 303, or 2·8 per cent., less than in 1901; Langholm, where the population is now 3242, and is 192, or 5·6 per cent., less; and Lockerbie, where the population is now 347, or 3·9 per cent., less than in that year.

Burghal Populations.—There are seven burghs in the County, and of these four are found to have increased in population during the intercensal period, and three to have decreased.

Dumfries, the largest of them, has a population of 16,011, which is 495, or 3·2 per cent., more than in 1901. In 1901 the ascertained population was 13,092, but during the intercensal period the burgh boundaries were altered and an area which in 1901 had a population of 2424 was annexed. The foregoing comparison is between the 1911 population of the burgh and the 1901 population of the entire area now included in the burgh boundaries.

The remaining six burghs all have populations of less than 5000; that of Annan is 4219; of Langholm, 2930; of Lockerbie, 2455; of Moffat, 2079; of Sanquhar, 1508; and of Lochmaben, 1056. Of the populations of these, three have increased during the intercensal period, and three have decreased. The increases are in Sanquhar, 133, or 9·7 per cent.; in Lockerbie, 97, or 4·1 per cent.; and in Lochmaben, 5, or 0·5 per cent. The decreases are in Langholm, 212, or 6·7 per cent.; in Moffat, 74, or 3·4 per cent.; and in Annan, 90, or 2·1 per cent.

Parish Populations.—There are 43 parishes in the County, of which the most populous are Dumfries, 19,076; Annan, 6892; Langholm, 3302; and Sanquhar, 3046; these four parishes being those containing four of the larger burghs. The smallest are Ewes, 247; Tynron, 309; and Halfmorton, 319. Of these 43 parishes, three have gained population to the amount of at least 100; nine have gained by smaller amounts; seven have lost by at least 100; and 24 have lost by smaller amounts. The three parishes which have increased by at least 100 are Dumfries, where the increase is 930, or 5·1 per cent.; Kirkconnel, where it is 896, or 71·8 per cent.; and Sanquhar, where it is 113, or 3·9 per cent. The seven parishes which have decreased by at least 100, with the amount of the decreases, are, Langholm, 198, or 5·7 per cent.; Annan, 181, or 2·6 per cent.; Hoddum, 172, or 11·3 per cent.; Canonbie, 121, or 6·2 per cent.; Durrisddeer, 121, or 12·5 per cent.; Kirkpatrick-Fleming, 112, or 7·6 per cent.; and Middlebie, 101, or 5·5 per cent.

Although the population of the County has remained very constant since 1831, the same cannot be said of the individual parishes, for the populations of several are now markedly less than at the date of some previous census. Only two parishes in the County—Dumfries and Kirkconnel—have now a maximum population, the populations of the remaining 41 being now less than at the date of some previous census. In 3 parishes the decrease of population has amounted to more than 50 per cent. of the maximum; in 10 to between 40 and 50 per cent.; in 10 to between 30 and 40 per cent.; in 12 to between 20 and 30 per cent.; in 2 to between 10 and 20 per cent.; and in 4 to less than 10 per cent. The parishes in which the highest rates of decrease have occurred are Halfmorton, where the population is now 56·7 per cent., less than in 1841; Durrisddeer, where it is now 52·7 per cent., less than in 1851; and Keir, where it is now 50·4 per cent., less than in 1831. The parishes in which there have been the largest decreases are Canonbie, where the decrease since 1861 has amounted to 1381, or 42·9 per cent.; Langholm, where the decrease since 1881 is 1310, or 28·4 per cent.; Sanquhar, where the decrease since 1851 is 1025, or 25·2 per cent.; and Durrisdier, where the decrease since 1851 is 946, or 52·7 per cent.

Age and Sex Distribution of Population.—There having been an intercensal increase in the male population, and a decrease in the female, the ratio of females to males is now less than in 1901. It is now 107·9 to 100, in 1901 it was 111·2 to 100.

The increase of male population has not been uniformly distributed among the age-groups. Those of under 20 all show decreases, and those between 20 and 60 all show increases, while of those of over 60 some show increases and some decreases. The largest increases are found in age-group 55 to 59, 269, or 23·3 per cent.; in age-group 30 to 34, 244, or 11·4 per cent.; and in age-group 50 to 54, 196, or 12·9 per cent. The largest decreases of male population are found in age-group 0 to 4, 294, or 7·4 per cent.; in age-group 5 to 9, 234, or 6·0 per cent.; and in age-group 15 to 19, 155, or 4·2 per cent.

Of the female age-groups, all under 30 and over 80 show decreases, while those between 30 and 80, that of 60 to 64 excepted, show increases. The largest increases are found in age-group 50 to 54, 286, or 16·7 per cent.; in age-group 45 to 49, 185, or 9·3 per cent.; and in age-group 70 to 74, 111, or 12·9 per cent.; and the largest decreases are found in age-group 0 to 4, 346, or 9·1 per cent.; 20 to 24, 326, or 9·4 per cent.; and in age-group 5 to 9, 242, or 6·4 per cent.

Occupations.—Of the male population of 10 years of age and over, 22,081, or 79·8 per cent., are returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population of those ages, 9021, or 29·3 per cent., are so returned. Compared with the corresponding figures for 1901, occupied males are 745 more, but occupied females are 614 fewer.

Of the occupied males, 12 were less than 14 years of age; 370 were aged 14; 3126 between 15 and 19; 2756 between 20 and 24; 8770 between 25 and 44; 5711 between 45 and 64; and 1336 were aged 65 and over. Compared with the returns of 1901, occupied males of less than 14 are 65 fewer; of 14, 129 fewer; of 15 to 19, 209 fewer; but those of 20 to 24 are 8 more; of 25 to 44, 565 more; of 45 to 64, 542 more; and of 65 and over, 33 more.

Of the occupied females, 4 were of less than 14 years of age; 194 were aged 14; 2254 were between 15 and 19; 1903 between 20 and 24; 2970 between 25 and 44; 1355 between 45 and 64; and 341 were aged 65 and over. Compared with the 1901 figures, those aged under 14 are 33 fewer; those of 14 are 107 fewer; those of 15 to 19, 240 fewer; those of 20 to 24, 140 fewer; those of 25 to 44, 40 fewer; those of 45 to 64, 10 fewer; and those of 65 and over, 44 fewer. These comparisons bring out the fact that the numbers of occupied females in all age-groups have decreased, as have also the number of occupied males in age-groups under 20, while the numbers of occupied males in all age-groups of over 20 have increased.

The groups of occupations in which the largest numbers of males in the County are returned are those connected with Agriculture, House-Building, Railway Service and Mining, and those to which the largest numbers of females are returned are those connected with Domestic Service and Agriculture.

Among males returned in the agricultural occupations there are 1440 Farmers; 535 Sons and Other Relatives assisting on Farms; 57 Crofters and their Sons and Other Relatives assisting on Crofts; 166 Grieves; 629 Shepherds; 3061 Agricultural Labourers; and 704 with other agricultural occupations; in all, 6592, or 29·9 per cent. of the total occupied, which number is 75 more than in 1901. Farmers and Crofters together—they were not separated in 1901—are 27 more than in that year; their Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts are 84 less; Grieves are 73 more; Shepherds, 4 less; and Agricultural Labourers are 145 more.

Occupied males in the building trades number 1722—constituting 7·8 per cent. of the total occupied,—and are 226 less than in 1901. Among these there are included 575 Masons, Builders, Bricklayers, and their Labourers; 575 Carpenters and Joiners and their Labourers; and 228 Painters. Masons, Builders, Bricklayers and their Labourers are 131 less than in 1901; Carpenters and their Labourers, 143 less; but Painters are 21 more.

Male Railway Servants in the County number 1121—constituting 5·1 per cent. of the total occupied,—and are 100 more than in 1901. Those returned as having mining occupations number 1043, or 4·7 per cent. of the total; they are 538 more than in 1901, and include 531 Hewers, 185 Other Workers below ground, 72 Workers above ground, 180 Leadminers, and 75 with other mining occupations; Hewers and Other Workers below ground are 375 more than in 1901, Workers above ground are 13 more, and Leadminers are 84 more.

Other occupations to which considerable numbers of males are returned are those connected with the manufacture of Wool, 624; Carters, 481; Quarriers, 516; Blacksmiths, 330; and Outdoor Domestic Servants, 972. Compared with the corresponding figures in 1901, those connected with the manufacture of Wool are 99 more; Carters are 61 more; Quarriers are 305 less; Blacksmiths, 29 less; and Outdoor Domestic Servants are 282 more.

Females returned as having agricultural occupations number 942, and are 451 fewer than in 1901. Among these are included 132 Farmers; 232 Daughters and Other Relatives assisting on Farms; 26 Crofters; 16 Daughters and Other Relatives assisting on Crofts; 491 Agricultural Labourers; and 45 with other agricultural occupations. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Farmers and Crofters together are 36 less; Daughters and Other Relatives assisting on Farms and Crofts are 190 less; and Agricultural Labourers are 237 less; but those with other agricultural occupations are 12 more.

Female Domestic Servants, including those in Hotels and Lodging Houses, number 3279; they constitute 36·3 per cent. of the total occupied, and are 335 less than in 1901.

Among other occupations followed by relatively large numbers of females are Dress-makers, 765, which is a decrease of 256 since 1901; occupations connected with the Wool Manufacture, 642, or 158 less than in 1901; Teachers, 267, or 36 less than in 1901; and Glovemakers, 612, or 436 more than in 1901. The increase in the last-named occupation amounts to nearly 250 per cent.

Industries.—There are six industries in the County giving employment to at least 1000 males, and three giving employment to more than 800 females. The industries giving employment to the largest number of males, are Agriculture, 6629; House Building and Decorating, 1662; Preparation and Sale of Food, 1487; Railway Service, 1233; Domestic and Institution Service, 1168; and Coal Industry, 1012. The industries giving employment to the largest number of females are Domestic and Institution Service, 3503; Agriculture, 943; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 807; Wool Industry, 655; Thread Hosiery and other Textile Industries, 494; and “other” Dress Industries, which includes the industry of Glove Making, 668.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population of the County, 66,658, or 91·5 per cent., are of Scottish birth, 50,007, or 68·7 per cent., having been born within the County, and 16,651, or 22·9 per cent., in other Scottish counties. Of the remainder, 4903, or 6·7 per cent., were of English birth; 671 of Irish birth; 238 of Colonial birth; and 355 of other birth, including 125 foreigners. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those born within the County of Dumfries are 1857, or 3·6 per cent., less; and those of Irish birth are 48, or 6·7 per cent., less; but those born in other Scottish counties are 1472, or 9·7 per cent., more; those born in England, 574, or 13·3 per cent., more; and foreigners are 52, or 71·2 per cent., more.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County was 17,530, which is 458 more than in 1901. Of these 16,434 were occupied, 975 unoccupied, and 121 in course of erection. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, occupied houses are 625 more, but unoccupied houses are 156 fewer, and houses in course of erection 11 fewer.

Of the occupied houses 1087, or 6·6 per cent., were one-roomed; 5300, or 32·3 per cent., two-roomed; 3673, or 22·4 per cent., three-roomed; 1878, or 11·4 per cent., four-roomed; 1097, or 6·7 per cent., five-roomed; 936, or 5·7 per cent., six-roomed; and 2463, or 15·0 per cent., of more than six rooms. Compared with the 1901 figures, one-roomed houses are 443 less; two-roomed houses, 158 less; and houses of more than six rooms, 34 less; but those of three rooms are 370 more; of four rooms, 226 more; of five rooms, 179 more; and of six rooms, 75 more. But in making these comparisons it is right to point out that the method of counting houses adopted in the tabulation of this census differs from that used in 1901, for in this census lodgers have been treated as members of households and not as separate householders, while in 1901 they were treated as householders, and the change is one which tends to decrease the number of small houses and increase the number of larger ones.

Of the population of the County, excluding those living in institutions, in houses of more than 24 rooms, and in households of more than 19 persons (vide note to Table XXVII.) 2515, or 3·6 per cent., were enumerated in houses of one room; 20,760, or 29·8 per cent., in houses of two rooms; 16,160, or 23·2 per cent., in houses of three rooms; 8688, or 12·5 per cent., in houses of four rooms; 4793, or 6·9 per cent., in houses of five rooms; 4322, or 6·2 per cent., in houses of six rooms; and 12,324, or 17·7 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population dealt with in the preceding paragraph, 49,646, or 71·4 per cent., live not more than two in a room; 19,916, or 28·6 per cent., more than two in a room; 62,295, or 89·6 per cent., not more than three in a room; 7267, or 10·4 per cent., more than three in a room; 67,500, or 97·0 per cent., not more than four in a room; and 2062, or 3·0 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures for 1901, those living more than two in a room are 1787, or 8·2 per cent., less; those living more than three in a room, 1291, or 15·1 per cent., less; and those living more than four in a room are 756, or 26·8 per cent., less.

Gaelic Speaking.—Persons of over three years of age returned in the County as able to speak Gaelic numbered 224, which is 47 more than in 1901. All of these were returned as speaking both Gaelic and English, and none as speaking Gaelic but not English. Of the 224, 27 were born in Dumfries, 47 in Argyll, 38 in Inverness, and 31 in Ross and Cromarty. Gaelic speakers of Irish birth numbered 4, and presumably had a knowledge of Irish, not Scottish, Gaelic.

* Royal Burghs.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Burgh have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the Burgh as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Burgh. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

TABLE V.—County of DUMFRIES—Particulars relating to Burghs.

This Table is omitted. Dumfries is the only Burgh in the County divided into Wards, and these are conterminous with the Parish Wards within the Burgh : for particulars, vide Table II.

* The remainder of Holywood District is in Terregles Parish, Kirkcudbrightshire.

NOTE.

The first County total for 1901 is that given in the Report on that Census ; and the second County total is that to be compared with the 1911 total, as it allows for adjustment between Civil and Registration Counties. The adjustment is small, one house in the Parish of Terregles, County of Kirkcudbright, being included in the Dumfriesshire Registration District of Holywood.

TABLE VIII.—County of DUMFRIES—Particulars of Registration Districts.

This Table shows the distribution of Registration District populations into Parishes, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Mainland and Insular portions. Registration Districts not appearing in the Table are not so divided. The Table also shows the grouping of Registration Districts, or parts of Registration Districts, into the respective Parishes of which they form part.

TABLE XVII.—County of DUMFRIES—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The First Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birth-places of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census as it is based on the number of occupied houses , while the 1901 Table was based on the number of ‘Families.’ In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County, and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads “The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require.”

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 15.

THE COUNTY OF EDINBURGH.

Censal details regarding nearly two-thirds of the population contained within the County of Edinburgh, or Midlothian, have already been published in Part 1 of this Report, which dealt with the Census of the City of Edinburgh, and this Part deals more particularly with that of the remainder—the population of the County exclusive of that of the City of Edinburgh. In many tables (but not all) of this Part we have found it convenient to include the City population for reasons of completeness, but we do not fear that any confusion can arise therefrom, as in every table there is an indication as to whether the City population is included or excluded.

The population of the entire County, including that of the City, as enumerated at the Census, is found to be 507,666, males numbering 235,427, and females 272,239. In 1901 the male population numbered 230,455, the female population 258,341, and the total population 488,796, and thus the total population is found to have increased during the intercensal period by 18,870, or 3·9 per cent., the male population by 4972, or 2·2 per cent., and the female population by 13,898, or 5·4 per cent.

In 1801 the population of the County of Edinburgh including the City, was by the first Census of Scotland found to amount to 122,954, and, since that date, at each recurring Census it is found to have increased. In 1851 the population was 259,435, or fully twice as large as in 1801, in 1881 it was 389,164, or fully three times as large

Distribution of Population within the County.—Of the total population of the County, including the City of Edinburgh, 320,318, or 63·1 per cent., is within the City; 113,499, or 22·4 per cent., within the other burghs of the County; and 73,849, or 14·5 per cent. in the Extraburghal portions of the County. Compared with the figures of 1901, the City population is 2859, or 0·9 per cent., more, the Burghal population (exclusive of the City population) 7,788, or 7·4 per cent., more; and the Extraburghal population, 8223, or 12·5 per cent., more. Of the total increase 43·6 per cent. is in the Extraburghal portion, 41·3 per cent. in the Burghal portion, and 15·1 in the City portion. Thus the intercensal increase of population is both absolutely and relatively greatest in the Extraburghal portion, and least in the City portion.

Suburban District	23,814	19,138	4,676	24·4	—	—

The Extraburghal portion of the County is divided into four Public Health Districts, the most populous of which are Lasswade Public Health District and the Suburban Public Health District, the former having a population of 24,047, and the latter of 23,814. Calder Public Health District has a population of 19,071, and Gala Water Public Health District one of 6917. In two of these districts, Lasswade and the Suburban, there have been intercensal increases of population, but in the other two there have been decreases. The increase in the Suburban District amounts to 4676, or 24·4 per cent., and that in Lasswade District to 4298, or 21·8 per cent. The decrease in Calder District amounts to 568, or 2·9 per cent., and in Gala-Water District to 183, or 2·6 per cent. Thus the increase of Extraburghal population in the County has been confined to the central and eastern, and has not extended into the western and southern portions.

Burgh Populations.—Exclusive of the City of Edinburgh, there are seven burghs in the County, the largest being Leith, with a population of 80,488, and Musselburgh with one of 15,938, and the smallest being Lasswade, with a population of 880. Dalkeith has a population of 7019, Loanhead one of 3483, Bonnyrigg one of 2955, and Penicuik one of 2736. Comparisons between these populations and those of 1901 are in two instances complicated by alterations of burgh boundaries during the intercensal period, but, if the present populations be compared with the 1901 populations of the areas now included within the burghs, it is found that there have been increases in six of those burghs, but a decrease in one. The largest increases are found to be in Musselburgh, 4070, or 34·3 per cent., and in Leith, 3049, or 3·9 per cent. The increase in Loanhead is 472, or 15·7 per cent., in Dalkeith, 222, or 3·3 per cent. In Bonnyrigg and Lasswade the increases are small, being 31 and 11 respectively. The burgh, the population of which has decreased during the period is Penicuik, there being a decrease of 67, or 2·4 per cent., from 2803, the figure of 1901. The increases of population found in Musselburgh and Leith are both absolutely as well as relatively greater than in the City of Edinburgh, where it is 2859, or 0·9 per cent.

Parish Populations.—Exclusive of the Parish of the City of Edinburgh, there are 27 parishes in the County, ranging in population from 80,488 in Leith; 20,360 in Inveresk; and 10,504 in Lasswade; to 276 in Fala and Soutra; 363 in Temple; and 414 in Heriot. Of these, 18 have increased in population during the intercensal period, and 10 have decreased. The largest increases are found in Inveresk, 5710; in Leith, 3049; in Newbattle, 1504; in Lasswade, 1308; in Liberton, 1202; in Colinton, 1165; in Corstorphine, 1145; and in Cramond, 1036; and the highest rates of decennial increase are found in Inveresk, 39·0 per cent.; in Colinton, 21·2 per cent.; in Liberton, 16·8 per cent.; and in Lasswade, 14·2 per cent. The largest decreases are found in Penicuik, 404; in West Calder, 376; in Kirknewton, 348; and in Stow, 243; and the highest rates of decrease in Stow, 15·6 per cent.; in Fala and Soutra, 13·5 per cent.; in Kirknewton, 10·8 per cent.; in Crichton, 9·5 per cent.; and in Penicuik, 7·2 per cent.

Sex and Age-Distribution.—In the County, exclusive of the City of Edinburgh, the increase of females has been greater than that of males, and consequently the ratio of females to males has increased; in 1901 this ratio was 100·2 to 100, it is now 103·7 to 100. This ratio in the total County population, including that of the City, is 115·6 to 100; in the City, 123·3 to 100; in Leith, 106·5 to 100; and in the County exclusive of the City of Edinburgh and Leith, 101·6 to 100.

An examination of the age distribution of the males of the County, inclusive of the City, shows increases in all quinquennial age-groups between 30 and 89, and in age-group 5 to 9, but decreases in age-group 0 to 4, and in age-groups between 10 and 29. An examination of the age distribution of the females of the County shows similar changes, with the exception that in age-group 10 to 14 there is an increase in place of a decrease. But those changes are not uniform in the different divisions of the County. In the City there is a decrease in all male age-groups under 30, and in Leith similar decreases are found in age-groups 0 to 4, 15 to 19, 20 to 24, and 25 to 29, but not in age-groups 5 to 9, and 10 to 14; while in the rest of the County (i.e. exclusive of the City and Leith) increases in all age-groups under 90 are found. In the City, decreases are found in female age-groups under 30, with the exception of age-group 5 to 9, but in Leith the only decreases are in age-groups 0 to 4, and 20 to 24, while in the rest of the County there are no decreases in any of the age-groups.

In the entire County, inclusive of the City, the largest increases of males are found in age-groups 35 to 39, viz., 1828, and 40 to 44, viz., 1588; in the City the largest increases are in the same age-groups; in Leith they are in age-groups 5 to 9, 235, and 65 to 69, also 235; in the rest of the County they are in age-groups 35 to 39, viz., 654, and 30 to 34, viz., 647. In the entire County the largest decreases in the male age-groups are in 20 to 24, 2915, and 25 to 29, 1215; in the City they are in age-groups 20 to 24, 2549, and 0 to 4, 1449; in Leith they are in age-groups 20 to 24, 809, and 25 to 29, 382. In the rest of the County there are no decreases in any of the male age-groups under 90.

In the female age-groups of the entire County, the largest increases are found in age-groups 35 to 39, 2399; 30 to 34, 2263; and 45 to 49, 2205; and the largest decreases in age-groups 20 to 24, 1605; 0 to 4, 649; and 15 to 19, 432; in the City the largest female increases are found in age-groups, 45 to 49, 1444; 35 to 39, 1407; and 40 to 44, 1257; and the largest decreases in age-groups 20 to 24, 1939; 0 to 5, 993; and 15 to 19, 855; in Leith the largest female increases are in age-groups 30 to 34, 459; and 35 to 39, 345; and the only decreases are in age-groups 20 to 24, 186; and 0 to 4, 109. In the rest of the County the largest female increases are found in age-groups 30 to 34, 770; 35 to 39, 647; and 45 to 49, 549.

The age distribution of the population of less than 20 years of age in the School Board Districts of the County (exclusive of City) is shown in Table XXI. A comparison of the figures there given with the corresponding figures of 1901 brings out the fact that there has been a loss of population of these ages in 17 districts, and a gain in 12. In seven of these districts there has been a loss of this population of those ages notwithstanding the fact that there is a gain of total population, those seven districts being Borthwick, Cockpen, Currie, Dalkeith Burgh, Glencorse, Mid-Calder, and Penicuik. In one district only is there any increase of population among those under 20 years of age, while there is a decrease of total population. This is in the School Board District of Dalkeith Landward, where the population has fallen from 544 to 483, while the number of those under 20 years of age has increased from 208 to 216. In 1901, of the total population of the County, exclusive of that of the City, 44·8 per cent. were under 20 years of age, but at this Census only 43·0 per cent. were below that age.

Occupations.—In the County (exclusive of the City of Edinburgh), 57,822 males, and 20,381 females, of ten years of age and upwards were returned as having some remunerative occupation. In 1901 the corresponding figures were 54,329, and 19,806, and thus the occupied males now number 3,493, and the occupied females 575, more than in that year. The increase of occupied males amounts to 6·4 per cent., and of occupied females to 2·9 per cent.

In Leith, males returned as having remunerative occupation number 24,725, and females 9512. The occupied males are 470, or 1·9 per cent., less than in 1901, but the occupied females are 357, or 3·9 per cent., more.

Comparing the present number of occupied males in the County (exclusive of the City) in the various age-groups, with the corresponding figures of 1901, it is found that there has been a decrease in all the younger age-groups, and increases in the older. Occupied males of less than 14 now number 13, in 1901 they numbered 185; those aged 14 now number 978, or 332 less than in 1901; in age-group 15 to 19 they number 8341, or 107 less than in 1901; and in age-group 20 to 24 they number 7730, or 412 less than in 1901. In age-group 25 to 44 occupied males number 25,351, and are 1344 more than in 1901; in age-group 45 to 64 they number 13,172, and are 1722 more than in 1901; and in age-group of over 65 they number 2234, and are 451 more than in that year. The increase of occupied males in age-group of 65 and upwards amounts to 25·3 per cent., in age-group 45 to 64, to 15·0 per cent., and in age-group 25 to 44, to 10·2 per cent. The decrease of occupied males in age-group 20 to 24 amounts to 5·1 per cent., and in age-group 15 to 19, to 1·3 per cent.

Occupied females in the County (exclusive of the City) of less than 14 years of age now number 16, which is 92 less than in 1901; and those of age 14 now number 556, which is 260 less than in that year. In age-group 15 to 19 they number 6118, which is 137, or 2·2 per cent., less than in 1901; in age-group 20 to 24, 4914, which is 262, or 5·6 per cent., more than in 1901; in age-group 25 to 44, 6193, which is 854, or 16·0 per cent., more than in 1901; in age-group 45 to 64, 2187, which is 5 more than in 1901; and in age-group of over 65, 397, which is 57, or 12·6 per cent., less than in that year.

A comparison of the numbers of occupied males and females in Leith with the corresponding figures of 1901, shows very similar changes, namely, decreased numbers of males in age-groups of under 25, but increases in age-groups of over that age, and decreased numbers of occupied females of less than 20 years of age, but increased numbers in age-groups of over that age, with the exception of age-group of over 65, in which there is a decrease. In Leith there is a small increase—of 15—in the number of occupied females in age-group 15 to 19, but as that is more than balanced by the decrease among those of less than 15 years of age, the result is, as above stated, a decrease among all under 20.

The group of occupations in the County (exclusive of the City) in which the largest number of occupied males are returned, is that which includes the occupations connected with Mining. In this group, 10,569, or 18·3 per cent. of the total of those occupied, are returned. In 1901, the number returned as belonging to this group of occupations was 6594; and thus the intercensal increase amounts to 3975, or 60·3 per cent. Among those included in this group are 6494 Hewers, 3067 Other Workers below Ground; and 855 Workers above Ground. Hewers are 1035 more than in 1901, Other Workers below Ground are 2457 more, and Workers above Ground are 425 more.

Occupied males returned as connected with the Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades collectively number 4187, 3033 being engaged in the former and 1154 in the latter. The former are 116 fewer than in 1901, but the latter are 285 more.

Occupied males in the Building Trades number 3215, and among others, include 814 Masons, Builders, Bricklayers, and their Labourers; 1126 Carpenters and Joiners and their Labourers; and 478 Painters. Masons, &c., with their Labourers are 662, or 44·9 per cent. less than in 1901; Carpenters and their Labourers are 401, or 26·3 per cent., less; but Painters are 15, or 3·2 per cent., more.

Those in agricultural occupations number 3204, and are 155 more than in 1901. Among others, they include 548 Farmers and their Sons or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms, and 2227 Agricultural Labourers; the former are 45 less than in 1901, but the latter are 183 more than in that year.

Other occupations followed by large numbers are Carters, 2118; Dock Labourers, 2073; Railway Servants, 1823; Paper Makers, 1653; and Seamen, all grades, 1655. Carters are 174 less than in 1901; and Seamen are 219 less, but Dock Labourers are 342 more, Paper Makers 255 more, and Railway Servants 198 more.

The occupations to which the largest numbers of females in the County are returned are Domestic Servants, 4773; Commercial Clerks, 1298; Dressmakers, 1450; Agricultural Occupations, 963; and Paper Makers, 944. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Domestic Servants are 754 fewer; Dressmakers, 261 fewer; and those with Agricultural Occupations, 340 fewer; but Commercial Clerks are 655 more; and Paper Makers, 42 more.

In the Burgh of Leith the number of males returned as in one or other of the Engineering or Shipbuilding Trades is 3174; as Dock Labourers, 2069; as Seamen, all grades, 1632; as in one or other of the Building Trades, 1518; as Carters, 1320; and as Clerks, 1175. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Dock Labourers are 341 more; Engineers and Shipbuilders, 119 more; and Clerks, 20 more; but those in the Building Trades are 790 fewer; Seamen 213 fewer; and Carters, 64 fewer.

Of the occupied females in the Burgh of Leith, 1437 are returned as Domestic Servants, 848 as Clerks, and 750 as Dressmakers. Domestic Servants number 749 less than in 1901, and Dressmakers, 164 less, but Clerks, 428 more.

Industries.—The industries, defined as the occupations of the employers, which in the County (exclusive of the City) give the most employment to males, and the number returned as following them are, Coal Industry, 10,534; the Preparation and Sale of Food, 4964; Shipping and Docks, 4301; Agriculture, 4095; House Building and Decorating, 2855; Iron Manufacture, 2620; Shale Industry, 2337; and Paper and Stationery Manufacture, 2208. The principal female industries of the County are Domestic and Institution Service, 5806; Preparation and Sale of Food, 2019; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 1712; Paper and Stationery Manufacture, 1497; and Agriculture, 1016.

In Leith the industries giving most employment to males are Shipping and Docks, 4249; Preparation and Sale of Food, 3033; Iron Manufacture, 1824; Shipbuilding, 1452; and House Building and Decorating, 1441; and those giving most employment to females are Domestic and Institution Service, 1828; Preparation and Sale of Food, 1386; Paper and Stationery Manufacture, 586; and Printing, 526.

Housing.—In the County (exclusive of the City) the total number of houses enumerated was 42,823, 39,348, or 91·9 per cent., being inhabited, 3268, or 7·6 per cent., uninhabited, and 207, or 0·5 per cent., in course of erection. Compared with the 1901 figure, inhabited houses are 4501, or 12·9 per cent., more; and uninhabited houses, 741, or 29·3 per cent., more; but houses in course of erection are 55, or 21·0 per cent., less.

Inhabited houses enumerated in Leith numbered 17,341, uninhabited houses, 1563, and houses in course of erection, 58. Compared with the 1901 figures, the inhabited houses are 1430, or 9·0 per cent., more; uninhabited, 958, or 158·3 per cent., more; and houses in course of erection, 16 more.

Of the 39,348 inhabited houses enumerated in the County, 2, both in Leith, were without windowed rooms; 3210, or 8·2 per cent., were one-roomed; 17,248, or 43·8 per cent., two-roomed; 8965, or 22·8 per cent., three-roomed; 3768, or 9·6 per cent., four-roomed; 1674, or 4·3 per cent., five-roomed; 1157, or 2·9 per cent., six-roomed; and 3324, or 8·5 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the 17,341 inhabited houses enumerated in Leith, 2 were without windowed rooms; 1427, or 8·2 per cent., one-roomed; 7842, or 45·2 per cent., two-roomed; 4179, or 24·1 per cent., three-roomed; 1,753, or 10·1 per cent., four-roomed; 673, or 3·9 per cent., five-roomed; 388, or 2·2 per cent., six-roomed; and 1077, or 6·2 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the County population, exclusive of that of the City, and exclusive of those living in houses of 25 or more rooms, or in 'families' of 20 or more persons, 6 are living in houses without windowed rooms; 9591, or 5·3 per cent., in one-roomed houses; 78,498, or 43·6 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 44,226, or 24·6 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 18,443, or 10·3 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 7766, or 4·3 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 5417, or 3·0 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 15,928, or 8·9 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population of Leith, 6 were living in houses without windowed rooms; 4190, or 5·4 per cent., in one-roomed houses; 34,644, or 44·5 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 20,294, or 26·1 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 8591, or 11·0 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 3091, or 4·0 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 1770, or 2·3 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 5257, or 6·7 per cent. in houses of more than six rooms.

In Table F the numbers living in the more crowded and less crowded conditions in the entire County, in the City of Edinburgh, in Leith, and in the rest of the County are collected, and it is there shown that the more crowded conditions are found in the County outside of the City of Edinburgh and outside of the Burgh of Leith. In the entire County 62·9 per cent. of the population are living not more than two in a room, 37·1 per cent. more than two in a room; 15·4 per cent. more than three in a room; and 5·1 per cent. more than four in a room. In the County, exclusive of the City of Edinburgh and the Burgh of Leith, 54·7 per cent. are living not more than two in a room, 45·3 per cent. more than two in a room, 21·1 per cent. more than three in a room, and 8·0 per cent. more than four in a room. Those living not more than two in a room constitute 67·3 per cent. of the total population in the City of Edinburgh, and 56·4 per cent. in the Burgh of Leith; those living more than two in a room, 32·7 per cent. in the City of Edinburgh, and 43·6 per cent. in the Burgh of Leith; and those living more than four in a room, 4·1 per cent. in the City of Edinburgh, and 5·3 per cent. in the Burgh of Leith.

Birth-places.—Of the population of the County, exclusive of that of the City of Edinburgh, 122,891, or 65·6 per cent., were born within the County; 51,069, or 27·3 per cent., in other Scottish Counties; 7017, or 3·7 per cent., in England; 3875, or 2·1 per cent., in Ireland; and 2496, or 1·3 per cent., elsewhere. The last included 1197 foreigners, and 724 colonials. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those born within the County are 14,487, or 13·4 per cent., more; those born in other Scottish Counties, 914, or 1·8 per cent., more; and those of English birth, 649, or 10·2 per cent., more; but those of Irish birth are 1087, or 21·9 per cent. less. Foreigners are 322, or 36·8 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of foreign birth, but naturalised British subjects, now number 113, and are 15, or 15·3 per cent., more.

In the Burgh of Leith, 55,024, or 68·4 per cent., were born in the County, and 19,640, or 24·4 per cent., in other Scottish Counties. Those of English birth number 3377, and constitute 4·2 per cent. of the total, and those of Irish birth 1203, or 1·5 per cent. Foreigners number 706, and colonials 278. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those born within the County are 6193, or 12·7 per cent., more; but those born elsewhere in Scotland, 2689, or 12·0 per cent., less. Those of English birth are 93, or 2·7 per cent., less, and those of Irish birth, 435, or 26·6 per cent., less. Foreigners are 132, or 23·0 per cent., more than in 1901.

Gaelic Speaking.—The total number of persons returned as speaking Gaelic in the County (exclusive of the City) was 1165, and of these, all, except one, were returned as speaking English as well as Gaelic, the one exception being an elderly widow who was born in Skye. Of the 1165 persons, 112 were aged between 3 and 19, and 1053 were of 20 years of age or more. The majority were born in the Counties of Argyll, Inverness, Ross and Cromarty, and Sutherland, but a considerable number, 134, were born within the County of Edinburgh. The number of Gaelic speakers described as of Irish birth, and presumably speakers of Irish, not Scottish, Gaelic, is 149 ; of these 12 were enumerated in Leith, and 137 in the rest of the County.

NOTES.

The boundaries of the City and Burgh of Edinburgh, subsequent to the 1901 Census, were extended so as to include the entire Civil Parish of Duddingston.

The boundaries of the Parish of Edinburgh were extended in 1902 to include the entire Parish of Duddingston, and parts of the Parishes of Cramond, Leith, and Liberton; and a portion of the Parish of Lasswade was transferred in 1904 to the Parish of Penicuik. In each case the 1901 Census population as given in the Report on that Census is shown in the Table, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Parish.

The boundaries of the City of Edinburgh and of the Parish of Edinburgh are now identical.

The 1901 populations of the County inclusive and exclusive of the City of Edinburgh, as given in the Report on that Census, are shown in the Table, as also, in italics, the 1901 population of the County exclusive of the area now included within the City.

TABLE II.—County of EDINBURGH.—Particulars of Parishes.

This Table shows the distribution of Parish populations into Parish Wards, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Special Districts, &c., where such divisions of Parishes exist. Undivided Parishes are not included in the Table.

* The asterisk denotes that a change of boundaries was made in the intercensal period.

† By Order of the Boundary Commissioners, the Parishes of Cramond and Fala & Soutra, parts of which were in Linlithgowshire and Haddingtonshire respectively, were placed entirely in the County of Edinburgh; and in 1898 a portion of the Parish of Stow which was in the County of Selkirk was detached from that Parish, and merged in the new Selkirkshire Parish of Caddonfoot. In each case the populations given in the Table are those of the Edinburgh portion only, with the exception of that in respect of the Parish of Stow for 1801 which includes the returns of the entire Parish.

‡ Part of Kirkliston Parish is in Linlithgowshire. The populations given are those of the Edinburgh portion only.

§ The total population of the County for 1801 given in this Table differs from that stated in the Preliminary Report on the Census of 1911, the former figure being taken from the Census Report for the year 1801, and the latter from a retrospective Table given in the Census Report for 1851, in which Table the County total for 1801 was amended by the deduction therefrom of the population of the Selkirkshire portion of Stow Parish, which amounted to 357 and was returned, as above mentioned, in Edinburgh County in 1801.

* Royal Burgh.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Burgh have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the Burgh as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Burgh. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

NOTES.

The Registration Districts of Edinburgh City and Parish were re-arranged in 1903, the Registration District of Duddingston (No. 684) being then suppressed, and the portions of the City and Parish of Edinburgh in the Districts of Cramond and South Leith respectively detached therefrom.

The buildings and grounds of Edinburgh Fever Hospital were disjoined from Colinton and annexed to Morningside Registration District in 1904; and the buildings and grounds of the Infectious Diseases Hospital for the Burgh of Leith were disjoined from the Registration District of St George and annexed to the District of North Leith in 1905.

The Registration Districts of Lasswade and Penicuik were altered in 1904, following upon an alteration of the boundaries of the Civil Parishes.

The 1901 populations of the County inclusive and exclusive of the City of Edinburgh, as given in the Report on that Census, are shown in the Table, as also, in italics, the 1901 population of the area now included within the City.

TABLE VIII.—County of EDINBURGH.—Particulars of Registration Districts.

This Table shows the distribution of Registration District populations into Parishes, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Mainland and Insular portions. Registration Districts not appearing in the Table are not so divided. The Table also shows the grouping of Registration Districts, or parts of Registration Districts, into the respective Parishes of which they form part.

TABLE XVII.—County of EDINBURGH.—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs, so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

NOTES.

The boundaries of the Burgh of Edinburgh were extended in 1901 to include the landward portion of Duddingston Parish—comprising the Duddingston and South Leith County Electoral Division.

The boundaries of the Burghs of Musselburgh and Dalkeith were altered during the intercensal period—see Table IV. ; and part of Lasswade Parish was in 1904 transferred to the Parish of Penicuik. The 1901 Census populations of the areas now included in the Burghal and Landward portions of the Parish of Dalkeith, and in the landward portion of the Parishes of Inveresk, Lasswade and Penicuik, are shown in the Table in italics.

TABLE XVIII.—County of EDINBURGH.—Public Health Districts.

Public Health Districts consist of (1) all Burghs within the County, including Police Burghs, each being a separate District, and (2) County Districts exclusive of any Police Burghs that may be situated within them.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The first Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkcudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |

| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birthplaces of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads: "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 16.

THE COUNTY OF ELGIN.

THE population of the County of Moray or Elgin is found to be 43,427, of whom 20,493 are males and 22,934 females. Compared with the figures of 1901, the male population is found to be 608, or 2·9 per cent., less, the female population 765, or 3·2 per cent., less, and the total population 1373, or 3·1 per cent., less.

Comparison of these figures with those of the earlier censuses is complicated by two factors, the one being that the county boundaries have been altered, and the other that the earlier census returns included as within the County the populations of areas which did not belong to the County, and included in the returns of other counties the population of areas which belonged to Elgin. In Table A, the figures of all censuses are collected as published and unadjusted, but in Tables B and C some have been adjusted so that all may refer to the same area, and thus be strictly comparable, and be such as to give an accurate indication of the growth of population within the County as now constituted.

The population of the County found by the first census of Scotland in 1801 (unadjusted) was 26,705, and, compared with this figure, the populations found by all subsequent censuses were greater. In 1821 the censal population exceeded 30,000, in 1841 it exceeded 35,000, and in 1861 it exceeded 40,000. The censal populations since 1851 have varied within comparatively narrow limits, the maximum being 44,800 and the minimum 42,695, the former being found in 1901 and the latter in 1861.

The intercensal changes of population (adjusted as explained above) are collected in Tables B and C, from which it may be seen that decreases of population occurred in two intercensal periods only, while increases occurred in all others. The decreases were found by the census of 1891 and by the present census, the former being small, only amounting to 335, or 0·8 per cent., while the latter is substantial and amounts to 1373, or 3·1 per cent. The largest increases were in the intercensal periods 1811 to 1821, and 1841 to 1851, and were 4088, or 15·2 per cent., and 4224, or 12·0 per cent., respectively.

TABLE B.—CENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e. on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e. above. Thus the figure, - 1373, indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, - 159, in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1871.

In calculating the differences in this Table, the populations for the years 1801 to 1861 have, as far as practicable, been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1870; and for the years 1801 to 1831, the revised statements of the County Population, published in the Census Report of 1851, have been taken. (Vide p. 858.) Further alterations on the County boundaries were made by the Boundary Commissioners in 1892, but the net alteration of population consequent thereon was so small, that no adjustment of population has been considered to be necessary.

Distribution of Population within the County.—Of the total population of the County, 21,680, or 49·9 per cent., were enumerated in burghs, and 21,747, or 50·1 per cent., outside burghs. In 1901 the burghal population numbered 21,408, and the extraburghal population 23,392, and compared with these figures the burghal population is now 272 more, but the extraburghal population 1645 less. The increase of the burghal population, however, is due to an extension of a burgh—of Forres—during the intercensal period, for if the present burghal population of the County be compared with the 1901 population of the area now included within the burghs, instead of an increase, a decrease of 78, or 0·4 per cent., is found. If the present extraburghal population be compared with the population of the corresponding portions of the County in 1901, the decrease is found to amount to 1295, or 5·6 per cent.

Burgh Populations.—There are six burghs in the County, and of them the most populous is Elgin. This burgh now has a population of 8656, in 1901 the population was 8407, and thus there has been an intercensal increase amounting to 249, or 3·0 per cent. The only other burgh in the County in which there has been an intercensal increase is Lossiemouth; in 1901 the population was 3904, it is now 4207, and the increase amounts to 303, or 7·8 per cent. The censal population of Forres in 1901 was 4313, and is now 4421, showing an apparent intercensal increase of 108, but during the period by an alteration of boundaries there was added an area, which in 1901 had a population of 350, and a comparison of the population of this census with the 1901 population of the area now included within the burgh, shows a decrease of 242, or 5·2 per cent.

Of the remaining three burghs, Burghead is the largest; it has a population of 1595, which is exactly the same as it was in 1901. Grantown-on-Spey has now a population of 1451, which is 117, or 7·5 per cent., less than in 1901; and Rothes one of 1350, which is 271, or 16·7 per cent., less than in that year.

Parish Populations.—There are nineteen parishes in the County, the most populous being Elgin, 10,375; Forres, 4932; and Drainie, the parish containing the Burgh of Lossiemouth, 4700; and the least populous, Birnie, 363; Speymouth, 595; and Dallas, 656. Of the nineteen, four have increased in population during the intercensal period, while fifteen have decreased. In one parish only, has there been an increase of 100 or more, while in five parishes there have been decreases of that amount. In Drainie, the intercensal increase amounts to 320, or 7·3 per cent. In Rothes the decrease amounts to 345, or 14·6 per cent.; in Cromdale to 342, or 10·6 per cent.; in Forres to 309, or 5·9 per cent.; in Knockando to 268, or 15·3 per cent.; and in Urquhart to 128, or 7·5 per cent.

Alterations of parish boundaries in the County have been so numerous as to prevent simple comparisons of the present parish populations with those of the earlier censuses, and we do not attempt to make them. In Table III., however, it may be seen that only two of the parishes—Drainie and Elgin—now have populations larger than those of all previous censuses, and that in both the increase of population is independent of any increase due to alteration of boundary.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—Of the total population of the County, 29,747, or 68·5 per cent., are in the constituency of Elgin and Nairn, 29,691 being in the Elgin portion of that constituency, and 56 in the Nairn portion; 8656, or 19·9 per cent., in Elgin Burghs Constituency, being the population of the Burgh of Elgin; 4083, or 9·4 per cent., in Inverness Burghs Constituency, being a portion of the population of the Burgh of Forres; and 941, or 2·2 per cent., in Banffshire Constituency, being the population of the portions of the parishes of Bellie and Rothes which were transferred from Banffshire to Elginshire. The population in Elgin Burghs Constituency has increased during the intercensal period by 249, but in the other constituencies named the populations have decreased. The population in the Elgin and Nairn Constituency has decreased by 1305, or 4·2 per cent.; in Inverness Burghs Constituency by 230, or 5·3 per cent.; and in Banffshire Constituency by 90, or 8·7 per cent.

Age and Sex Distribution.—The intercensal decrease of the female population is somewhat greater than that of the male population, and consequently the ratio of females to males is now somewhat lower than in 1901. It is 111·9 to 100, in 1901 it was 112·3 to 100.

In the male population diminished numbers are found in all age-groups of less than thirty, and increases in all age-groups of over that age, with the exception of age-group 70 to 74. The largest decreases are in age-groups 0 to 4, 393, or 14·9 per cent.; 5 to 9, 195, or 7·8 per cent.; and 15 to 19, 190, or 7·8 per cent.; and the largest increases are found in age-groups 50 to 54, 113, or 14·2 per cent.; and 55 to 59, 106, or 14·3 per cent.

In the female population the intercensal changes are not quite so uniform; there have been decreases in age-groups of under twenty-five, but the changes in age-groups of over that age are more mixed, the majority being increases, but decreases are found in age-groups 35 to 39, 40 to 44, 60 to 64, and 70 to 74. The largest decreases are found in age-groups 0 to 4, 333, or 12·8 per cent.; 15 to 19, 306, or 13·0 per cent.; and 10 to 14, 194, or 7·6 per cent. The largest increases are found in age-groups 50 to 54, 163, or 16·4 per cent.; 30 to 34, 101, or 7·0 per cent.; and 65 to 69, 99, or 15·1 per cent.

Occupations.—Of the male population of ten years of age and upwards, 12,737, or 79·9 per cent., are returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population of these ages, 5011, or 27·3 per cent., were so returned. Occupied males are 147 fewer than in 1901, but occupied females are 16 more.

Among the males returned as having remunerative occupation, there were none of under fourteen years of age; 176 were 14 years of age; 2002, more than 14 and less than 20; 1539, more than 20 and less than 25; 4868, more than 25 and less than 45; 3226, more than 45 and less than 65; and 926 of 65 and over. Compared with the corresponding figure for 1901, those of 14 are 81 less; of 15 to 19, 251 less; and of 20 to 24, 144 less; but those of 25 to 44 are 170 more; and from 45 to 64, 201 more; while those of 65 and over are 8 less.

Among the occupied females one was less than 14 years of age; 100 were aged 14; 1175, from 15 to 19; 1074, from 20 to 24; 1530, from 25 to 44; 847, from 45 to 64; and 284 were 65 or over. Compared with the figures for 1901, those of under 14 are 17 less; of 14, 34 less; and of 15 to 19, 40 less; but those of 20 to 24 are 51 more; of 25 to 44, 47 more; and of 45 to 64, 97 more; while those of 65 and over are of the same number.

The group of occupations in which the greatest number of occupied males are returned is that of agriculture, for in it there are 3506, or 27·5 per cent., of the total occupied. Of those in this group, 942 are returned as Farmers or Crofters, 314 as the Sons or Other Relatives of Farmers and Crofters and assisting on the Farms or Crofts, 1796 as Agricultural Labourers, and 454 as in other agricultural occupations, including Shepherds, Griefes, etc. Farmers and Crofters are 29 less than in 1901; their Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts, 9 less; and Labourers are 154 less; but those with other agricultural occupations are 99 more.

Males returned as Fishermen, or as Fishermen-Crofters, number 1285, and are 220 more than in 1901. Those returned as Outdoor Domestic Servants number 468, which is 178 more than in that year; and those returned as Railway Servants, 458, or 14 more than in that year; but those returned as Carters now number 293, which is 15 less than in 1901.

Males returned as belonging to one or other of the Building Occupations amount to 815, a number which is 520, or 39·0 per cent., less than in 1901. Among those there are 245 Builders, Masons, Bricklayers and their Labourers; 263 Carpenters and Joiners, and 129 Painters. Compared with the figures of 1901, Builders, etc. are 185, or 43·0 per cent., less; Carpenters and Joiners, 270, or 50·7 per cent., less; and Painters 2 less.

Among the females with remunerative occupations, there are 2091 Domestic Servants, 406 Dressmakers, 153 Farmers or Crofters, 136 Daughters or Other Relatives of Farmers or Crofters assisting on Farms or Crofts, 155 Agricultural Labourers, 223 Teachers, 180 Laundry Workers, and 160 Commercial Clerks.

The total number of females in Agricultural Occupations is 444, which is 240 less than in 1901. Those returned as Farmers or Crofters are 8 more, but those returned as the Daughters or Other Relatives of Farmers or Crofters and assisting on the Farms or Crofts are 178 less, and those as Agricultural Labourers 70 less.

Female Domestic Indoor Servants number 152 more, female Clerks 74 more, and female Teachers 2 more, than in 1901; but female Laundry Workers are 5 less, and Dressmakers 124 less than in that year.

Industries.—The industries of the County—defined as the occupations of the employers—are collected in Table XXIV. It may there be seen that there are two industries giving employment to more than a thousand males and one to more than a thousand females, the former being Agriculture and Fishing, and the latter Domestic and Institution Service.

The Industry of Agriculture gives employment to 3915 males and 475 females; that of Fishing to 1408 males and 193 females; that of the Preparation and Sale of Food to 835 males and 250 females; and that of Domestic and Institution Service to 553 males and 2332 females. The House Building and Decorating Industry includes 807 males, Railway Service, 494, and the Brewing and Distilling Industry, 272.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population, 42,201, or 97·2 per cent., were born in Scotland, 29,741, or 68·5 per cent., being born within the County, and 12,460, or 28·7 per cent., in other Scottish Counties, while 1226, or 2·8 per cent., were born outside Scotland. Those born within the County are 1160, or 3·8 per cent., less than in 1901, and those born in other Scottish Counties, 298, or 2·3 per cent., less, but those born elsewhere are 85, or 7·4 per cent., more. Those of English birth enumerated in the County number 718, which is 53, or 8·0 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of Irish birth number 165, or 23·1 per cent., more than in that year. Colonials number 188, and foreigners 46, the former being 13 and the latter 2 more than in 1901.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County was 10,569, which is 600 more than in 1901. Of those, 9793, or 92·6 per cent., were inhabited, 737, or 7·0 per cent., uninhabited, and 39, or 0·4 per cent., in course of erection. Compared with the returns of 1901, inhabited houses are 489 more, uninhabited houses are 145 more, but houses in course of erection are 34 less.

Of the inhabited houses of the County, 422, or 4·3 per cent., were one-roomed; 1685, or 17·2 per cent., two-roomed; 2425, or 24·8 per cent., three-roomed; 1743, or 17·8 per cent., four-roomed; 1134, or 11·6 per cent., five-roomed; 822, or 8·4 per cent., six-roomed; and 1562, or 15·9 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the population of the County, exclusive of houseless persons, those on board ships, and those living in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons (vide note to Table XXVII.), 835, or 2·0 per cent., were enumerated in one-roomed houses; 5898, or 13·9 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 10,516, or 24·8 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 8160, or 19·2 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 5276, or 12·4 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 3907, or 9·2 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 7879, or 18·5 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population dealt with in the preceding paragraph, 33,922, or 79·9 per cent., were living not more than two in a room; 40,338, or 95·0 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 42,018, or 98·9 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 8549, or 20·1 per cent., were living more than two in a room; 2133, or 5·0 per cent., more than three in a room; and 453, or 1·1 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the figures of 1901, those living more than two in a room are 2251 less, more than three in a room 1360 less, and more than four in a room 633 less. The numbers living in the more crowded conditions are strikingly small, and relatively much smaller than those found in the other counties already reported on, Bute excepted.

Gaelic Speaking.—Of those enumerated in the County, and who are of more than two years of age, 1214 were returned as able to speak Gaelic. Of them only 17 were of less than 20 years of age, and all except one, a woman of over 85 and who was born in the County of Ross and Cromarty, were stated to be able to speak English as well as Gaelic. Of the Gaelic speakers, 470 were born in Inverness, 280 in Ross and Cromarty, 287 in the County of Elgin itself, and 45 in Sutherland. Five of those returned as speaking Gaelic are of Irish birth.

* The insertion of an asterisk in a population column indicates a change of boundary during the intercensal period.

The Boundaries of the County were altered in 1870 by the transfer of (1) portions of the Parishes of Abernethy and Duthil from this County to the County of Inverness, and (2) a portion of the Parish of Cromdale from the County of Inverness to this County; and in 1891 by the transfer (1) of portions of the Parishes of Boharm, Inveravon, and Keith from this County to the County of Banff, (2) of portions of the Parishes of Bellie and Rothies from the County of Banff to this County, and (3) of portions of the Parishes of Dyke and Moy, and Edinkillie from the County of Nairn to this County.

† Absence of figures due to population having been returned with that of another County, in which part of the Parish was situated.

‡ The 1811 population includes that of the portion of the Parish then in Banff.

§ The 1801 population includes that of the portion of the Parish then in Banff.

|| The figures for 1801, 1811, 1821, and 1831, differ from those stated in the Preliminary Report on the Census of 1911. The figures in this Table were extracted from the Census Reports for the years to which they refer, while the figures in Table II. of the Preliminary Report were extracted from a retrospective Table given in the Census Report for 1851.

TABLE XVII.—County of ELGIN—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The County of Elgin, however, is not so divided. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The First Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkcudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |
| 5. Aberdeen (County) | 15. Edinburgh (County). | 24. Lanark. | 33. Selkirk. |
| 6. Argyll. | 16. Elgin. | 25. Linlithgow. | 34. Shetland. |
| 7. Ayr. | 17. Fife. | 26. Nairn. | 35. Stirling. |

| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birth-places of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses, while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County, and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 17.

THE COUNTY OF FIFE.

Fife is one of the Counties of Scotland which have greatly increased in population during the intercensal period. In 1901 its population was 218,840, it is now 267,739, and thus the intercensal increase amounts to 48,899, or 22·3 per cent. The only County in Scotland where a greater increase of population is found is Lanark, and the only one in which a higher rate of intercensal increase is found is Dumbarton, where the rate is 22·8, or 0·5 per cent. more than in Fife.

Of the population of Fife on Census day, 132,133 were males, and 135,606, females. The male population is 27,009, or 25·7 per cent., more than in 1901, and the female population, 21,890, or 19·2 per cent., more than in that year.

In 1801, the date of the first Census of Scotland, the population of this County amounted to 93,743, and by all subsequent Censuses it is found to have increased. In 1811 the population exceeded 100,000; in 1851 it exceeded 150,000; in 1891 it exceeded 180,000; in 1901 it exceeded 200,000; and now it is upwards of 250,000. The largest intercensal increases are those found by this Census, 48,899; in 1901, 31,494; and in 1891, 15,415; and the smallest increases are those found in 1861, 1224; in 1871, 5965; and in 1811, 7529. The highest rates of intercensal increases are those found by this Census, 22·34, and by those of 1901 and 1821, which were 16·8 and 13·1, respectively; and the lowest rates are those found by the Censuses of 1861, 0·8; of 1871, 3·9; and of 1881, 7·0.

TABLE B.—CENSAL INCREASES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e., on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e., above. Thus the figure, 48,315, in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, 26,611, in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1871.

In calculating differences referring to the years 1901 and 1911, the Census populations for these years have been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1892 by Order of the Boundary Commissioners.

Tables B and C have been prepared to show comparisons between the populations of the County at the dates of all Censuses. In these tables the figures of 1901 and 1911 have been adjusted so as to be strictly comparable with those of the earlier Censuses. In 1892 there were some alterations on the County boundary by Order of the Boundary Commission, but in order to arrive at an accurate basis for comparison the gain of population due to these alterations has been deducted from the total gains as found by these Censuses, and we reach a result founded on the actual growth of population within the County as constituted previously to 1892. Since 1881 the County has gained in population 92,525, or 53.8 per cent.; since 1831, 135,617, or 105.3 per cent.; and since 1801, 170,713, or 182.1 per cent.

Distribution of Population within the County.—Of the total population of the County, 163,407, or 61.0 per cent., were enumerated within burghs, and 104,332, or 39.0 per cent., in the extraburghal portions. In 1901, 136,087, or 62.2 per cent., were enumerated within the burghs of the County, and 82,753, or 37.8 per cent., in the extraburghal portions. The burghal population has increased by 27,320, or 20.1 per cent., and the extraburghal by 21,579, or 26.1 per cent.

Extraburghal Population.—There are four Extraburghal Public Health Districts in Fife, each of which shows a substantial intercensal increase. Of these, Kirkcaldy (extraburghal) Public Health District is the most populous, and has the largest increase. In 1901 its population was 28,322; it is now 42,027, the increase being 13,705, or 48·4 per cent. The population of Dunfermline (extraburghal) Public Health District is now 31,403, and is 6715, or 27·2 per cent., more than in 1901; that of Cupar District is 15,523, and is 519, or 3·5 per cent., more than in 1901; and that of St Andrews District is 15,379, and is 640, or 4·3 per cent., more than in that year.

Of the total intercensal increase of the County, 55·9 per cent. is within the burghs, 28·0 per cent. in the Kirkcaldy Public Health District, 13·7 per cent. in the Dunfermline Public Health District, 1·3 per cent. in the St. Andrews Public Health District, and 1·1 per cent. in the Cupar Public Health District.

Populations of the Burghs.—There are 28 burghs in Fife, this is more than in any other Scottish County. Their populations range from 39,601 in Kirkcaldy, 28,103 in Dunfermline, 15,149 in the combined Burgh of Buckhaven, Methil, and Innerleven, and 14,029 in Cowdenbeath, to 322 in Earlsferry, 456 in Culross, 552 in Anstruther-Wester, 692 in Elie, Liberty, and Williamsburgh, and 830 in Falkland. Of the 28 burghs, 20 have increased in population during the intercensal period, and 8 have decreased. The largest increases are found in Buckhaven, Methil, and Innerleven, 6528; in Cowdenbeath, 5700; in Kirkcaldy, 5522; and in Lochgelly, 3677; and the largest decreases in Newport, 213; in Burntisland, 138; and in Cupar, 131. The highest rates of intercensal increase are in Buckhaven, Methil, and Innerleven, 75·7 per cent.; in Cowdenbeath, 68·4 per cent.; in Inverkeithing, 67·5 per cent.; and in Lochgelly, 67·2 per cent.; and the highest rates of decrease are in Newport, 5·5 per cent.; in Ladybank and Monkston, 5·5 per cent.; and in Anstruther-Easter, 3·6 per cent. Outside Fife there are in Scotland only two Burghs, Clydebank and Queensferry, where the intercensal increases have amounted to more than 60 per cent.

The increase of population within recent years in at least two of the Fife Burghs has been striking. In 1861 the population of Cowdenbeath was 1148, and compared with that the 1881 population is fully twice as large, the 1891 population nearly four times as large, the 1901 population nearly seven times as large, and the present population, 14,029, is fully twelve times as large. In 1861 the combined Burgh of Buckhaven, Methil, and Innerleven was 2824, and in 1891, 6247; it is now 15,149, which is more than five times as large as in 1861, and nearly two and a half times as large as in 1891.

Parish Populations.—There are 60 parishes in the County ranging in population from 45,410 in Kirkcaldy and Dysart, 35,731 in Dunfermline, 24,351 in Beath, 23,104 in Wemyss, and 17,547 in Auchterderran, to 146 in Moonzie, 232 in Flisk, 283 in Newburn, and 292 in Dunino. Of these 40 gained in population during the intercensal period, 19 lost population, and 1 neither gained nor lost. The largest gains of population were in Auchterderran, Beath, Wemyss, Kirkcaldy and Dysart, and Ballingry, and the greatest loss was in the Parish of Burntisland. In Auchterderran the population during the intercensal period increased from 8626 to 17,547, an increase amounting to 8921, or 103·4 per cent.; that of Beath from 15,812 to 24,351, an increase of 8539, or 54·0 per cent.; that of Wemyss from 15,031 to 23,104, an increase of 8073, or 53·7 per cent.; that of Kirkcaldy and Dysart from 39,039 to 45,410, an increase of 6371, or 16·3 per cent.; and that of Ballingry from 4156 to 9214, an increase of 5058, or 121·7 per cent. The only intercensal loss of population of more than 100 was in Burntisland, where it amounted to 294, or 5·3 per cent. In the foregoing comparisons, the 1901 figures represent the populations of the areas included in the respective parishes in 1911, and thus the comparisons show the growth of population independent of any addition produced by alterations of parish boundaries.

In this Report we have included the population of the Island of May in that of the Parish of Anstruther-Wester. We think it well to draw attention to this fact, as in previous Census reports this population has been variously treated for civil and other purposes. In the reports of the Censuses of 1801 to 1861 the island was held to be in Anstruther-Wester, but since that date it has not been regarded as attached to any civil parish. Our reasons for reverting to the former practice of including it in the returns of Anstruther-Wester are based on the following considerations:—(1) The Ordnance Survey Map marks it as in Anstruther-Wester, (2) The island appears in the valuation roll of Anstruther-Wester, (3) Parish rates were at one time paid to that parish in respect of a signal station which some years ago existed on the island, and (4) It appears from Session Records that the Kirk Session of Anstruther in the past exercised disciplinary powers on the island. Having included this population in the civil parish of Anstruther-Wester, we have thought it right to do so also in the cases of the ecclesiastical parish and the school board district of the same name. We have included it in the registration district of Crail, however, and not in that of Anstruther-Wester, because since the passing of the Registration (Scotland) Act of 1854, all registrations relative to the island appear to have been made in Crail, and this is in accordance with the present practice, no doubt arising from the fact that Crail Harbour is a more convenient landing-place for the islanders than Anstruther.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—The electors of the County vote in six different constituencies. Of the total population, 112,994, or 42·20 per cent., are in West Fife Constituency, 53,594, or 20·02 per cent., in East Fife Constituency; 50,055, or 18·70 per cent., in the Kirkcaldy Burghs Constituency; 28,587, or 10·68 per cent., in Stirling Burghs Constituency; 19,336, or 7·22 per cent., in St Andrews Burghs Constituency; and 3173, or 1·18 per cent. in Clackmannan and Kinross Constituency. Divided thus, the portion of the population which is found to have most increased during the intercensal period is that in West Fife Constituency, where the increase amounts to 35,715, or 46·2 per cent., and that which has least increased is St Andrews Burghs Constituency, where the increase is only 20, or 0·1 per cent. In Kirkcaldy Burghs Constituency the intercensal increase is 6018, or 13·7 per cent.; in Stirling Burghs Constituency, 4248, or 17·5 per cent.; in East Fife Constituency, 2395, or 4·7 per cent.; and in Clackmannan and Kinross Constituency, 503, or 18·9 per cent. In 1901 the population of West Fife Constituency exceeded that of East Fife Constituency by 26,080, or 50·9 per cent., it now exceeds it by 59,400, or 110·8 per cent.

Age and Sex Distribution.—The increase of male population in the County has been greater than that of the female, and consequently the ratio of females to males has been reduced. In 1901 this ratio was 108·2 females to each 100 males, it is now 102·6 to 100.

A comparison of the numbers of males in quinquennial age-groups with the figures of 1901, shows increases in all groups, and large increases in these groups which include the working ages. In age-group 20 to 24, the male population shows an increase of 2234, or 23·5 per cent.; in age-group 25 to 29, of 2835, or 35·0 per cent.; in age-group 30 to 34, of 2814, or 39·5 per cent.; in age-group 35 to 39, of 2905, or 47·9 per cent.; in age-group 40 to 44, of 1988, or 35·6 per cent.; in age-group 45 to 49, of 1564, or 32·7 per cent.; in age-group 50 to 54, of 1401, or 34·9 per cent.; and in age-group 55 to 59, of 1165, or 36·0 per cent. Putting aside the small and doubtful age-group of 95 to 99, there are seven male age-groups in which the intercensal increase amounts to more than 30 per cent.

In the female age-groups including the working ages, the increases are also large, but not so large as in the male age-groups. The age-group with the maximum increase, and the only one in which the increase exceeds 30 per cent., is that of 35 to 39, the increase amounting to 2136, or 30·3 per cent. Increases of over 20 per cent. are found in age-group 30 to 34, 1845, or 23·1 per cent.; in age-group 40 to 44, 1492, or 23·8 per cent.; in age-group 45 to 49, 1386, or 25·6 per cent.; and in age-group 50 to 54, 1209, or 26·2 per cent.

The increase of males in the working ages being greater than that of females has resulted in a lowering of the ratio of females to each 100 males in the age-groups between 20 and 60. In age-group 20 to 24, it has fallen from 109·1 to 97·8; in age-group 25 to 29, from 116·8 to 102·0; in age-group 30 to 34, from 112·3 to 99·0; in age-group 35 to 39, from 116·2 to 102·4; in age-group 40 to 44, from 112·5 to 102·6; in age-group 45 to 49, from 113·5 to 107·3; and in age-group 50 to 54, from 115·2 to 107·7.

The increases in the numbers of both sexes in the working ages have been accompanied by an increase in the number of children enumerated. In age-group 0 to 4, male children show an increase of 2724, or 21·0 per cent., and female children of 2617, or 20·4 per cent., and in age-group 5 to 9, male children show an increase of 2298, or 18·3 per cent., and female children of 2553, or 20·8 per cent.

The age and sex distribution of the population of the two large burghs of the County—Kirkcaldy and Dunfermline—has been separately tabulated. In Kirkcaldy, it is found that the ratio of females to males has been little altered during the intercensal period, in 1901 it was 110·7 to 100, it is now 110·4 to 100, but in Dunfermline it is found that the increase of males has exceeded that of females, with the result that the ratio has decreased from 118·9 to 100 in 1901, to 114·3 to 100 in 1911. In Kirkcaldy, increases of both sexes are found in all age-groups, the male age-group of 20 to 24 excepted; in Dunfermline increases are found in all male age-groups, those of 5 to 9, and 85 to 89 excepted, and in all female age-groups, those of 0 to 4, and 10 to 14 excepted.

Occupations.—Of the male population of ten years of age and upwards, 84,443, or 83·2 per cent., are returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population of those ages, 28,999, or 27·5 per cent., are so returned. In 1901, occupied males numbered 66,167, and constituted 83·2 per cent. of the total of 10 years of age and upwards, and occupied females 28,788, or 32·5 per cent. of the total. Occupied males now number 18,276 more than in 1901, and occupied females 211 more.

Of the occupied males, 1694, or 2·01 per cent., are less than 15 years of age, 66 of them being less than 14; 12,500, or 14·80 per cent., are more than 15 and less than 20; 11,529, or 13.65 per cent., more than 20 and less than 25; 36,965, or 43.78 per cent., more than 25 and less than 45; 18,566, or 21.99 per cent., more than 45 and less than 65; 1,949, or 2.31 per cent., more than 65 and less than 70; and 1237, or 1.46 per cent., more than 70. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, occupied males of less than 14 are 629 fewer; and those of more than 14 and less than 15, 164 fewer; but those of more than 15 and less than 20 are 1782 more; of more than 20 and less than 25, 2163 more; of more than 25 and less than 45, 10,444 more; of more than 45 and less than 65, 4587 more, and of more than 65, 90 more.

Of the occupied females 1085, or 3.74 per cent., are less than 15 years of age, 39 of them being less than 14; 8949, or 30.86 per cent., more than 15 and less than 20; 6442, or 22.22 per cent., more than 20 and less than 25; 8613, or 29.71 per cent., more than 25 and less than 45; 3237, or 11.16 per cent., more than 45 and less than 65; 398, or 1.37 per cent., more than 65 and less than 70; and 273, or 0.94 per cent., more than 70. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, occupied females of less than 14 are 432 fewer; of more than 14 and less than 15, 244 fewer, and of 65 and over, 167 fewer; but those of more than 15 and less than 20 are 296 more; of more than 20 and less than 25, 180 more; and those of more than 25 and less than 45, 476 more; while those of more than 45 and less than 65 are of the same number as in that year.

The group of occupations to which the largest number of males are returned is that connected with Mining, for it includes, 26,634, or 31.5 per cent., of the total occupied, a number which is 11,049, or 70.9 per cent., more than in 1901. Among those included in this group there are 15,770 Hewers, 8570 Other Workers Below Ground, and 1809 Workers Above Ground; Hewers are 3642 more than in 1901, Other Workers Below Ground, 6260 more, and Workers Above Ground, 1042 more.

Of those with Mining Occupations, 1956 were enumerated in the Burgh of Dunfermline, 1594 in the Burgh of Kirkcaldy, and 23,084 in the rest of the County.

Males following Agricultural Occupations number 6858, and are 90 more than in 1901. Of these 1136 are returned as Farmers or Crofters, which is 43 more than in 1901; 295 as being the Sons or Other Male Relatives of Farmers or Crofters and assisting on the Farms or Crofts, which is 141 less than in 1901; and 3869 as Agricultural Labourers, which is 36 more than in 1901.

Males returned as following one or other of the Building Trades numbered 5352, and are 319 fewer than in 1901. Of them 1613 are returned as being Builders, or Masons, or Bricklayers, or as their Labourers, 1857 as being Carpenters or Joiners or their Labourers, and 682 as being Painters or Paperhangers. Masons, Builders, Bricklayers, and their Labourers are 354, or 18.0 per cent., fewer than in 1901; and Joiners, Carpenters, and their Labourers, 193, or 9.5 per cent., fewer; but Painters and Paperhangers are 100, or 17.2 per cent., more. Of these returned as belonging to the Building Trades, 864 were enumerated in Dunfermline, 913 in Kirkcaldy, and 3575 in the rest of the County.

Males occupied in Floorcloth Making number 2416, which is 463 more than in 1901, those engaged in Flax and Linen Manufacture, 2235 which is 324 more than in 1901; and those engaged in Paper Making, 772, which is 105 more than in 1901. Of those engaged in Floorcloth Manufacture, 2201 were enumerated in Kirkcaldy, and 215 in the rest of the County. Of those engaged in Flax and Linen Manufacture, 997 were enumerated in Dunfermline, 530 in Kirkcaldy, and 708 in the rest of the County. Of the Papermakers, 1 was enumerated in Kirkcaldy, none in Dunfermline, and 771 in the rest of the County.

Males returned as Carters numbered 1887, or 326 more than in 1901; as Fishermen, 1655, or 76 more than in 1901; as Commercial Clerks, 1225, or 162 more than in 1901; and as Seamen, all grades, 1097, or 286 more than in that year.

Of the occupied females, 8112, or 28.0 per cent., are returned as in the Flax and Linen Manufacture, a number which is 47 less than in 1901. Of these 2520 were enumerated in Dunfermline, 2290 in Kirkcaldy, and 3302 in the rest of the County.

Female Domestic Servants number 5781, and are 509 fewer than in 1901. Female Teachers number 1053, and are 192 more than in 1901, and female Commercial Clerks, 896, which is 521 more than in that year.

In the Agricultural Occupations there are 1441 women, 78 being returned as Farmers or Crofters, 136 as Daughters or Other Female Relatives of Farmers or Crofters, and assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 1203 as Agricultural Labourers. Female Farmers and Crofters are 4 less than in 1901, Daughters or Other Female Relatives of Farmers and Crofters, and assisting on the Farms or Crofts, 110 less, and female Agricultural Labourers are 403 less than in that year.

Women in Mining Occupations number 919 ; they are all Workers Above Ground, and are 402 more than in 1901.

Industries.—In Fife, by far the largest industry, defined as the occupation of the employer, is the Coal Industry. In it 28,577 out of the 84,443 occupied males are employed. Of these 2054 were enumerated in Dunfermline, 1756 in Kirkcaldy, and 24,767 in the rest of the County. Next to the Coal Industry, Agriculture gives most employment, 6873 of the occupied males being returned as employed in it.

Other industries giving employment to large numbers of males in the County are Housebuilding and Decorating, 4703 ; Preparation and Sale of Provisions, 4582 ; Railway Service, 3172 ; Linen Industry, 2820 ; Iron Manufacture, 2771 ; and Railway, Road, Canal, and Harbour Construction, 2119.

In the Burgh of Dunfermline the largest male industries are Coal Industry, 2054 ; Linen Industry, 1270 ; and Housebuilding and Decorating, 818.

In the Burgh of Kirkcaldy the largest male industries are "Other Defined Industries" (in great part floorcloth manufacture) 2564 ; Coal Industry, 1756 ; Iron Industry, 947 ; Preparation and Sale of Provisions, 905 ; Housebuilding and Decorating, 854 ; and Linen Industry, 620.

The principal female industries of the County are the Linen Industry, 8267 ; Domestic Service, 6526 ; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 1960 ; Agriculture, 1442 ; Preparation and Sale of Food, 1389 ; and Local Government Service, 1096.

In Dunfermline, the largest female industries are Linen Industry, 2569 ; Domestic Service, 522 ; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 227 ; and Preparation and Sale of Food, 170.

In Kirkcaldy, the largest female industries are Linen Industry, 2319 ; Domestic Service, 828 ; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 304 ; Preparation and Sale of Food, 288 ; and Hemp, Jute, Rope and Mat Industry, 252.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population of the County, 180,721, or 67·5 per cent., were born within the County, 71,586, or 26·8 per cent., in other Scottish Counties ; 8358, or 3·1 per cent., in England ; 4264, or 1·6 per cent., in Ireland ; and 2810, or 1·0 per cent., elsewhere ; the last number including 1118 foreigners. Compared with the returns of 1901, those born within the County are found to have increased by 19,824, or 12·3 per cent. ; those born in other Scottish Counties, by 22,616, or 46·2 per cent. ; those born in England by 3476, or 71·2 per cent. ; in Ireland by 2202, or 106·8 per cent. ; and those born elsewhere by 781, or 38·5 per cent. Foreigners enumerated in the County number 521, or 87·3 per cent., more than in 1901.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County is 63,564. Of these, 58,781, or 92·5 per cent. were inhabited; 4305, or 6·8 per cent. uninhabited; and 478, or 0·7 per cent. in course of erection. In 1901 the total number of houses enumerated was 52,694, inhabited houses numbering 48,241, being 91·6 per cent., of the total; uninhabited 3868, or 7·3 per cent. of the total; and houses in course of erection 585, or 1·1 per cent. of the total. The total houses in the County show an intercensal increase of 10,870, or 20·6 per cent.; the inhabited houses an increase of 10,540, or 21·8 per cent.; and the uninhabited houses an increase of 437, or 11·3 per cent.; but the houses in course of erection show a decrease of 107, or 18·3 per cent.

Of the inhabited houses of the County, 4574, or 7·8 per cent., are one-roomed; 26,114, or 44·4 per cent., two-roomed; 14,140, or 24·0 per cent., three-roomed; 5229, or 8·9 per cent., four-roomed; 2523, or 4·3 per cent., five-roomed; 1866, or 3·2 per cent., six-roomed; and 4335, or 7·4 per cent., of more than six rooms. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, one-roomed houses are 1371 less; but two-roomed houses are 4510 more, three-roomed, 3641 more; four-roomed, 1077 more; five-roomed, 425 more; six-roomed, 358 more; and houses of more than six rooms, 260 more.

Of the total population, other than houseless persons and those living in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons (Vide note to Table XXVIIA), 11,955, or 4·6 per cent. were enumerated in houses of one room; 114,188, or 43·9 per cent., in houses of two rooms; 70,515, or 27·1 per cent., in houses of three rooms; 24,043, or 9·3 per cent., in houses of four rooms; 11,136, or 4·3 per cent., in houses of five rooms; 7937, or 3·1 per cent., in houses of six rooms; and 20,013, or 7·7 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population referred to in the preceding paragraph, 144,565, or 55·6 per cent., are living not more than two in a room; 115,222, or 44·4 per cent., more than two in a room; 208,765, or 80·4 per cent., not more than three in a room; 51,022, or 19·6 per cent., more than three in a room; 243,100, or 93·5 per cent., not more than four in a room; and 16,867, or 6·5 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures for 1901, those living not more than two in a room are 19,607, or 15·7 per cent. more; those living more than two in a room, 21,340, or 22·7 per cent., more; those living more than three in a room, 7537, or 17·3 per cent., more; and those living more than four in a room, 1483, or 9·7 per cent., more. During the intercensal period the proportion living not more than two in a room has fallen from 57·1 per cent. to 55·6 per cent.; the proportion living more than three in a room from 19·9 to 19·6; and that living more than four in a room, from 7·0 to 6·5; but the proportion living more than two in a room has increased from 42·9 to 44·4 per cent.

In the two large burghs of the County, the numbers living in the more crowded conditions are relatively less than in the County as a whole. In Dunfermline 60·8 per cent. of the population are living less than two in a room; 39·2 per cent. more than two in a room; 14·8 per cent. more than three in a room; and 4·2 per cent. more than four in a room. In Kirkcaldy 59·4 per cent. are living not more than two in a room; 40·6 per cent. more than two in a room; 13·5 per cent. more than three in a room; and 3·1 per cent. more than four in a room.

Gaelic Speaking.—Of those enumerated in the County, 1360 were stated to have a knowledge of Gaelic, and of these all but one was able to speak English as well as Gaelic, the exception being a widow aged 89, who was born in Perthshire. Of the Gaelic speakers, only 86 were of less than twenty years of age, while the great majority, 1274, were of more than that age. Of these, 300 were born in Inverness, 199 in Argyll, 192 in Ross and Cromarty, 176 in Perth, 62 in Fife, and 234 in other Scottish Counties. Gaelic speakers of Irish birth numbered 173, and presumably were speakers of Irish, not Scottish Gaelic.

NOTE.

The Parishes of Kirkcaldy, Dysart, and Abbotshall, together with that part of the Parish of Kinghorn which was within the police boundary of the Burgh of Kirkcaldy were united on 3rd December 1901, to form one parish, to be called the Parish of Kirkcaldy and Dysart.

TABLE II.—County of FIFE.—Particulars of Parishes.

This Table shows the distribution of Parish populations into Parish Wards, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Special Districts, &c., where such divisions of Parishes exist. Undivided Parishes are not included in the Table.

* Royal Burghs.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Burgh have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the Burgh as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Burgh. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Registration District have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the District as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Registration District as altered, or in the Districts into which it may have been subdivided. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

TABLE VIII.— County of FIFE.—Particulars of Registration Districts.

This Table shows the distribution of Registration District populations into Parishes, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Mainland and Insular portions. Registration Districts not appearing in the Table are not so divided. The Table also shows the grouping of Registration Districts, or parts of Registration Districts, into the respective Parishes of which they form part.

TABLE XVII.—County of FIFE.—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

1912.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The first Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |

| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads: "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 18.

THE COUNTY OF FORFAR.

A REPORT on the Census of the City of Dundee was published in Part 3, and this Part deals more especially with the census of the remainder of the County of Forfar. It is, however, for various reasons, found convenient to include the City population in several of the tables, and in several statements made in the text, but wherever that is done, to avoid confusion, the fact is specially noted.

The population of the entire County of Forfar, including that of the City of Dundee, on Census Day is found to have amounted to 281,417, and to be 2665, or 0·9 per cent., less than in 1901. The City portion of the County population is found to be 165,004, and to have increased by 2022, or 1·2 per cent. The population of the rest of the County, i.e. the portion of the County outwith the City of Dundee, is found to be 116,413, and to have decreased by 4687, or 3·9 per cent.

The male population of the entire County is found to be 126,638; of the City portion of the County, 73,241; and of the rest of the County, 53,397. That of the entire County is 1057, or 0·8 per cent., less than in 1901; and that of the portion of the County outwith the City, 2314, or 4·2 per cent., less; but that of the City portion is 1257, or 1·7 per cent., more than in that year.

The female population of the entire County is found to be 154,779, and to have decreased by 1608, or 1·0 per cent., since 1901. In the City of Dundee the number of the female population is found to be 91,763, and in the County outwith that City, 63,016; the former is 765, or 0·8 per cent., more than in 1901, but the latter is 2373, or 3·6 per cent., less than in that year.

TABLE B.—CENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e. on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e. above. Thus the figure - 2673 in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure 40,221, in the fourth row of the fifth column, indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1871.

In calculating differences referring to the years 1801, 1811, 1821, and 1841, the revised populations of the County, as published in the Census Report of 1851, have been used; and in calculating differences referring to the years 1901 and 1911, the Census populations for these years have been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1892 by Order of the Boundary Commissioners.

Thus the decennial loss of population now found in the County is due to a loss outwith, and not within, the City of Dundee, and is common to both sexes.

In 1901 the ratio of females to males in the entire County was 122·5 to 100; it is now found to be 122·2, the difference, a decrease, being due to the loss of female population having been greater than that of the male population.

This is the first census by which the population of this County, inclusive of that of the City of Dundee, has been found to be a diminishing quantity. In 1801 the population, Dundee included, amounted to 99,127, and by each succeeding census it was found to have increased till a maximum of 284,082 was reached in 1901. The population was found to exceed 100,000 for the first time in 1811, 150,000 for the first time in 1841, 200,000 for the first time in 1861, and 250,000 for the first time in 1881. The largest increases were those found in 1831, 1841, 1871, and 1881, all of which exceeded 25,000; and the highest rates of intercensal increase were those found in 1831 and 1841, both of which exceeded 22 per cent., and in 1871 when the increase amounted to 16·2 per cent. In 1881 the ascertained rate of increase was 12·1 per cent., but, compared with that figure, the rates of increase found in 1891 and 1901 were much smaller—that found in 1891 being only 4·3 per cent., and that in 1901, only 2·3 per cent. Since 1881 the population has increased by only 5·7 per cent., and since 1891 by only 1·3 per cent.

In all the foregoing comparisons, in order to secure strictly comparable figures, and to avoid the complications due to alteration of city boundaries, the division of the 1901 population as between the portion within Dundee and the portion outwith has been made according to the city boundaries as they now exist.

Distribution of Population within County.—Of the population of the County, 165,004, or 58·6 per cent., are within the City of Dundee; 74,199, or 26·4 per cent., are within the burghs of the County other than Dundee; and 42,214, or 15·0 per cent., are in the extraburghal portions of the County. The Dundee portion, as above stated, is found to have increased during the intercensal period by 2022, or 1·2 per cent., but the population of the other burghs of the County has decreased by 2882, or 3·7 per cent., and of the extraburghal portion by 1805, or 4·1 per cent.

Extraburghal Population.—There are four Extraburghal Public Health Districts within the County of Forfar, and each of them is found to have lost population since 1901. Brechin (extraburghal) District is the largest; its population is now 12,821, which is 535, or 4·0 per cent., less than in that year. The population of Forfar (extraburghal) District is now 11,152, and is 670, or 5·7 per cent., less than in 1901. That of Dundee (extraburghal) District is 9807, and is 105, or 1·1 per cent., less than in 1901; and that of Arbroath (extraburghal) District is now 8434, and is 495, or 5·5 per cent., less than in that year.

Burgh Populations.—Exclusive of Dundee, there are eight burghs in the County, and of these five are found to have lost population during the intercensal period, while three have gained. The latter are all in close proximity to Dundee.

The three burghs which have gained population are Broughty-Ferry, Carnoustie, and Monifieth. Of these, Broughty-Ferry is the largest. It now has a population of 11,058, which is 574, or 5·5 per cent., more than in 1901. The population of Carnoustie is now 5358, and is 154, or 3·0 per cent., more than in 1901, and that of Monifieth is now 3098, which is 964, or 45·2 per cent., more than in that year.

The five burghs in the County which have lost population during the intercensal period are Arbroath, Brechin, Forfar, Kirriemuir, and Montrose. Of these the largest is Arbroath; its population is now 20,647, and is 1751, or 7·8 per cent., less than in 1901, and 2174, or 9·5 per cent., less than in 1891. Montrose is the next largest; its population is now 10,974, which is 1453, or 11·7 per cent., less than in 1901, and less than found by all censuses since 1841; the maximum population of Montrose was that found in 1851, which was 15,238, but since that date, the intercensal period 1871 to 1881 excepted, this burgh has steadily lost population: in 1861, 1871, and 1881 it was between 14,000 and 15,000; in 1891 it was less than 14,000; in 1901 it was less than 13,000; and is now less than 11,000, and the present population is 28·0 per cent. less than in 1851. The population of Forfar is now 10,849, and is 548, or 4·8 per cent., less than in 1901; the population of this burgh has also been steadily decreasing; in 1881 it amounted to 12,817, but by each of the three censuses since that date it has been found to be diminishing. The 1891 census found it to be 12,057, the 1901 census to be 11,397, and, as above stated, this census finds it to be 10,849; the loss of population by this burgh since 1881 amounts to 1968, or 15·4 per cent. The population of Brechin is now 8439, and is 502, or 5·6 per cent., less than in 1901; like Forfar, it has been steadily losing population since 1881; its population then was 9031, and the loss amounts to 592, or 6·6 per cent. The population of Kirriemuir is now 3776, which is 320, or 7·8 per cent., less than in 1901, 403, or 9·6 per cent., less than in 1891, and 614, or 14·0 per cent., less than in 1881, the year in which it attained a maximum.

Parish Population.—There are 53 parishes in the County with populations varying from 160,364 in Dundee Combination, 22,730 in Arbroath and St Vigeans, and 13,145 in Monifieth, to 172 in Ruthven, 205 in Lethnot and Navar, and 213 in Careston. Of the parishes 17 gained population in the intercensal period, and 36 lost it. The largest gains were in Monifieth, 1473, or 12·6 per cent.; Mains and Strathmartine, 1251, or 22·8 per cent.; and Dundee Combination, 877, or 0·5 per cent.; and the largest losses were in Arbroath and St Vigeans, 1947, or 7·9 per cent.; Montrose, 1358, or 9·7 per cent.; Brechin, 608, or 5·8 per cent.; Forfar, 625, or 4·9 per cent.; Kirriemuir, 511, or 1·9 per cent.; and Carmyllie, 216, or 20·3 per cent.

Comparisons between the present populations of the parishes of the County and the figures at the dates of the earlier censuses are complicated in many instances by alterations of parish boundaries, but there are 26 parishes in which there were no such changes, and where the comparisons are simple. Of these 26 parishes, 22 have now a smaller population than in 1801, the date of the first census; and of these several have lost population to a relatively large amount. The population of Glenisla is now 649, or 53·7 per cent., less than in 1811; that of Lethnot and Navar is now 333, or 61·9 per cent., less than in 1821; and that of Ruthven is now 331, or 65·8 per cent., less than in 1851.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—The electors of the County, City of Dundee included, vote in four parliamentary constituencies, the Burgh of Dundee, the Montrose Burghs, the County of Forfar, and East Perthshire. The population in the Burgh of Dundee Constituency numbers 160,146, amounts to 56·9 per cent. of the total of the County, and consists of the greater part of the population of that city. The population of the Constituency of the County of Forfar numbers 70,100, or 24·9 per cent., of the total, and of it 65,242 were enumerated outwith the City of Dundee, and 4858 within that City. The population of Montrose Burghs Constituency is 50,913, and amounts to 18·1 per cent. of the total of the County; of it 20,651 were enumerated in Arbroath, 10,974 in Montrose, 10,849 in the Burgh of Forfar, and 8439 in Brechin. The portion of the County in East Perthshire Constituency is small; it has a population of only 258, and consists of portions of the parishes of Fowlis-Easter and of Liff, Benvie, and Invergowrie (now part of Liff and Benvie Parish), which were transferred from Perth to this County by Order of the Boundary Commission, which order did not extend to parliamentary purposes. The population of the Constituency of Dundee during the intercensal period increased by 768, or 0·5 per cent., and that of the portion of the Constituency of the County of Forfar which is within the City of Dundee by 1254, or 34·8 per cent., but the population of the remaining portion of that constituency has decreased by 436, or 0·7 per cent., and that of the Montrose Burghs Constituency by 4250, or 7·7 per cent. The population of the small portion of the County in East Perthshire Constituency is almost unchanged; in 1901 it was 259.

Age and Sex Distribution of Population.—The male population of the County, exclusive of that of the City of Dundee, is found to number 53,397, and to be 3250, or 5·7 per cent., less than in 1901, and the female population is found to number 63,016, and to be 3246, or 4·9 per cent., less than in 1901. The loss of male population being relatively greater than that of female population, the ratio of females to males is found to have increased; in 1901 it was 117·0 to 100, it is now 118·0 to 100. The age distribution of the male and female population is summarised in Table XXc, and by comparing the 1911 figures there given with those of 1901, it is found that the loss of population in both sexes is almost entirely in the younger ages, there being increases in the majority of the older age periods. The male population of less than 35 years of age now numbers 34,331, and is 4206, or 10·9 per cent., less than in 1901, and the female population of those ages now numbers 37,215, and is 4017, or 9·7 per cent., less, while the male population of over 35 now numbers 19,066, and is 956, or 5·3 per cent., more, and the female population of over that age is 771, or 3·1 per cent., more than in that year.

The age-groups of males showing the greatest decreases are those of 0 to 4, and 5 to 9; in the former the loss is 1201, or 17·4 per cent., and in the latter 749, or 11·2 per cent. The age-groups of females showing the greatest decreases are those under 10, and 20 to 24. In female age-group 0 to 4 the loss amounts to 1002, or 15·3 per cent.; in age-group 5 to 9 to 778, or 11·9 per cent.; and in age-group 20 to 24 to 833, or 13·9 per cent.

Occupations.—Of the male population of ten years of age and upwards, exclusive of the City population, 33,261, or 79·7 per cent., are returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population of those ages 17,908, or 34·6 per cent., are so returned. In 1901, occupied males numbered 35,010, and constituted 81·3 of the total male population of those ages; and occupied women numbered 19,392, and constituted 36·5 per cent. Thus, occupied males in this portion of the County now number 1749, or 5·0 per cent., less than in 1901; and occupied females 1484, or 7·7 per cent., less.

Of the occupied males 766, or 2·3 per cent., are less than 15 years of age, 68 of them being less than 14; 5379, or 16·2 per cent., are more than 15 but less than 20; 3887, or 11·7 per cent., are more than 20 but less than 25; 12,491, or 37·5 per cent., are more than 25 but less than 45; 8556, or 25·7 per cent., are more than 45 but less than 65; 1144, or 3·4 per cent., are more than 65 but less than 70; and 1036, or 3·1 per cent., are more than 70. Of the occupied females 616, or 3·4 per cent., are less than 15, 64 of them being less than 14; 4295, or 24·0 per cent., are more than 15 but less than 20; 3580, or 19·9 per cent., are more than 20 but less than 25; 5900, or 32·9 per cent., are more than 25 but less than 45; 2837, or 15·8 per cent., are more than 45 but less than 65; 413, or 2·3 per cent., are more than 65 but less than 70; and 267, or 1·5 per cent., are more than 70. Compared with the corresponding figure of 1901, occupied males of less than 15 years of age are 575 less; of more than 15 but less than 20, 832 less; of more than 20 but less than 25, 441 less; and of more than 25 but less than 45, 380 less; but those of more than 45 but less than 65 are 509 more, while those of more than 65 are 32 less. Occupied females of less than 15 are 319 less than in 1901; those of more than 15 but less than 20, 495 less; of more than 20 but less than 25, 475 less; of more than 25 but less than 45, 102 less; of more than 45 but less than 65, 32 less; and of more than 65, 61 less.

The group of occupations which includes the largest number of occupied males in the County, exclusive of Dundee, is that of Agriculture. In it 8549, or 25·7 per cent. of the total are included, a number which is 140 more than in 1901. Among those in this group 1439 are returned as Farmers or Crofters, 430 as the Sons or other Relatives of Farmers or Crofters and assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 4748 as Agricultural Labourers. Farmers and Crofters number 23 more than in 1901, but their Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts number 40 less, and Agricultural Labourers number 205 less than at that census.

Occupied males in the group of engineering trades number 2618, and are 580 more than in 1901. Of these 1147 were enumerated in the Burgh of Arbroath.

The total occupied males returned as belonging to one or other of the building trades is 2141, a number which is 752 less than in 1901. Of these 613 were returned as Masons, Builders, or Bricklayers, or as their Labourers, a number which is 436 less than in 1901; 711 as Carpenters or Joiners, or as their Labourers, 254 less than in 1901; and 326 as Painters, 7 less than in 1901.

Occupied males returned as in occupations connected with the Manufacture of Flax and Linen number 1711, and with the Manufacture of Jute, Rope, and Canvas, 1288, the former being 253, less, but the latter 226 more, than in 1901. Of those connected with the Flax and Linen Manufacture, 512, and of those connected with Jute, Rope, and Canvas Manufacture, 351, were enumerated in the Burgh of Arbroath.

Other occupations followed by relatively large numbers of males in the County are Outdoor Domestic Service (1047), Carters (848), Commercial Clerks (674), and Teachers (244).

The largest female occupation in the County is Indoor Domestic Service, 4036 being so returned, a number which is 549 less than in 1901. Occupied females in Flax and Linen Manufacture number 3809, and are 443 less than in 1901; of whom 957 were enumerated in Arbroath. Those in occupations connected with the Manufacture of Jute, Rope, and Canvas number 2892, being 226 less than in 1901; of whom 953 were enumerated in Arbroath.

In the Agricultural Occupations, 616 occupied women were returned, which is 99 less than in 1901; of whom 178 were stated to be Farmers or Crofters, 160 Daughters or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 261 Agricultural Labourers. Female Farmers and Crofters are 1 less than in 1901, their Daughters and other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts are 28 less, and the Agricultural Labourers are 63 less.

Dressmakers number 1140, and are 303 fewer than in 1901; female Teachers number 524, and are 7 fewer than in 1901; and female Commercial Clerks number 504, and are 290 more than in that year.

Industries.—The principal industries, defined as the occupations of the employers, are shown for the County, exclusive of the City of Dundee, in Table XXIVa. Those which provide employment for more than 1000 occupied males are Agriculture, 8602; Iron Manufacture, 2595; Preparation and Sale of Food, 2382; Linen Industry, 2276; House Building and Decorating, 2028; Hemp, Jute, Rope, and Mat Manufacture, 1599; Railway Service, 1245; Domestic and Institution Service, 1244; and Local Government Service, 1175. Those providing employment for more than 1000 occupied women are Domestic and Institution Service, 4604; Linen Industry, 3949; Hemp, Jute, Rope, Mat Industries, 2756; and Tailoring and Dressmaking, 1354. Industries as distinct from Occupations were not separately tabulated in previous census reports, and consequently there are no numbers with which to compare these figures.

Birthplaces of Population.—Of the population of the County, exclusive of that of the City of Dundee, 91,272, or 78·4 per cent., were born within the County, and 21,657, or 18·6 per cent., in other Scottish Counties, the total number of Scottish birth amounting to 112,929, or 97·0 per cent., of the total. Those born within the County are 6050, or 6·2 per cent., less than in 1901, and those born in other Scottish counties are 422, or 1·9 per cent., less. Those of English birth and enumerated in the County number 2145, and are 8 fewer than in 1901; and those of Irish birth number 439, and are 30 fewer than in that year. Foreigners number 139, and show an increase of 42, or 43·3 per cent., over the corresponding figures of 1901.

* Part of this decrease is due to an extension of the boundaries of the City of Dundee in the intercensal period, the net decrease in the area outwith the City at the Census of 1911 being 4687. (Vide p. 1015.)

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County of Forfar, excluding those in the City of Dundee, was 31,068; 28,425, or 91·5 per cent., being inhabited; 2583, or 8·3 per cent., uninhabited; and 60, or 0·2 per cent., in course of erection. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, inhabited houses are 49, or 0·2 per cent., more, and uninhabited houses are 281, or 12·2 per cent., more, but houses in course of erection are 60, or 50·0 per cent., less.

Of the inhabited houses 3079, or 10·8 per cent., are one-roomed; 9376, or 33·0 per cent., two-roomed; 7321, or 25·8 per cent., three-roomed; 2780, or 9·8 per cent., four-roomed; 1729, or 6·1 per cent., five-roomed; 1312, or 4·6 per cent., six-roomed; and 2828, or 9·9 per cent., have more than six rooms.

Of the population enumerated in the County outwith Dundee, exclusive of those living in institutions or in houses of more than 25 rooms, or in households of more than 20 persons, 6596, or 5·8 per cent., were enumerated in houses of one room; 35,339, or 31·3 per cent., in houses of two rooms; 32,620, or 28·9 per cent., in houses of three rooms; 12,096, or 10·7 per cent., in houses of four rooms; 7424, or 6·6 per cent., in houses of five rooms; 5581, or 4·9 per cent., in houses of six rooms; and 13,262, or 11·8 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population referred to in the preceding paragraph, 77,262, or 68·4 per cent., were living not more than two in a room; 35,756, or 31·6 per cent., more than two in a room; 99,776, or 88·3 per cent., not more than three in a room; 13,242, or 11·7 per cent., more than three in a room; 108,893, or 96·3 per cent., not more than four in a room; and 4125, or 3·7 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figure for 1901, the number living not more than two in a room is 3540, or 4·4 per cent., less; living more than two in a room, 6351, or 15·1 per cent., less; living more than three in a room, 3923, or 22·9 per cent., less; and the number living more than four in a room, 1667, or 28·8 per cent., less. In 1901 the proportion living more than two in a room was 34·3, more than three in a room 14·0, and more than four in a room 4·7, all of which are higher than the proportions now found, and indicate a considerable improvement in the housing conditions of the County.

In the Burgh of Arbroath the proportion of those living more than two in a room is 37·1 per cent., and is 1·4 per cent. less than in 1901; that of those living more than three in a room is 15·7, and is 1·3 more than in 1901; and that of those living more than four in a room 5·1, which is 0·7 more than in 1901. These figures do not show the same reduction in the number of those living in the more overcrowded conditions, as do the figures for the rest of the County.

Gaelic Speaking.—The total number of persons of three years of age and upwards in this County who are able to speak Gaelic, exclusive of those enumerated in Dundee, is 504; this is 76 less than in 1901. Of those enumerated in 1901, 7 were returned as speaking Gaelic but unable to speak English; but at this census all the Gaelic speakers of the County are returned as able to speak English as well as Gaelic.

Of the Gaelic speakers of the County, 114 were born in Perth, and the same number in Inverness, 80 in Ross and Cromarty, 53 in Argyll, 58 in the County of Forfar itself, and smaller numbers in several of the other Scottish Counties. Seven are returned as of Irish birth, and presumably are speakers of the Irish variety of that language.

NOTES.

The Parish of Liff and Benvie was created in 1901 out of part of the landward portion of Dundee Combination Parish. The 1901 Census population of the area included in the new Parish is shown in the Table in italics.

The boundaries of the City of Dundee were extended in 1907 to include parts of the landward portions of Dundee Combination Parish and Mains & Strathmartine Parish. The Table shows the 1901 populations of these Parishes as given in the Report on that Census, as also, in italics, the populations of their divisions as now existing.

The Table also shows the 1901 population of the County exclusive of Dundee City as given in the Report on that Census, and, in italics, as adjusted for alteration of boundaries during the intercensal period.

TABLE II.—County of FORFAR—Particulars of Parishes.

This Table shows the distribution of Parish populations into Parish Wards, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Special Districts, etc., where such divisions of Parishes exist. Undivided Parishes are not included in the Table.

* The asterisk denotes that an alteration was made on the Parish or the County Boundaries during the intercensal period.
† The figures for 1801, 1811, 1821, and 1841 differ from those stated in the Preliminary Report on the Census of 1911. The figures in this Table were extracted from the Census Reports for the years to which they refer, while the figures in Table II. of the Preliminary Report were extracted from a retrospective Table given in the Census Report for 1851.
¹ Alyth and Coupar Angus. The Forfarshire portions of these Parishes were transferred by Order of the Boundary Commissioners in 1891 to Perthshire, where the larger parts had always been.
² The Parish of Arbroath and the Parish of St Vigeans were united into the Parish of Arbroath & St Vigeans in 1895.
⁴ Edzell. A part of Edzell Parish was in Kincardineshire until 1891, when it was transferred to the Parish of Fettercairn in that County by Order of the Boundary Commissioners. The figures in the Table for 1801-91 refer to what was then the Forfarshire portion of the Parish, but which, from 1891, constitutes the entire Parish.
⁵ Kettins. In the Census Returns of 1801, 1811, 1821, and 1841 the population of a portion of the County of Perth, then described as belonging to this Parish, was included. In the Census Report of 1851 the 1801 population of the Perthshire part was estimated to be 74; the 1811 population, 77; the 1821 population, 75; and the 1841 population, 67.
⁷ Liff and Benvie. The portion of the former Parish of Liff, Benvie & Invergowrie which formed a landward part of Dundee Combination Parish was erected into a separate Parish, called Liff & Benvie, in 1901.
⁸ Lundie and Fowlis-Easter. The Parish of Lundie was united for certain purposes to the Perthshire Parish of Fowlis-Easter. The latter was in 1891 transferred from Perthshire to Forfarshire by Order of the Boundary Commissioners.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Burgh have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the Burgh as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Burgh. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

NOTES.

The boundaries of the City of Dundee were extended in 1907 to include parts of the landward portions of the Registration Districts of St. Andrew and Mains, and part of the District of Strathmartine, the 1901 Census populations of each of which, as given in the Report on that Census, are shown in the Table, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 populations of the areas now included in the burghal and landward portions of these Districts.

The Registration Districts of Mains and Strathmartine were united as from 1st January 1909.

The 1901 population of the County exclusive of Dundee City, as given in the Report on that Census, is shown in the Table, as also, in italics, the 1901 population of the County exclusive of the area now included within the City.

TABLE VIII.—County of FORFAR—Particulars of Registration Districts.

This Table shows the distribution of Registration District populations into Parishes, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Mainland and Insular portions. Registration Districts not appearing in the Table are not so divided. The Table also shows the grouping of Registration Districts, or parts of Registration Districts, into the respective Parishes of which they form part.

TABLE XVII.—County of FORFAR—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The First Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkcudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |

| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birth-places of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses, while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County, and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 19.

THE COUNTY OF HADDINGTON.

The population of the County of Haddington or East Lothian is 43,254, which is 4589, or 11·9 per cent., more than in 1901, and 13,268, or nearly 45 per cent. more than in 1801, the year of the first Census of Scotland. This is the second Census in which a substantial increase of population has been found in this County, the other being that of 1821, which showed an intercensal increase of 4077, or 13·1 per cent. The changes of population found by the remaining Censuses have all been comparatively small, varying from increases of 1248, or 3·4 per cent., in 1861, and of 1180, or 3·1 per cent., in 1901, to decreases of 1017, or 2·6 per cent., in 1891, and of 259, or 0·7 per cent., in 1841.

TABLE A.—POPULATION AT EACH CENSUS SINCE 1801.

1911	43,254	21,463	21,791	4,589	2,624	1,965	11·9	13·9	9·9

The decennial increase in the total population of the County now found is due to an increase in the male population more than in the female, for the former amounts to 2624, or 13·9 per cent., while the latter amounts only to 1965, or 9·9 per cent.

Concurrently with this there is a reduction in the ratio of females to males, which has fallen from 105·2 to 100, to 101·5 to 100.

TABLE B.—CENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e. on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e. above. Thus the figure, +4545, in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, -286 in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1871.

In calculating differences referring to the years 1901 and 1911, the Census populations for these years have been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1892 by Order of the Boundary Commissioners.

Distribution of Population within County.—Of the total population of the County, 20,301, or 46·9 per cent., were enumerated within burghs, and 22,953, or 53·1 per cent., in the extraburghal portions of the County; the former is 2739, or 15·6 per cent., more than in 1901, and the latter is 1850, or 8·8 per cent. more. The increase of the burghal population of the County has thus been greater than that of the extraburghal population.

Extraburghal Population.—The extraburghal portion of the County is for public health purposes divided into two districts, the Eastern, and the Western. Of the two, the Western is the more populous, as it contains 16,764, or 73·0 per cent., of the extraburghal population; its population has increased during the intercensal period by 2120, or 14·5 per cent. The Eastern Public Health District has now a population of 6189, which is 270, or 4·2 per cent., less than in 1901. The increase of population in the Western District is not evenly distributed throughout the district, but is mostly in the Parishes of Ormiston and Pencaitland, and in the extraburghal portions of the Parishes of Prestonpans and Tranent. The increase in the extraburghal portion of Prestonpans is large, amounting to 1138, or more than half of that of the entire district.

Burghal Populations.—There are seven burghs in the County, and of these five are found to have larger populations than in 1901, and two to have smaller than in that year.

In 1901, and at several previous Censuses, Haddington was the largest burgh in the County, but Tranent has grown rapidly during the intercensal period, and is now the most populous, its population being 229 more than that of Haddington. The population of Tranent now numbers 4369, and is 1603, or 58·0 per cent., more than in 1901, and that of Haddington is now 4140, which is 147, or 3·7 per cent., more than in 1901. Dunbar and North Berwick have now populations of very similar amount, that of the former being 3346, and of the latter 3246; in North Berwick there was an intercensal increase of 344, or 11·9 per cent., but in Dunbar there was a decrease of 235, or 6·6 per cent. Cockenzie and Port Seton is now a burgh with a population of 2400, which is 713, or 42·3 per cent., more than in 1901. Prestonpans now has a population of 1923, which is 202, or 11·7 per cent., more than in 1901, and East Linton one of 877, which is 35, or 3·8 per cent., less than in that year.

Parish Populations.—There are 24 parishes in the County, varying in amount of population from 8677 in Tranent, 5424 in Haddington, 4830 in Dunbar, and 4722 in Prestonpans, to 199 in Morham, 256 in Bolton, and 386 in Spott. Of these parishes 11 have increased in population during the intercensal period, and 13 have decreased. The largest increases are in Tranent, 2560, or 41·9 per cent.; in Prestonpans, 1340, or 39·6 per cent.; and in Ormiston, 408, or 34·3 per cent.; and the largest decreases are in Dunbar, 201, or 4·0 per cent.; in Garvald, 117, or 18·6 per cent.; and in Innerwick, 106, or 13·6 per cent.

Six parishes of the County had their populations affected by alterations of parish boundaries by orders of the Boundary Commission in 1892. Putting these six aside, it is found that of the remaining 18 parishes, in 5 the population has now reached a maximum, while the other 13 had at some previous Census a larger population than is now found. The five parishes which now have a maximum population are Dirleton, North Berwick, Ormiston, Prestonpans, and Tranent.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—The voters of the County all vote in the County constituency, with the exception of those in a small portion of the Parish of Oldhamstocks, who vote in the Berwickshire constituency. A small portion of the Parliamentary constituency of Haddingtonshire is within the area of the County of Edinburgh; it consists of a portion of the Parish of Fala and Soutra which, by order of the Boundary Commission was transferred from the County of Haddington to that of Edinburgh, such transference not extending to Parliamentary purposes. The total population of the constituency of Haddington amounts to 43,352, 43,229 being in the Civil County of that name, and 123 in the County of Edinburgh.

Age and Sex Distribution of Population.—Of the total population of the County, 21,463, or 49·6 per cent., are males, and 21,791, or 50·4 per cent., females; the former are 2624, or 13·9 per cent., more than in 1901, and the latter 1965, or 9·9 per cent., more.

When the male population is distributed into quinquennial age-groups it is found that in each of them there is a decennial increase, the largest increases being in age-groups 30 to 34, 346, or 28·0 per cent.; 35 to 39, 306, or 27·1 per cent.; and 5 to 9, 323, or 15·4 per cent.; while the smallest are in age-groups between 55 and 94, which vary between 3 and 80, and in age-group 20 to 24, which is 62, or 3·5 per cent.

A very similar condition is found in the female age-groups, for increases are found in the majority of the groups, some of them substantial, while decreases are found only in a few of the older groups and none of them are substantial, the largest being one of 39 in age-group 60 to 64. The largest increases are those in age-groups 30 to 34, 276, or 20·2 per cent.; 45 to 49, 252, or 26·1 per cent.; and 0 to 4, 189, or 8·9 per cent.

Occupations.—Of the male population of ten years of age and upwards, 13,714 or 82·4 per cent. are returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population of those ages 5022, or 29·1 per cent. are so returned. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, the occupied males of the County are 1547, or 12·7 per cent. more, and the occupied females 111, or 2·3 per cent. more. In 1901, 83·5 per cent. of the male population of these ages were returned as occupied, and of the female population 31·5 per cent.

Occupied males of over 10 but less than 15 years of age, number 247, and are 171, or 40·9 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these 8 were less than 14, as compared with 104 in 1901. Occupied males of more than 15 but less than 20 years of age number 1969, and are 44, or 2·3 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 1800, and are 36, or 2·0 per cent., more than in that year; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 5883, and are 1122, or 23·6 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 3154, and are 450, or 16·6 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of over 65 are 66, or 11·1 per cent., more than in 1901. Thus the largest relative increases of occupied males are in age-groups 25 to 44, and 45 to 64.

Occupied females of over 10 but less than 15 number 132, and are 61, or 31·6 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these none were less than 14—in 1901 there were 16 occupied females of that age. Occupied females of more than 15 but less than 20 number 1323, and are 81, or 5·8 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 1103, and are 43, or 3·8 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 1554, and are 114, or 7·9 per cent., more than in 1901; those of over 45 but less than 65 number 732, and are 158, or 27·5 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of over 65 number 178, and are 24, or 15·6 per cent., more than in 1901. Thus the increase in the number of occupied females is entirely in age-groups of over 45, there being a decrease in the younger age-groups.

The group of occupations in the County in which the largest number of males are returned is that connected with agriculture, this group amounting to 3791, or 27·6 per cent., of the total males occupied, a number which is 36 more than in 1901. Farmers and Crofters number 282, and are 3 more than in 1901; Sons and other Relatives of Farmers and Crofters, and assisting on the Farms or Crofts number 57, and are 12 less than in 1901; Agricultural Labourers number 2494, and are 167 more than in that year.

Next to the agricultural occupations, those connected with mining have the largest number returned. Miners working Below Ground number 2612, and are 1329, or 103·9 per cent., more than in 1901, and those working Above Ground number 317, and are 217, or 217·0 per cent., more than in that year. Of the total occupied males, 3004, or 21·9 per cent., are returned as having an occupation connected with mining.

The number returned as having occupations connected with the building trades is 906, which is 197, or 17·8 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these 274 were stated to be builders, or masons, or bricklayers, or their labourers, which is 129 less than in 1901; 312 were returned as Carpenters, or Joiners, or their Labourers, which is 65 less than in 1901; and 97 as Painters, which is 2 more than in that year.

Other occupations followed by considerable numbers of the occupied males in the County are Domestic Outdoor Servants, 618, or 151 more than in 1901; Fishermen, 490, or 79 less than in 1901; Commercial Clerks, 70, or 17 less than in 1901; and Teachers 63, or 8 less than in that year.

The occupation followed by the largest number of females is Indoor Domestic Service, 1958, or 39·0 per cent. of the total being so returned. This number is 69, or 3·7 per cent., more than that of 1901.

As belonging to the agricultural occupations there are returned 1319, or 26·3 per cent., of the total occupied females, a figure which is 202, or 13·3 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these 23 were stated to be Farmers or Crofters, 11 to be Daughters or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 1199 to be Agricultural Labourers. Female Farmers and Crofters are 6 more than in 1901, but the Daughters and Other Female Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts are 38 less, and the Female Agricultural Labourers are 221 less.

Other female occupations to which considerable numbers are returned are Dressmakers (313), Teachers (163), and Commercial Clerks (138). The Dressmakers are 62 less than in 1901, but the female Teachers are 44 more, and the Clerks 60 more than in that year.

Industries.—An industry is for Census purposes defined as the occupation of the employer, and the principal industries of the County are collected in Table XXIV. The industries giving employment to the largest numbers of males are Agriculture and the Coal Industry, 3859 being returned in the former and 3218 in the latter. The number of occupied males returned as in the House Building and Decorating Industry is 834; in that of the Preparation and Sale of Food, 820; and in Domestic and Institution Service, 708. The industries to which the largest numbers of females are returned are Domestic and Institution Service, 2070; Agriculture, 1326; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 348; and Preparation and Sale of Food, 233. As the industries of the population were not separately tabulated in previous Censuses there are no existing figures with which comparisons can be made.

Birthplaces.—Of the population of the County, 40,511, or 93·7 per cent. were born in Scotland, 1489, or 3·4 per cent. in England or Wales, 916, or 2·1 per cent. in Ireland, and 338, or 0·8 per cent. elsewhere, these including 79 foreigners. Those born within the County itself number 24,937, and are 1034, or 4·3 per cent. more than in 1901; those born in other Scottish Counties number 15,574, and are 3247, or 26·3 per cent. more than in 1901. Those of English or Welsh birth are 200, or 15·5 per cent., more, and those of Irish birth, 7, or 0·8 per cent., more than in that year. Foreigners in this County have more than doubled in number since 1901, for in that year they numbered only 38.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County is 10,519, a figure which is 941, or 9·6 per cent. more than in 1901. Of these 9416, or 89·5 per cent. are inhabited; 1050, or 10·0 per cent., uninhabited; and 53, or 0·5 per cent., in course of erection. In 1901 the inhabited houses of the County numbered 8398, and constituted 87·7 per cent. of the total; uninhabited houses, 1086, or 11·3 per cent. of the total; and houses in course of erection, 94, or 1·0 per cent. Thus, inhabited houses are now 1018, or 12·1 per cent., more than in that year, uninhabited houses, 36, or 3·3 per cent., less; and houses in course of erection, 41, or 43·6 per cent., less.

Of the inhabited houses of the County, 683, or 7·3 per cent. are one-roomed; 3813, or 40·5 per cent., two-roomed; 1769, or 18·8 per cent., three-roomed; 1200, or 12·7 per cent., four-roomed; 456, or 4·8 per cent., five-roomed; 291, or 3·1 per cent., six-roomed; and 1204, or 12·8 per cent., of more than six rooms. A comparison with the corresponding figures of 1901, shows that inhabited houses of two, three, and four rooms are those which have most increased in number during the intercensal period.

Of the total population, exclusive of those enumerated in institutions or in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons (vide note to Table XXVII.), 1751, or 4·2 per cent. were in houses of one room; 16,912, or 40·5 per cent., in houses of two rooms; 8528, or 20·4 per cent., in houses of three rooms; 5828, or 14·0 per cent., in houses of four rooms; 1975, or 4·7 per cent., in houses of five rooms; 1261, or 3·0 per cent., in houses of six rooms; and 5492, or 13·2 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population referred to in the above paragraph, 25,514, or 61·1 per cent., were living not more than two in a room; 16,233, or 38·9 per cent., more than two in a room; 34,344, or 82·3 per cent., not more than three in a room; 7403, or 17·7 per cent., more than three in a room; 39,091, or 93·6 per cent., not more than four in a room; and 2656, or 6·4 per cent., more than four in a room. In 1901, 14,930, or 38·6 per cent., were living more than two in a room; 6924, or 17·9 per cent., more than three in a room; and 2782, or 7·2 per cent., more than four in a room. Thus the relative numbers living more than two in a room, and more than three in a room, show little change, but the number of those living more than four in a room shows a considerable reduction.

Gaelic Speaking.—Of the persons of three years of age and upwards enumerated in the County, 481 were returned as able to speak Gaelic, and all of these, with one exception, were stated to speak English as well as Gaelic, the one exception being a widow aged 71, who was born in the County of Inverness.

Of the 481 Gaelic speakers, 307 were born in Scotland, 170 in Ireland, and 4 elsewhere. Of those of Scottish birth a majority, 167, were born in Inverness, while considerable numbers were born in Argyll, Ross and Cromarty, Perth, and Sutherland.

Male Gaelic speakers numbered 230, and female Gaelic speakers 251. Of the males 153, or 66·5 per cent., were of Irish birth, and were presumable speakers of the Irish, not Scottish, variety of that language, but of the female Gaelic speakers, only 17, or 6·8 per cent., were stated to be born in Ireland.

* Royal Burghs.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Burgh have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the Burgh as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Burgh. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

TABLE V.—County of HADDINGTON.—Particulars relating to Burghs.

This Table is omitted as unnecessary, there being no Burgh in the County of Haddington divided into Wards, nor any Burgh divided for Parliamentary purposes. Any Shipping enumerated in the Burghs is separately shown in Table II.

NOTE.

A small portion of Haddingtonshire Constituency is in the County of Edinburgh. It consists of a portion of the Parish of Fala and Soutra, population 123.

TABLE XVII.—County of HADDINGTON.—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which, for certain purposes, include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The first Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkcudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |
| 5. Aberdeen (County). | 15. Edinburgh (County). | 24. Lanark. | 33. Selkirk. |

| 8. Banff. | 18. Forfar. | 27. Orkney. | 36. Sutherland. |
| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birthplaces of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses, while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads: "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 20.

THE COUNTY OF INVERNESS.

THE population of Inverness is found to amount to 87,272, which is 2832, or 3·1 per cent., less than in 1901, and is less than that ascertained by any of the censuses since 1811. It is 10,527, or 10·8 per cent., less than the figure of the 1841 Census, and 2885, or 3·2 per cent., less than that of the 1821 Census. But fair comparison with the figures of the earlier censuses is complicated by two factors, the one—the alterations of the county boundaries that have taken place,—and the other—the imperfect division of population between this county and that of Elgin in the reports on the censuses of 1801 to 1861. Allowances have been made for both of these factors in preparing Tables B and C, in which an approximate statement of the gains and losses of the population in each intercensal period may be seen. These intercensal changes may be summarised by stating that from 1801 to 1841 there was a constant increase of population amounting in all to 24,170, or 32·9 per cent., but that from 1841 onwards the reverse has been the case, for by all subsequent censuses, with only one exception, decreases of population have been found in this County.

Of the present population of the County, 42,440 are males and 44,832 females, the former being 1322, or 3·0 per cent., less than in 1901, and the latter 1510, or 3·3 per cent., less than in that year.

TABLE B.—CENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e. on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e. above. Thus the figure, -2,758, in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, +1,786, in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1871.

In calculating the differences in this Table, the Census populations of 1801 to 1861 have, as far as practicable, been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1870 by Act of Parliament; and the Census populations of 1901 and 1911 have been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1892 by Order of the Boundary Commissioners. For the Censuses 1801 to 1821, the revised statements of the County Population, published in the Census Report of 1851, have been taken. (Vide Notes to Table III., p. 1161).

Distribution of Population within County.—Of the total population 25,389, or 29·1 per cent., were enumerated within burghs, and 61,883, or 70·9 per cent., in the extraburghal portions of the County. The burghal population is 762, or 2·9 per cent., less than in 1901, and the extraburghal population 2070, or 3·2 per cent., less.

There are eight extraburghal Public Health Districts in the County, four being mainland and four insular. Of these seven have lost population during the intercensal period, while only one has gained it. The Public Health District which has increased in population during the period is Harris; its population in 1901 was 5271, and is now 5449, and the increase amounts to 178, or 3·4 per cent. The four mainland Public Health Districts are Inverness, Aird, Lochaber, and Badenoch. The population of Inverness Public Health District is 9142; of Aird, 8758; of Lochaber, 7039; and of Badenoch, 6496. The decrease of population in Inverness District amounts to 127, or 1·4 per cent.; in Aird to 135, or 1·5 per cent.; in Lochaber to 399, or 5·4 per cent.; and in Badenoch to 15, or 0·2 per cent. Of the insular Public Health Districts, Skye is the largest, it has a population of 13,319, which is 1300, or 8·9 per cent., less than in 1901. The population of North Uist District is 3677, and of South Uist District, 8003; the former is 214, or 5·5 per cent., less than in 1901, and the latter, 58, or 0·7 per cent., less.

Population of Burghs.—There are three burghs in the County, of which Inverness is the largest. In 1901 its population was 21,238, it is now 22,216, the increase amounting to 978; but during the intercensal period the boundaries of the burgh were altered, and an area which in 1901 had a population of 1837 was added. If the present population be compared with the 1901 population of the area now included within the burgh it is found that, instead of any increase, there is a decrease amounting to 859, or 3·7 per cent. The second largest of these burghs is Fort-William, its population is now 2002, and is 85, or 4·1 per cent., less than in 1901. Kingussie, the remaining burgh of the County, now has a population of 1171, which is 182, or 18·4 per cent., more than in that year.

Population of Parishes.—There are 33 parishes in the County, 21 of them being mainland, and 12 insular.

Of the mainland parishes the most populous are Inverness, 25,952; Kilmallie, 3704; and Kingussie and Insh, 2464; and the least populous are Alvie, 590; Moy and Dalarossie, 688; and Laggan, 754. The parish of Croy and Dalcross is partly in this County, and partly in Nairn, the portion in this County having a population of 542. Of these mainland parishes, 7 have increased in population during the intercensal period, and 14 have decreased; the largest increases are in Ardersier, 319, or 20·0 per cent.; Kingussie and Insh, 270, or 12·3 per cent.; and in Glenelg, 167, or 11·1 per cent. The largest decreases are in Inverness, 1094, or 4·0 per cent.; in Kilmonivaig, 352, or 17·2 per cent.; and in Urquhart and Glenmoriston, 153, or 8·4 per cent.

The insular parishes of the County vary in size of population from Harris, 5449; South Uist, 5383; and North Uist, 3677; to Small Isles, 396; Bracadale, 805; and Sleat, 1373. Three of them are found to have increased their population during the intercensal period, but in nine the population is now found to be less than in 1901. The three insular parishes which have increased in population during the decade are Harris, Barra, and Snizort. The increase in Harris amounts to 178, or 3·4 per cent.; in Barra to 75, or 2·9 per cent.; and in Snizort to 45, or 2·7 per cent. The largest decreases are in Portree, 350, or 12·6 per cent.; in Sleat, 292, or 17·5 per cent.; and in Duirinish, 274, or 8·1 per cent.

Comparisons of the present populations of the parishes of this County with those of the earlier censuses are in many instances unsatisfactory on account of the numerous alterations of boundaries which have been made. This is more especially so in the case of the mainland parishes, for of these only two have not been subjected to alteration of parish boundaries, these two being Glenelg and Kirkhill. Glenelg had its maximum population in 1831, and since then has lost 1204, or 41·9 per cent., and Kirkhill had its maximum population in 1841, and since then has lost 592, or 32·4 per cent. Of the insular parishes, nine have not been subjected to alterations of parish boundaries, and of these, two only, Barra and Harris, have now a maximum population, while the remaining seven all had larger populations at the date of some previous census. The population of Bracadale is now 1298, or 61·7 per cent., less than in 1821; that of Snizort is 1779, or 51·0 per cent., less than in 1831; that of Kilmuir is now 1675, or 46·2 per cent., less than in 1841; and that of Duirinish is now 2237, or 42·0 per cent., less than in 1851.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—Of the total population of the County, 65,545, or 75·1 per cent., are in the Constituency of Inverness-shire; 20,579, or 23·6 per cent., in the Constituency of Inverness Burghs; 882, or 1·0 per cent., in the Constituency of Argyllshire; and 266, or 0·3 per cent., in that of the Counties of Elgin and Nairn. The population in the County Constituency has during the intercensal period decreased by 2064, or 3·1 per cent.; that in the Inverness Burghs Constituency by 659, or 3·1 per cent.; that in the Constituency of Argyllshire by 89, or 9·2 per cent.; and that in the Constituency of Elgin and Nairn by 20, or 7·0 per cent. None of these four Constituencies are entirely within the County,—the County Constituency containing portions of the Counties of Nairn and of Ross and Cromarty, and the Inverness Burghs Constituency comprising the burghs of Forres, Fortrose, and Nairn, none of which are within Inverness-shire.

Inhabited Islands.—There are 48 inhabited islands in the County, on which a population of 30,935 was enumerated. In 1901, the total population of these islands was 32,422, and thus the intercensal change is a decrease of 1487, or 4·6 per cent. In 1891 their population was 34,510, and compared with this the present population is 3575, or 10·4 per cent. less. The most populous of these islands are Skye, 12,719; Harris, 4016; South Uist, 3546; North Uist, 2882; Barra, 2311; and Benbecula, 1305. On the other hand the population of many of them is small; in 25 of them it is less than 50, in 19 less than 30, and in 14 less than 10.

The 48 islands which were inhabited at the date of this census include two, Hyskeir and the Ness Islands, on which there were no inhabitants at the date of the previous census, but do not include four, Fuda, Sandaray, Soay Skerries, and Wiay, which were inhabited in 1901, but now have no population. Of the 46 inhabited at the dates of both censuses, 31 have lost population, 13 have gained, and in 2 the population is now the same as in 1901. The largest decreases of population are found in Skye, 1164, or 8·4 per cent.; in Mingulay, 124, or 91·9 per cent.; and in Benbecula, 112, or 7·9 per cent.; and the largest increases in Vatersay, where the 1901 population was 13, and the present population is 288; in Harris, where the increase is 213, or 5·6 per cent.; and in Grimsay, where it is 72, or 24·8 per cent. The large increase of population on the Island of Vatersay is due to the division of a large farm into small holdings by the Congested Districts Board.

Age and Sex Distribution.—As the decrease in the number of males and of females in the County during the intercensal period has been very similar, the ratio of females to males is now nearly the same as in 1901. The decrease of the male population amounts to 3·0 per cent., and of the female population to 3·3 per cent. The ratio of females to males is now 105·6 to 100; in 1901 was 105·9 to 100.

A comparison of the age distribution with that of 1901 shows a decrease in the numbers of both sexes in age periods of under 45, and an increase in the numbers of both in the older age periods. Males of under 45 now number 31,330, and are 2084, or 6·2 per cent., less than in 1901, and females of those ages now number 31,411, and are 2175, or 6·5 per cent., less than in that year. Males of 45 and over now number 11,110, and are 762, or 7·4 per cent., more than in 1901. Females of those ages now number 13,421, and are 665, or 5·2 per cent., more than in that year. The largest decreases of males are found in age-groups 0 to 4, 537, or 11·7 per cent.; 5 to 9, 482, or 10·0 per cent.; and 10 to 14, 357, or 7·4 per cent.; and of females in age-groups 0 to 4, 479, or 10·8 per cent.; 15 to 19, 367, or 8·3 per cent.; and 25 to 29, 294, or 8·8 per cent. The largest increases of males are in age-groups 70 to 74, 267, or 28·3 per cent.; 55 to 59, 211, or 13·1 per cent.; and 65 to 69, 196, or 17·6 per cent.; and of females in age-groups 70 to 74, 584, or 48·4 per cent.; 75 to 79, 202, or 26·1 per cent.; and 65 to 69, 159, or 11·1 per cent.

The only male age-group of under 45 in which the decrease is small is that of 20 to 24, and the only one in which there is any increase is that of 15 to 19. These exceptions may be attributed to the increased number of military enumerated in the parish of Ardersier, in which Fort George Barracks are situated; in it males in age-group 15 to 19 number 189, and in age-group 20 to 24, 275, more than in 1901.

Occupations.—Males in the County of ten years of age and upwards returned as having some remunerative occupation number 27,075, and are 698, or 2·5 per cent., less than in 1901, and occupied females of these ages number 10,859, and are 191, or 1·8 per cent., more than in that year.

Occupied males of more than 10 but less than 15 years of age number 207, and are 131, or 38·8 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these 6 are less than 14 years of age, while in 1901 there were 59 under that age. Occupied males of more than 15 but less than 20 number 3889, and are 186, or 4·6 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 3361, and are 138, or 3·9 per cent., less than in that year; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 9915, and are 733, or 6·9 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 6943, and are 108, or 1·6 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of 65 and over number 2760, and are 382, or 16·1 per cent., more than in that year. Occupied females of more than 10 but less than 20 number 102, which is 54, or 34·6 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these, 2 are less than 14, in 1901 there were 27 such; those of more than 15 but less than 20 number 2022, and are 143, or 6·6 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 1921, and are 13, or 0·7 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 3661, and are 306, or 9·1 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 2074, and are 120, or 5·5 per cent., less than in 1901; and those of 65 and over number 1079, and are 189, or 21·2 per cent., more than in that year. There are thus decreases of occupied males in all age-groups of under 45, and increases in all age-groups of over 45, while among occupied females there are decreases in age-groups of under 20, and in age-group of 45 to 64, and increases in age-groups between 20 and 44, and in age-group of over 65.

Of the occupied males the largest numbers are found in occupations connected with agriculture. They number 9403, and are 538, or 5·4 per cent., fewer than in 1901. Of these 796 are described as Farmers, 2957 as Crofters, 1893 as Sons or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 2399 as Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Farmers are 354 fewer, Crofters 107 fewer; and Agricultural Labourers, 265 fewer; but Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts are 260 more. These figures however may be misleading, for at this Census a much larger number—857—described themselves as Fishermen Crofters than was the case in 1901, when that number was only 200, and if these be taken along with Farmers and Crofters, there is found to be an intercensal increase of 196, or 4·4 per cent., in the aggregate number.

The number of males returned as having occupations connected with fishing—Fishermen and Fishermen Crofters—is 2052, and is 224 more than in 1901. Exclusive of Fishermen Crofters, this class amounts to 1195, which is 433, or 26·6 per cent., less than in 1901.

To the occupations connected with the building trades, 1583 males were returned, which is 571, or 26·5 per cent., less than in 1901. Builders, Masons, Bricklayers, and their Labourers, number 454, and are 250, or 35·5 per cent., less than in 1901; Carpenters and Joiners and their Labourers number 600, and are 260, or 30·2 per cent., less than in 1901; and Painters number 221, and are 20 less than in 1901.

Other occupations to which relatively large numbers of males are returned, are Railway Servants, 1235; Domestic Outdoor Servants, 1156; Soldiers, 1078; Seamen, 564; and Carters, 393. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Railway Servants are 74 more; Domestic Outdoor Servants, 233 more; Soldiers, 120 more; and Seamen, 1 more; but Carters are 19 fewer.

Of the occupied females, 2185 are returned in one or other of the agricultural occupations, which is 36 more than in 1901. Of these 74 are described as Farmers, 889 as Crofters, 946 as Daughters or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 264 as Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures for 1901, female Farmers are 28 fewer, Crofters are 65 fewer, and Agricultural Labourers are 203 fewer, but Daughters and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts are 348 more.

Female Domestic Indoor Servants in the County number 3634, and are 132 fewer than in 1901; female Wool and Worsted Spinners number 980, and are 126 more than in 1901; female Wool and Worsted Weavers number 367, and are 147 fewer than in 1901; Dressmakers number 542, and are 248 fewer than in 1901; female Teachers number 439, and are 31 more than in 1901; and female Commercial Clerks number 226, and are 100 more than in that year.

Industries.—The industries, defined as the occupations of the employers, which in the County give employment to more than 1000 males, and the number returned in them, are Agriculture, 9465; Fishing, 2108; Railway Service, 1698; House Building and Decorating, 1472; Domestic and Institution Service, 1366; Preparation and Sale of Food, 1203; and Naval and Military Service, 1085; and Industries providing employment for over 1000 occupied females are Domestic and Institution Service, 3880; Agriculture, 2187; and Wool Industry, 1354. Industries as distinct from Occupations were not separately tabulated in previous censuses, and consequently there are no figures with which to compare these numbers.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population of the County, 64,934, or 74·4 per cent., were born within the County, and 19,702, or 22·6 per cent., in other Scottish counties, and thus 84,636, or 97·0 per cent. of the total, were of Scottish birth. Among those born outwith Scotland there were 1579 of English birth, 380 of Irish birth, 334 of Colonial birth, and 144 foreigners. Of these, the only number which is materially greater than in 1901 is that of those of foreign birth; it is 59, or 69·4 per cent., more. Of those born in Scotland but in counties other than Inverness itself, the largest numbers are stated to have been born in Ross and Cromarty, and in Lanark.

Housing Conditions.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County is 20,865, 19,266 of them being inhabited, 1508 uninhabited, and 91 in the course of erection. Compared with the figures of 1901, inhabited houses are 298, or 1·6 per cent., more; uninhabited houses, 461, or 44·0 per cent., more; but houses in course of erection are 19, or 17·3 per cent., less.

Of the inhabited houses, 1183, or 6·1 per cent., are one-roomed; 4892, or 25·4 per cent., two-roomed; 5020, or 26·1 per cent., three-roomed; 2484, or 12·9 per cent., four-roomed; 2061, or 10·7 per cent., five-roomed; 1275, or 6·6 per cent., six-roomed; and 2351, or 12·2 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the total population, exclusive of those enumerated in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons (Vide note to Table XXVIIA), 2421, or 2·9 per cent., were enumerated in one-roomed houses; 18,194, or 21·9 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 22,650, or 27·2 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 11,825, or 14·2 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 10,000, or 12·0 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 6442, or 7·7 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 11,625, or 14·1 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of those dealt with in the preceding paragraph, 61,357, or 73·8 per cent., were found to be living not more than two in a room; 75,913, or 91·3 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 80,936, or 97·3 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 21,790, or 26·2 per cent., were living more than two in a room; 7244, or 8·7 per cent., more than three in a room; and 2221, or 2·7 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures for 1901, those living more than two in a room are 6994 fewer; more than three in a room, 4182 fewer; and more than four in a room, 1898 fewer.

Of the population of the Burgh of Inverness, exclusive of those living in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons, 16,315, or 75·6 per cent., were found to be living not more than two in a room; 19,913, or 92·2 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 21,093, or 97·7 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 5279, or 24·4 per cent., were living more than two in a room; 1681, or 7·8 per cent., more than three in a room; and 501, or 2·3 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those living more than two in a room are 802, or 13·2 per cent., less; those living more than three in a room, 489, or 22·5 per cent., less; and those living more than four in a room, 157, or 23·9 per cent., less.

Gaelic Speaking.—As Inverness is one of the counties in Scotland in which Gaelic is widely spoken, the principal facts regarding Gaelic speakers have been collected and are shown in Tables F and G, these tables being drawn up in the same manner as those given in Part 6 of this Report which deals with the Gaelic speakers of Argyll.

The total number of persons of three years of age and upwards in Inverness returned as able to speak Gaelic is 48,780, which constitutes 55·9 per cent. of the entire population of the County. In 1901 these Gaelic speakers numbered 55,003, and constituted 61·0 per cent. of the total; in 1891 they numbered 62,130, and constituted 68·9 per cent. of the total; and in 1881 they numbered 64,041,* and constituted 70·9 per cent. of the total. Thus the total number of Gaelic speakers is now 6223, or 11·3 per cent., less than in 1901, 13,350, or 21·5 per cent., less than in 1891, and 15,261, or 23·8 per cent., less than in 1881. The percentage which these Gaelic speakers now form of the total population, 55·9, is 5·1 less than in 1901, 13·0 less than in 1891, and 15·0 less than in 1881. Thus, though the number of persons in the County who are able to speak this language is still large, it is markedly less, both absolutely and relatively, than it was thirty years ago.

In the mainland parishes of the County, Gaelic speakers number 20,698, and constitute 36·7 per cent. of the population, and in the insular parishes they number 28,082, and constitute 91·0 per cent. of the total. In the mainland parishes in 1881 Gaelic speakers constituted 55·1 per cent. of the total population; in 1891, 54·0 per cent.; and in 1901, 43·9 per cent. In the insular parishes they constituted in 1881, 95·2 per cent.; in 1891, 93·2 per cent.; and in 1901, 91·6 per cent. The Gaelic speakers in the mainland parishes are 4678, or 18·4 per cent., less than in 1901; 9376, or 31·2 per cent., less than in 1891; and 9609, or 31·7 per cent., less than in 1881. Gaelic speakers in the insular parishes are 1545, or 5·2 per cent., less than in 1901; 3974, or 12·4 per cent., less than in 1891; and 5652, or 16·8 per cent., less than in 1881. The decrease in the number of these persons has thus been greater in the mainland than in the insular parishes of the County.

The mainland parishes with the largest numbers of Gaelic speakers are Inverness, 5632; Kilmallie, 2189; Arisaig and Moidart, 1280; Glenelg, 1192; and Kilmonivaig, 1129, and the insular parishes with the largest numbers are South Uist, 4985; Harris, 4970; North Uist, 3395; Duirinish, 2809; Barra, 2443; and Portree, 2078. The mainland parishes in which the Gaelic speakers form the largest percentage of the total population are Arisaig and Moidart, 81·5; Glenelg, 71·4; Urquhart and Glenmoriston, 68·5; and Kilmonivaig, 66·4; and those in which this rate is lowest are Ardersier, 15·5; Inverness, 21·7; and Petty, 25·3. The insular parishes in which this rate is highest are Barra, 93·2; Kilmuir, 93·1; South Uist, 92·6; and North Uist, 92·3; and those in which it is lowest are Small Isles, 81·6; and Portree, 85·5.

Of the Gaelic speakers of the County, 41,110, or 84·3 per cent., are returned as able to speak English as well as Gaelic, and 7670, or 15·7 per cent., as unable to speak English. Those returned as unable to speak English are 4052, or 34·6 per cent., fewer than in 1901, and 9646, or 55·7 per cent., fewer than in 1891; those able to speak English as well as Gaelic are 2171, or 5·0 per cent., fewer than in 1901, and 3704, or 8·3 per cent., fewer than in 1891.

In the mainland parishes those speaking Gaelic only now number 586; and are 590, or 50·2 per cent., less than in 1901, and 1802, or 67·5 per cent., less than in 1891. In the insular parishes those speaking Gaelic only now number 7084, and are 3462, or 32·8 per cent., less than in 1901, and 7844, or 52·5 per cent., less than in 1891.

Table G shows the age-distribution of those in the insular parishes of the County who in 1891, 1901, and at this census, were stated to speak Gaelic but not English, and is constructed so as to be comparable with the table, dealing with the Gaelic speakers of the insular parishes of Argyll. An examination of this table brings out the same facts as were found in the Argyll table, namely, that the numbers of persons unable to speak English are, both absolutely and relatively, greater in the younger and older age periods than in the intermediate, and that the reduction in the total number is largely accounted for among those who have had the benefit of modern schooling.

Of the children of 3 and 4 years of age—less than school age—78·9 per cent. are returned as speaking Gaelic only, a proportion that diminishes rapidly up to the age of 20. In age period 5 to 9, it is 39·2 per cent.; in age period 10 to 14, 4·8 per cent.; and in age period 15 to 19 it reaches a minimum of 2·3 per cent. From age 20 upwards this proportion increases; in age period 20 to 24 it is 3·3 per cent.; in age period 30 to 34, 7·0 per cent.; in age period 40 to 44, 19·2 per cent.; in age period 50 to 54, 30·1 per cent.; in age period 60 to 64, 39·2 per cent.; in age period 70 to 74, 48·5 per cent.; and in age period of 80 and over, 65·4 per cent. The figures of 1891, when no doubt the effects of schooling were not so great, are a contrast to those of this census. In that year the proportion in age period 3 to 4 was nearly the same as it now is, being 78·6 per cent., but in all other age periods this proportion is now markedly less than in that year; in age period 5 to 9 it has been reduced by 25 per cent.; in age period 10 to 14, by 78 per cent.; in age period 15 to 19, by 91 per cent.; in age period 20 to 24, by 89 per cent.; in age period 30 to 34, by 81 per cent.; in age period 40 to 44, by 59 per cent.; in age period 50 to 54, by 45 per cent.; in age period 60 to 64, by 41 per cent.; in age period 70 to 74, by 20 per cent.; and in age period of 80 and upwards by 12 per cent. In 1891 the minimum proportion was that found in age period 10 to 14, which was 21·6 per cent., and is nearly ten times as large as the minimum now found, viz., 2·3 per cent. in age period 15 to 19.

† In the Reports on the Censuses of 1891 and 1901 the number of persons in the Insular portion of Inverness returned as speaking Gaelic only is 14,928 and 10,546 respectively. The difference between the figures given in the Census Reports and those in the above Table is found, by examination of the Enumeration Books, to be due to the inclusion in the former of a number of children under three years of age returned as speaking Gaelic.

When discussing the statistics of the Gaelic speakers of Argyll we expressed an opinion that the reduction in the number of persons speaking Gaelic but unable to speak English should not be taken as proof that the use of that language was being discontinued, and after making a similar study of the statistics of the Gaelic speakers of the islands of Inverness, we are in a position to repeat that opinion. One fact alone seems to justify such an expression, and that is that fully three-fourths of the children of less than school age, more than three but less than five, speak Gaelic exclusively. Such a condition seems possible only when Gaelic is the language habitually spoken in the homes, and this seems conclusive evidence of its wide and habitual use.

* The asterisk denotes that a change of Parish or County boundaries was made during the intercensal period.

The boundary of the County was altered (a) in 1870, when (1) the Elginshire portions of the Parishes of Abernethy and Duthil & Rothiemurchus were transferred to Inverness-shire, and (2) part of the Inverness-shire portion of Cromdale & Inverallan Parish was transferred to the County of Elgin; (b) in 1891, by transfer of (1) part of the Argyllshire portion of Kilmallie Parish to Inverness-shire, (2) the Argyllshire portion of Small Isles Parish to Inverness-shire, (3) the Inverness-shire part of Cawdor Parish to the County of Nairn, (4) by exchange of areas between the Inverness and Nairn portions of the Parish of Croy & Dalcross, (5) by transfer of the Nairnshire portion of the Parish of Daviot & Dunlichty and of Petty to the County of Inverness-shire, and (6) transfer of part of the Inverness-shire Parish of Kilmorack to the Ross-shire Parish of Urray.

† The portion of Ardnamurchan Parish in Inverness-shire was in 1895 erected into the new Parish of Arisaig & Moidart.

‡ The Parish of Boleskine & Abertarff was returned with the Parish of Dores in 1801; the Parish of Cawdor, mostly in Nairn, was returned wholly in that County in 1801; the Parish of Cromdale & Inverallan, then partly in Elgin, was returned wholly in Inverness-shire in 1801 and 1811, and wholly in Elginshire in 1871; the Parishes of Daviot & Dunlichty and Petty, both partly in Nairn, were returned wholly in Inverness-shire in 1801–1821; and the Parish of Urray, mostly in the County of Ross, was wholly returned there in 1801 and 1821.

§ Moy and Dalarossie. Part of only, from 1801 until 1891—when the portion of the Parish in Nairnshire was transferred to the Parish of Cawdor by order of the Boundary Commissioners.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Registration District have been altered since last Census, the 1901 Population of the Registration District as altered is shown in italics, and the date of alteration is shown in parentheses against the name of the Registration District. The first county total for 1901 is that given in the Report on that Census; and the second county total is that to be compared with the 1911 total, as it allows for adjustments between Civil and Registration Counties.

TABLE VIII.—County of INVERNESS—Particulars of Registration Districts.

TABLE XVII.—County of INVERNESS—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The First Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |

| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birth-places of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses , while the 1901 Table was based on the number of “Families.” In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County, and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads “The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require.”

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 21.

THE COUNTY OF KINCARDINE.

Detailed particulars regarding the Census of a large section of the population of this County were included in Part 4 of the Report, which dealt with the Census of the City of Aberdeen, and this Part deals more especially with the section of the population of the County which is outwith that City. It is, however, convenient in many places throughout the text and in some of the tables, to include the population within Aberdeen City, but where that is done, to avoid confusion, it is always so stated.

The population of the entire County, inclusive of the portion within Aberdeen City, was found on Census day to amount to 41,008, and to have increased during the intercensal period by 85, or 0·2 per cent. Of this population, 11,428, or 27·9 per cent., was enumerated within the City of Aberdeen, and 29,580, or 72·1 per cent., outwith that City. The City population has increased during the intercensal period by 2042, or 21·8 per cent., but the population of the rest of the County has decreased by 1957, or 6·2 per cent.

TABLE A.—POPULATION AT EACH CENSUS SINCE 1801.

The male population of the entire County numbers 19,760, and has decreased by 319, or 1·6 per cent. Of it 5416, or 27·4 per cent., was enumerated within the City of Aberdeen, and 14,344, or 72·6 per cent., outwith that City. The former has increased by 940, or 21·0 per cent., during the intercensal period, but the latter has decreased by 1259, or 8·1 per cent. The female population of the entire County numbers 21,248, and has increased during the intercensal period by 404, or 1·9 per cent.; of it 6012, or 28·3 per cent., was enumerated within the City, and 15,236, or 71·7 per cent., outwith the City; the former number is 1102, or 22·4 per cent., more than in 1901, but the latter number is 698, or 4·4 per cent., less.

Distribution of Population within the County.—Of the population of the County, exclusive of that within the City of Aberdeen, 8510, or 28·8 per cent., were enumerated within burghs, and 21,070, or 71·2 per cent., in the extraburghal portions of the County. The former figure shows a decrease of 261, or 3·0 per cent., and the latter of 1696, or 7·4 per cent.

The extraburghal portion of the County is divided into five Public Health Districts, and the population of each is now smaller than in 1901. The population of St Cyrus Public Health District is 4761, which is 275, or 5·5 per cent., less than in 1901; that of Laurencekirk (extraburghal) Public Health District is 4668, and is 239, or 4·9 per cent., less than in 1901; that of Stonehaven (extraburghal) Public Health District is 4564, which is 570, or 11·1 per cent., less than in 1901; that of Lower Deeside District is 3934, which is 271, or 6·4 per cent., less than in 1901; and that of Upper Deeside District is 3143, which is 341, or 9·8 per cent., less than in that year.

Populations of Burghs.—Exclusive of the City of Aberdeen there are four burghs in the County. Stonehaven is the most populous, and has a population numbering 4266, which is 311, or 6·8 per cent., less than in 1901. The other three are small; Banchory has a population of 1633, Laurencekirk one of 1438, and Inverbervie one of 1173; compared with the 1901 figures, the population of Banchory is 158, or 10·7 per cent., more, but that of Laurencekirk is 74, or 4·9 per cent., less, and of Inverbervie 34, or 2·8 per cent., less.

Populations of Parishes.—Exclusive of the portion of the Parish of Aberdeen which is in the County, there are 19 parishes, varying in size from Fetteresso, 4961; Banchory-Ternan, 3377; and Bervie, 2391; to Garvock, 371; Strachan, 527; and Arbuthnot, 674. Of these, 2 only have increased in population during the intercensal period, while 17 have decreased. The increases are both small, and are in the parishes of Nigg and Garvock; the former amounts to 45, and the latter to 3. The largest decreases are found in Fetteresso, 448, or 8·3 per cent.; in Dunnottar, 278, or 11·0 per cent.; and in Banchory-Devenick, 226, or 13·1 per cent.

Of the 19 parishes, 5 have been subject to alterations of boundaries. Of the other 14, all have now a population smaller than at the date of some previous Census, and of 9 of these the population is now more than 20 per cent. less than the maximum. The population of Strachan since 1831 has decreased by 512, or 49·3 per cent.; of Glenbervie since 1841 by 517, or 39·9 per cent.; of Arbuthnot since 1841 by 341, or 33·6 per cent.; of Fordoun since 1851 by 669, or 28·0 per cent.; of St Cyrus since 1811 by 442, or 26·6 per cent.; of Garvoek since 1811 by 114, or 23·5 per cent.; of Benholm since 1851 by 365, or 22·2 per cent.; of Durriss since 1861 by 237, or 21·4 per cent.; and of Kinneff and Catterline since 1851 by 234, or 21·9 per cent. Of these 14 parishes, only 2 have had their maximum population later than 1871, while 10 had it in 1851 or earlier.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—By far the largest portion of the population of the entire County,—97·1 per cent.,—is in the Constituency of Kincardineshire, but portions are also in the constituencies of Montrose Burghs and of West Aberdeenshire.

The County population within the Kincardineshire Constituency numbers 39,832, of which 11,428 is within the City of Aberdeen, and 28,404 is outwith that City. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, the total is 118, or 0·3 per cent., more, and the City portion is 2042, or 21·8 per cent., more, but the portion outwith the City is 1924, or 6·3 per cent., less. A portion of this constituency is outwith this County, a small part of it, with a population of 150, being in Aberdeenshire.

The County population belonging to West Aberdeenshire Constituency numbers only 3, and is the population of a portion of Maryculter Parish which previous to the alterations of the County boundaries by Order of the Boundary Commissioners was in Aberdeenshire, the Order not extending to Parliamentary purposes.

The County population in the Montrose Burghs Constituency consists of the population of Inverbervie, and amounts to 1173. It is 34, or 2·8 per cent., less than in 1901.

Age and Sex Distribution.—The decrease in the male population in the County, exclusive of the City of Aberdeen, viz., 1259, or 8·1 per cent., is greater than that of the female population, viz., 698, or 4·4 per cent., and the ratio of females to males has increased accordingly. In 1901 it was 102·1 to 100, it is now 106·2 to 100.

Of the male population 10,819, or 75·4 per cent., are of less than 45 years of age, and 3525, or 24·6 per cent., are over that age. The former is 1366, or 11·2 per cent., less than in 1901, but the latter is 107, or 3·1 per cent., more than in that year. Of the female population 11,126, or 73·0 per cent., are under 45 years of age, and 4110, or 27·0 per cent., over that age; the former is 804, or 6·7 per cent., less than in 1901, but the latter is 106, or 2·6 per cent., more. Thus, in both sexes, there has been a marked decrease among those of younger ages, and an increase among those of older ages.

The male age-groups which show the largest decreases are 10 to 14, 290, or 15·0 per cent.; 0 to 4, 258, or 13·7 per cent.; and 5 to 9, 208, or 11·3 per cent.; and those showing the largest increases are 55 to 59, 82, or 16·1 per cent.; 35 to 39, 57, or 7·2 per cent.; and 70 to 74, 50, or 15·9 per cent. The female age-groups showing the largest decreases are 0 to 4, 247, or 13·6 per cent.; 20 to 24, 217, or 16·6 per cent.; and 15 to 19, 156, or 10·6 per cent.; and those showing the largest increases are 40 to 44, 88, or 11·0 per cent.; and 65 to 69, 85, or 19·1 per cent.

Occupations.—The total number of males of 10 years of age and upwards in the County, exclusive of the Aberdeen City portion, returned as having some remunerative occupation is 8768, and that of such occupied females is 3235; the former figure is 815 less, and the latter 189 less than the corresponding number in 1901.

Occupied males of less than 15 number 173, and are 116, or 40·1 per cent. less than in 1901. Of these 4 are under 14 years of age,—in 1901 there were 45 of that age; those of more than 15 but less than 20 number 1440, and are 226, or 13·6 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 1048, and are 144, or 12·1 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 3128, and are 298, or 8·7 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 2302, and are 26, or 1·1 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of 65 and over number 677, and are 57, or 7·8 per cent., less than in that year. Thus in each of these age-groups, with the exception of that of over 45 but under 65, there is a marked decrease in the number of occupied males, and in the one exception the increase is small.

Of the occupied females, 99 are less than 15 years old, a number which is 40, or 28·8 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these only 1 is less than 14, while in 1901 there were 22 under that age. Occupied females of more than 15 but less than 20 number 784, and are 124, or 13·7 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 623, and are 71, or 10·2 per cent., less than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 1030, and are 69, or 7·2 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 532, and are 8, or 1·5 per cent., less than in 1901; and those of 65 and over number 165, and are 17, or 9·3 per cent. less than in that year. Thus among occupied females, as among occupied males, there is only one age-group showing an increase, while the remaining age-groups all show decreases.

Of occupied males, the largest number, 4160, or 47·4 per cent., have occupations connected with agriculture,—a number which is 235, or 5·3 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these, 1013 were returned as Farmers or Crofters; 334, as Sons or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts; and 2117 as Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Farmers and Crofters are 34, or 3·2 per cent., less, and Agricultural Labourers are 359, or 14·5 per cent., less; but Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts are 52, or 18·4 per cent., more.

Males with occupations connected with the building trades number 404, which is 168, or 29·4 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these, 106 were returned as Builders, or Masons, or Bricklayers, or as their Labourers, which is 67, or 38·7 per cent., less than in 1901; 162, as Carpenters or their Labourers, which is 95, or 37·0 per cent., less; and 46 as Painters, which is 13, or 39·4 per cent., more.

Other occupations in which considerable numbers of males were returned, are Fishermen, 577, which is 359 less than in 1901; Domestic Outdoor Servants, 359, which is 49 more than in 1901; Carters, 151, which is 24 less than in 1901; and Workers in Linen Manufacture, 115, which is 8 more than in that year.

Of the occupied females the largest number are Domestic Indoor Servants. They number 1366, and constitute 42·2 per cent., of the total; they are 36, or 2·7 per cent., more than in 1901.

Females in agricultural occupations number 306, and are 242, or 44·2 per cent., less than in 1901. Included among them are 96 Farmers or Crofters, 102 Daughters or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 105 Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, female Farmers and Crofters are 13, or 11·9 per cent., less; and Daughters and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts are 271, or 72·7 per cent., less, but the Agricultural Labourers are 42, or 66·7 per cent., more.

Other occupations to which considerable numbers of females were returned are, Dressmakers, 210, which is 74 less than in 1901; Workers in Linen Manufacture, 271, which is 29 less than 1901; Workers in Hemp and Jute, 191, which is 141, or 282·0 per cent., more than in 1901; and Teachers, 115, which is 16, or 12·2 per cent., less than in that year.

Industries.—The industries of the County (exclusive of the City portion) defined as the occupations of the employers, are collected in Table XXIV. There are only two of them that give employment to more than a thousand persons, the one being Agriculture, and the other Domestic and Institution Service. To the former 4183 occupied males, and 305 occupied females are returned, and to the latter 422 occupied males, and 1484 occupied females. Other industries in which there are considerable numbers of occupied males are Fishing, 617; Preparation and Sale of Food, 443; and House Building and Decorating, 402; and other industries in which there are considerable numbers of occupied females are Linen Industry, 273; Tailoring and Dress-making, 229; and Hemp, Jute, Rope, and Mat Industry, 191. In the previous Census Reports industries were not separately tabulated, and consequently there are no previous figures with which to compare these.

Birthplaces.—Of the population of the County, exclusive of that within the City of Aberdeen, 18,505, or 62·6 per cent., were born within the County, 10,301, or 34·8 per cent., in other Scottish Counties, and 774, or 2·6 per cent., elsewhere. The last named include 528 of English birth, 81 of Irish birth, and 34 foreigners. The total of Scottish birth amounts to 28,806, or 97·4 per cent., of the entire population. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those born within the County are 2318, or 11·1 per cent., less, but those born in other Scottish Counties are 216, or 2·1 per cent., more, and those born elsewhere are 145, or 23·1 per cent., more. Those of English birth are 109, or 26·0 per cent., more than in that year, and those of Irish birth are 7, or 9·5 per cent., more.

Housing.—The total houses enumerated in the County, exclusive of those enumerated in the part within the City of Aberdeen, numbered 7553,—6923, or 91·7 per cent., of them being inhabited,—609, or 8·0 per cent., uninhabited,—and 21, or 0·3 per cent., in course of erection. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, inhabited houses are 60, or 0·9 per cent., more; uninhabited houses are 37, or 5·7 per cent., less; and houses in course of erection are 7, or 25·0 per cent., less.

Of the inhabited houses, 433, or 6·3 per cent., are one-roomed; 1836, or 26·5 per cent., two-roomed; 1553, or 22·4 per cent., three-roomed; 803, or 11·6 per cent., four-roomed; 725, or 10·5 per cent., five-roomed; 534, or 7·7 per cent., six-roomed; and 1039, or 15·0 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the population of the County, outwith the City of Aberdeen, and excluding those enumerated in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons, 914, or 3·2 per cent., were enumerated in one-roomed houses; 6682, or 23·1 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 6751, or 23·3 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 3527, or 12·2 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 3358, or 11·6 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 2565, or 8·9 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 5181, or 17·7 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population dealt with in the preceding paragraph, 22,374, or 77·2 per cent., were living not more than two in a room; 26,825, or 92·6 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 28,456, or 98·2 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 6604, or 22·8 per cent., were living more than two in a room; 2153, or 7·4 per cent., more than three in a room; and 522, or 1·8 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those living more than two in a room are 2496, or 27·4 per cent., less; those living more than three in a room, 1377, or 39·0 per cent., less; and those living more than four in a room, 636, or 54·9 per cent., less.

Gaelic Speaking.—The number of persons able to speak Gaelic in the portion of the County which is outwith the City of Aberdeen is small, only amounting to 78, but, small though it be, it is more than the corresponding figure of 1901. All these 78 persons were described in the householders' schedules as able to speak both English and Gaelic, and of them 76 were of Scottish birth, 1 was of Irish birth, and 1 was born of British parents in a foreign country.

* The asterisk denotes a change of Parish or County boundaries during the intercensal period.
The boundaries of the County were altered in 1891 by the transfer, by Order of the Boundary Commissioners, (1) of the portion of the Parish of Banchory-Ternan in the County of Aberdeen to this County; (2) of the portion of the Parish of Drumoak in this County to the County of Aberdeen; and (3) of a portion of the Parish of Peterculter in the County of Aberdeen to the Parish of Maryculter in this County.
† The portion of the Parish of Edzell in this County was in 1891 transferred to the Parish of Fettercairn by Order of the Boundary Commissioners.
‡ The portion of the Parish of Nigg within the City and Royal Burgh of Aberdeen was in 1895 disjoined from that Parish, and embraced in the new City Parish of Aberdeen which was erected at that date.

TABLE XVII.—County of KINCARDINE.—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs, so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The first Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkcudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |
| 5. Aberdeen (County). | 15. Edinburgh (County). | 24. Lanark. | 33. Selkirk. |
| 6. Argyll. | 16. Elgin. | 25. Linlithgow. | 34. Shetland. |
| 7. Ayr. | 17. Fife. | 26. Nairn. | 35. Stirling. |
| 8. Banff. | 18. Forfar. | 27. Orkney. | 36. Sutherland. |
| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birthplaces of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads: "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 22.

THE COUNTY OF KINROSS.

IN Kinross, the least populous county in Scotland, males enumerated on Census Day numbered 3617, and females 3910,—the total population amounting to 7527. Males are 275, or 8·2 per cent., more than in 1901, and females are 271, or 7·4 per cent., more, and the total increase of the population amounts to 546, or 7·8 per cent.

1881	6,697	3,112	3,585	- 501	- 278	- 223	- 7·0	- 8·2	- 5·9
1891	6,280	2,964	3,316	- 417	- 148	- 269	- 6·2	- 4·8	- 7·5
1901	6,981	3,342	3,639	+ 701	+ 378	+ 323	+ 11·2	+ 12·8	+ 9·7
1911	7,527	3,617	3,910	+ 546	+ 275	+ 271	+ 7·8	+ 8·2	+ 7·4

In 1801 the County had a population of 6725, and by the censuses of 1811, 1821, and 1831, increases were found. In the last-named year the population amounted to 9072, which is the largest census population yet found in the County. The censuses of 1841 to 1891 all showed decreases, with the exception of that of 1851, and in 1891 the population had fallen to 6280, which is 445, or 6·6 per cent., less than in 1801, and 2792, or 30·8 per cent., less than in 1831. The census of 1901 showed an apparent increase of 701, but a considerable part of that was due to alterations of the County boundary, by Orders of the Boundary Commissioners, and, if these be allowed for, the net increase was only 300, or 4·8 per cent. Similarly, if the present population be adjusted to allow for those boundary alterations, it is greater than those found in 1801, 1881, 1891, and 1901, but less than those of the intermediate censuses, from 1811 to 1871. It is 383, or 5·7 per cent., greater than that of 1801, but it is 1964, or 21·6 per cent., less than that of 1831. The largest intercensal increase of the population of this County was that ascertained in 1831, which was 1310, or 17·0 per cent., and the largest intercensal decrease was that found in 1861, which was 947, or 10·6 per cent.

TABLE B.—CENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e. on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e. above. Thus the figure, +528, in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount greater than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, -918, in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1871.

In calculating differences referring to the Censuses of 1901 and 1911, the populations of the County at these Censuses have been adjusted to allow for the alterations made on the boundaries of the County in 1891 by Orders of the Boundary Commissioners.

Distribution of Population within the County.—The County contains only one burgh, Kinross, and the extraburghal portion is not divided for public health purposes into districts. The population of the Burgh of Kinross numbers 2618, and constitutes 34·8 per cent. of the total. That of the extraburghal portion numbers 4909, and constitutes 65·2 per cent. of the total. In 1901 the burghal population numbered 2136, and the extraburghal, 4845, but these figures are not strictly comparable with the present, as during the intercensal period there was an alteration of the burgh boundaries, and an area, which in 1901 had a population of 41, was transferred from the extraburghal to the burghal portion of the County. If the present burghal and extraburghal populations be compared with the 1901 populations within and outwith the present burgh boundaries, the former is found to have increased by 441, or 20·3 per cent., and the latter by 105, or 2·2 per cent.

Parish Populations.—There are five parishes in the County, of which four are found to have increased populations during the intercensal period, and one to have its population diminished. The largest of these parishes is Kinross, the parish which contains the Burgh of Kinross; in 1901 it had a population of 2655, and as the population is now 3094, there has been an intercensal increase of 439, or 16·5 per cent. The parish with the second largest population is Orwell; its population numbers 1983, and is 161, or 8·8 per cent., more than in 1901. The population of Fossoway is 1059, and of Portmoak, 845,—the former being 13, and the latter 18, more than in that year. The parish in which there has been a decrease of population is Cleish; in 1901 it numbered 631, it now numbers 546, and thus the decrease amounts to 85, or 13·5 per cent.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—The electors of the County vote in two constituencies, all but a small minority in the constituency of Clackmannan and Kinross, and the minority in that of West Fife. The latter consists of a portion of the Parish of Cleish with a population of 8. The former consists of the rest of the County, and has a population of 7519, which is 546, or 7·8 per cent., more than in 1901.

Age and Sex Distribution of Population.—As the increases of the male and the female populations have been nearly equal,—275 and 271 respectively,—the ratio of females to males remains nearly the same as in 1901. It is now 108·9 females to 100 males, in 1901 it was 108·1 to 100.

By comparing the numbers of males in quinquennial age-groups with the corresponding figures of 1901 it is found that the increase of population has been fairly evenly distributed, for, in 13 out of the 17 age-groups of less than 85, increases are found, there being decreases in only 4. The age-groups showing the largest increases are 10 to 14, 61, or 18·3 per cent.; 25 to 29, 61, or 28·0 per cent.; and 40 to 44, 59, or 37·1 per cent.; and those showing decreases are 35 to 39, 33, or 14·7 per cent.; 5 to 9, 14, or 3·7 per cent.; and 0 to 4, 11, or 2·8 per cent. The changes in the numbers in the female age-groups are found to be very similar, for in the 17 of them which are under 85 years of age, 13 show increases and 4 decreases. The largest female increases are in age-groups 45 to 49, 64, or 38·8 per cent.; 15 to 19, 58, or 19·3 per cent.; and 40 to 44, 51, or 27·1 per cent. The female age-groups showing decreases are 0 to 4, 36, or 8·8 per cent.; 10 to 14, 14, or 3·9 per cent.; 55 to 59, 3, or 2·1 per cent.; and 60 to 64, 7, or 4·6 per cent.

Occupations.—Of the male population of 10 years of age and upwards, 2323, or 81·2 per cent., were returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population of these ages, 792, or 25·2 per cent., were so returned. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, occupied males are 220, or 10·5 per cent., more, but occupied females are 48, or 5·7 per cent., less.

Occupied males of more than 10 but less than 15 years of age number 50,—the same number as in 1901. Of these 3 were less than 14, while in 1901 there were 11 under that age; those of more than 15 but less than 20 number 354, and are 26, or 7·9 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 266, and are 15, or 6·0 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 932, and are 99, or 11·9 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 574, and are 94, or 19·6 per cent., more than in 1901; and those of more than 65 number 147, and are 14, or 8·7 per cent., less than in that year.

Of the occupied females, 31 were aged more than 10 but less than 15, which is 10 less than in 1901. None of these were of less than 14 years of age, in 1901 there were 13 under that age. Occupied females of more than 15 but less than 20 number 252, and are 22, or 9·6 per cent., more than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 171, the same number as in 1901. Those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 177, and are 54, or 23·4 per cent., less than in 1901. Those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 127, and are 3 less than in 1901; and those of more than 65 number 34, and are 3 less than in that year.

Of the occupied males, 748 were returned as being in one or other of the agricultural occupations, a number which is 38 more than in 1901. Among these, there were 188 Farmers and Crofters, 62 Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts, and 338 Agricultural Labourers; the Farmers and Crofters are 20 more than in 1901, and the Sons and Other Relatives are 5 more, but the Agricultural Labourers are 31 less than in that year.

Miners enumerated in the County number 313, which is 127 more than in 1901; of these 116 were returned as Hewers, 132 as Other Workers below ground, and 65 as Workers above ground.

Occupied males in the building trades number 180, and are 44 fewer than in 1901. Of these, 45 were returned as Builders, or Masons, or Bricklayers, or as their Labourers, which is 46 less than in 1901, and 73 as Carpenters or Joiners or as their Labourers, which is 9 less than in that year.

Other occupations to which considerable numbers were returned are Railway Servants, 131; Domestic Outdoor Servants, 100; and Carters, 54. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Outdoor Domestic Servants are 52 more; Railway Servants, 31 more; and Carters, 14 more.

Of the occupied females, 256 were returned as Indoor Domestic Servants, and 84 as in one or other of the agricultural occupations. The former number is 25 less than that of 1901, and the latter 16 less. Of those in the agricultural occupations, 8 were returned as Farmers or Crofters, 28 as the Daughters or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 46 as Agricultural Labourers.

Industries.—The industries of the County, defined as the occupations of the employers, to which the largest numbers of males are returned, are Agriculture, 756; Coal Industry, 364; House Building and Decorating, 174; and the Preparation and Sale of Food, 135; and those to which the largest number of females are returned are Domestic and Institution Service, 288; Agriculture, 84; and Wool Industry, 80. As industries were not separately tabulated in previous census reports, there are no figures with which to compare these.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population of the County, 3253, or 43·2 per cent., were born within the County, 4067, or 54·0 per cent., in other Scottish counties, and 207, or 2·8 per cent., elsewhere, the last including 114 of English birth, 43 of Irish birth, and 12 foreigners. The total number of Scottish birth amounts to 7320, or 97·2 per cent. of the entire population. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those born within the County are 12, or 0·4 per cent., less, those born in other Scottish counties are 511, or 14·4 per cent., more, and those born outwith Scotland are 47, or 29·4 per cent., more.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County was 2105, of which 1848, or 87·8 per cent., were inhabited, 244, or 11·6 per cent., uninhabited, and 13, or 0·6 per cent., in course of erection. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, inhabited houses are 97, or 5·5 per cent., more, and uninhabited houses, 72, or 41·9 per cent., more, but houses in course of erection are 7, or 35·0 per cent., less.

Of the inhabited houses, 137, or 7·4 per cent., are one-roomed; 560, or 30·3 per cent., two-roomed; 393, or 21·3 per cent., three-roomed; 260, or 14·1 per cent., four-roomed; 142, or 7·7 per cent., five-roomed; 115, or 6·2 per cent., six-roomed; and 241, or 13·0 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the population of the County, exclusive of those enumerated in houses of more than 24 rooms or in households of more than 19 persons (Vide note to Table XXVII.) 254, or 3·4 per cent., were in one-roomed houses; 2093, or 28·5 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 1681, or 22·9 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 1084, or 14·8 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 636, or 8·7 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 520, or 7·1 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 1071, or 14·6 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of those persons dealt with in the preceding paragraph, 5282, or 72·0 per cent., were living not more than two in a room; 6648, or 90·6 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 7072, or 96·4 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 2056, or 28·0 per cent., were living more than two in a room; 690, or 9·4 per cent., more than three in a room; and 266, or 3·6 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those living more than two in a room are 125, or 6·5 per cent., more; those living more than three in a room, 117, or 14·5 per cent., less; and those living more than four in a room, 9, or 3·5 per cent., more.

Gaelic Speaking.—The number of persons in the County returned as able to speak Gaelic is 43, of whom 17 are males and 26 females. In 1901 the number was 55, and thus the Gaelic speakers of the County are 12 fewer than in that year. The majority of these 43 persons were born in the Counties of Perth and Argyll, 16 having birthplaces in the former, and 12 in the latter County. All these persons were returned as speaking both Gaelic and English, and there were none in the County returned as speaking Gaelic only.

TABLE XVII.—County of KINROSS—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The County of Kinross, however, is not so divided. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

PRINTED BY HUGH PATON & SONS, 5 ST JAMES SQUARE, EDINBURGH.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The First Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts:—

- | | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume:—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birth-places of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |

| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses, while the 1901 Table was based on the number of "Families." In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County, and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads "The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require."

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 23.

THE COUNTY OF KIRKCUDBRIGHT.

The population of the County of Kirkcudbright in 1801, the year of the first Census of Scotland, was 29,211, and, up to 1851, by each successive Census, it was found to be an increasing quantity, attaining a maximum of 43,121 in that year. Since that year, it has been decreasing, and it is now found to amount to 38,367, which though 9156, or 31·3 per cent., more than in 1801, is 4754, or 11·0 per cent., less than in 1851. The only Census since 1851 by which an intercensal increase was found was that of 1881, and that increase was small, amounting to only 268, or 0·6 per cent. The largest intercensal increases were those ascertained in 1821 and 1811, which were 5219, or 15·5 per cent., and 4473, or 15·3 per cent. respectively, and the largest intercensal decreases were those ascertained by the Census of 1891 and by this Census, the former being 2142, or 5·1 per cent., and the latter 1016, or 2·6 per cent. The present population is 536 less than that of 1821, more than 2000 less than those of 1831 and 1841, more than 3000 less than those of 1871 and 1881, and more than 4000 less than those of 1851 and 1861.

The male population of the County now numbers 18,069, and is 684, or 3·6 per cent., less than in 1901, and the female population now numbers 20,298, and is 332, or 1·6 per cent., less than in that year. Both the male and the female populations attained a maximum in 1851, and, since that year, the former has decreased by 2154, or 10·7 per cent., and the latter by 2600, or 11·4 per cent.

TABLE B.—CENSAL CHANGES OF POPULATION OF COUNTY SINCE 1801.

The figures in the spaces show the differences between the population enumerated in the Censuses named in the first column, i.e., on the left, and those named in the top row, i.e., above. Thus the figure, -1016, in the second row of the second column indicates that the population enumerated in 1911 is by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1901, and the figure, -1874, in the fourth row of the fifth column indicates that the population enumerated in 1891 was by that amount less than the population enumerated in 1871.

No alterations on the boundaries of this County having been made by the Boundary Commissioners, no adjustments of the populations of 1901 and 1911 was required in calculating the differences in this Table.

Distribution of Population within the County.—In the County there are six burghal and four extraburghal Public Health Districts. The total burghal population amounts to 16,162, and is 104, or 0·6 per cent., more than in 1901, and the total extraburghal population is 22,205, and is 1120, or 4·8 per cent., less than in that year.

All the four extraburghal Public Health Districts have now a smaller population than in 1901. The population of the Southern District is 8257; of the Eastern, 7553; of the Western, 3581; and of the Northern, 2814. The intercensal decrease in the Southern District is 106; in the Eastern, 468; in the Western, 434; and in the Northern, 112. The intercensal rate of decrease in the Western District is 10·8 per cent.; in the Eastern, 5·9; in the Northern, 3·8; and in the Southern, 1·3.

Population of Burghs.—The largest of the six burghs in the County is Maxwelltown. Its population is found to number 6200, and to be 404, or 7·0 per cent., more than in 1901. The only other burgh in which there has been any increase is Gatehouse; it now has a population of 1032, which is 19, or 1·9 per cent., more than in 1901. The population of Dalbeattie is 3357; of Castle-Douglas, 3016; of Kirkcudbright, 2205; and of New Galloway, 352. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, the population of Kirkcudbright is 181, or 7·6 per cent., less; of Dalbeattie, 112, or 3·2 per cent., less; of New Galloway, 24, or 6·4 per cent., less; and of Castle-Douglas, 2, or 0·1 per cent., less.

Population of Parishes.—There are 28 parishes in the County. Of these 7 are found to have increased in population during the intercensal period, and 21 to have decreased. The largest of these parishes are Troqueer, which contains the larger part of the Burgh of Maxwelltown, Urr, which contains the entire Burgh of Dalbeattie, and Kelton, which contains the larger part of the Burgh of Castle-Douglas. The population of Troqueer is 7050; of Urr, 4536; and of Kelton, 3746. The least populous parishes in the County are Carsphairn, 360; Terregles, 439; and Lochrutton, 484. The parishes in which the largest intercensal increases of population have occurred are Troqueer, 451, or 6·8 per cent.; Tongland, 58, or 8·4 per cent.; and Twynholm, 40, or 5·6 per cent.; and those in which the largest decreases have occurred are Kirkmabreck, 310, or 16·7 per cent.; New Abbey, 215, or 22·5 per cent.; and Urr, 200, or 4·2 per cent.

Of the 28 parishes in the County, only 2 have now their maximum population, Kelton and Troqueer, and only 2 others, Rerrick and Urr have had their maximum populations at any date since 1861. Four parishes, Girthon, New Abbey, Parton, and Terregles, had their maximum populations in 1821; that of Girthon has since then decreased by 721, or 38·0 per cent.; of New Abbey, by 370, or 33·3 per cent.; of Parton, by 252, or 29·8 per cent.; and of Terregles, by 212, or 32·6 per cent. Three parishes, Balmaghie, Dalry, and Twynholm, had their maximum populations in 1831, since which date Balmaghie has lost 646, or 45·6 per cent., Dalry, 439, or 35·2 per cent., and Twynholm, 113, or 13·0 per cent. Two parishes, Colvend and Kirkpatrick-Irongray had their maximum populations in 1841; since that date Colvend has lost 352, or 23·5 per cent., and Kirkpatrick-Irongray 333, or 35·9 per cent. Ten parishes, Anwoth, Balmaclellan, Carsphairn, Kirkbean, Kirkcudbright, Kirkmabreck, Kirkpatrick-Durham, Lochrutton, Minnigaff, and Tongland, had their maximum populations in 1851, since which date the loss of population in Minnigaff is 852, or 41·5 per cent.; in Kirkmabreck, 717, or 31·6 per cent.; in Kirkpatrick-Durham, 594, or 39·4 per cent.; in Balmaclellan, 586, or 51·2 per cent.; in Carsphairn, 495, or 57·9 per cent.; in Kirkcudbright, 439, or 12·3 per cent.; in Kirkbean, 271, or 27·6 per cent.; in Lochrutton, 242, or 33·3 per cent.; in Anwoth, 212, or 23·6 per cent.; and in Tongland, 173, or 18·7 per cent. In 1861 5 parishes, Borgue, Buittle, Crossmichael, Kells, and Kirkgunzeon, had their maximum populations, since which year Buittle has lost 340, or 29·2 per cent.; Crossmichael, 340, or 22·1 per cent.; Kells, 323, or 27·6 per cent.; Kirkgunzeon, 296, or 37·3 per cent.; and Borgue, 139, or 12·0 per cent.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—The population of Kirkcubright is in two Parliamentary Constituencies. The larger portion, 30,407, or 79·3 per cent., is in that of Kirkcubrightshire, and the smaller portion, 7960, or 20·7 per cent., in that of the Dumfries Burghs. The former shows a decennial decrease of 1144, or 3·6 per cent., but the latter, which consists of the population of the Burgh of Kirkcubright, and of part of that of Maxwelltown, shows a decennial increase of 128, or 1·6 per cent.

Age and Sex Distribution.—The intercensal decrease of the male population has been greater than that of the female population, and consequently the ratio of females to males has increased; in 1901 it was 110·0 to 100, and it is now 112·3 to 100.

Of the male population, 13,636, or 75·5 per cent., are under 45 years of age, and 4433, or 24·5 per cent., are over that age. In 1901 the males under 45 years of age numbered 14,610, or 77·9 per cent., of the total male population, and those over 45 numbered 4143, or 22·1 per cent., of the total, and thus while there has been an intercensal decrease of population in the younger ages, there has been an intercensal increase in the older ages. Decreased numbers are found in all male age-groups of under 30, the largest decrease—311, or 13·7 per cent.—being that of age-group 10 to 14, while large decreases are also found in age-groups 5 to 9, and 0 to 4, the decreases amounting to 254, or 11·7 per cent., and 223, or 10·7 per cent., respectively. The total loss of male population under 30 amounts to 1057, or 9·3 per cent. Most of the age-groups over 30 show increases, the largest being in age-group 50 to 54, 189, or 25·7 per cent., and in age-group 60 to 64, 76, or 11·8 per cent.

Of the female population, 14,769, or 72·8 per cent., are under 45 years of age, and 5529, or 27·2 per cent., are over that age. In 1901, females of under 45 numbered 15,440, and constituted 74·8 per cent. of the total, and those of over 45 numbered 5190, and constituted 25·2 per cent. Thus in the female population, as in the male, there is a decrease among those of younger ages, but an increase among those of older ages, the former amounting to 671, or 4·3 per cent., and the latter to 339, or 6·5 per cent. As is found to be the case among the male age-groups, all female age-groups of under 30 show intercensal decreases, while most of those of over 30 show increases. The largest decreases are in age-groups 0 to 4, 197, or 9·8 per cent.; 5 to 9, 176, or 8·5 per cent.; and 15 to 19, 157, or 7·8 per cent.; and the largest increases are in age-groups 55 to 59, 110, or 13·8 per cent.; and 50 to 54, 106, or 11·2 per cent.

Occupations.—Males of 10 years of age and over returned as having some remunerative occupation number 11,534, and are 175, or 1·5 per cent., less than in 1901, and females of those ages returned as having remunerative occupations number 4651, and are 384, or 7·6 per cent., less than in that year.

Of the occupied males, 176 are of more than 10, but less than 15 years of age, and are 112, or 38·9 per cent., less than in 1901, in which year those of less than 14 numbered 32, while they now number only 3. Those of more than 15 but less than 20 number 1749, and are 199 fewer than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 1369, and are 99 fewer than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 4471, and are 30 more than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 3012, and are 187 more than in 1901; and those of more than 65 number 757, and are 18 more than in that year.

Occupied females of over 10 but less than 15 number 103, which is 49 less than in 1901. Of these 3 are less than 14,—in 1901 there were 33 such. Occupied females of more than 15 but less than 20 number 1102, which is 242 less than in 1901; those of more than 20 but less than 25 number 970, which is 73 less than in 1901; those of more than 25 but less than 45 number 1508, which is 54 less than in 1901; those of more than 45 but less than 65 number 761, which is 15 more than in 1901; and those of more than 65 number 207, which is 19 more than in that year.

The group of occupations to which the largest numbers of males are returned is that connected with agriculture,—4356, or 37·8 per cent., of the total occupied being included in it,—a number which is 195, or 4·7 per cent., more than the corresponding figure of 1901. Of the occupied males so returned, 894 were described as Farmers, 309 as Sons or other Relatives assisting on Farms, and 2151 as Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Farmers are 4 more, and Agricultural Labourers 122 more, but the Sons and other Relatives assisting on Farms are 36 fewer.

Males with occupations connected with the building trades number 875, which is 118, or 11·7 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these 263 are Builders or Masons or Bricklayers or their Labourers, 354 Carpenters or Joiners or their Labourers, and 125 Painters; compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Masons, &c., are 95 less, and Carpenters and Joiners are 32 less, but Painters are 16 more.

Other occupations to which comparatively large numbers were returned are Outdoor Domestic Servants, 732; Stone Quarriers, including Stone Dressers and Cutters, 420; and Carters, 266. Outdoor Domestic Servants number 83 more than in 1901, but Stone Quarriers, &c., number 375 less, and Carters 35 less than in that year.

The occupation which includes the largest number of occupied females in the County is that of Indoor Domestic Service, to which 1959, or 42·1 per cent., of the total are returned, a number which is 250, or 11·3 per cent., less than that of 1901. Females in agricultural occupations number 500, which is 293, or 36·9 per cent., less than in 1901; of these 92 were returned as Farmers, 101 as Daughters or other Relatives assisting on the Farms, and 297 as Agricultural Labourers; female Farmers are 6 less than in 1901, Daughters or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms are 254 less, and Agricultural Labourers are 40 less than in that year. Other occupations which include considerable numbers of females are Dressmakers, 372; Glove Makers, 297; Teachers, 175; and Hosiery Workers, 114. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Glove Makers are 253 more, Hosiery Workers are 46 more, and Teachers 19 more, but Dressmakers, 141 less.

Industries.—The industries, defined as the occupations of the employers, which give most employment to males, and the number returned as belonging to them, are Agriculture, 4369; House Building and Decorating, 868; Domestic and Institution Service, 832; Preparation and Sale of Food, 763; and Quarrying, 474; and those giving most employment to females are Domestic and Institution Service, 2118; Agriculture, 501; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 395; Wool Industry, 257; and Thread, Hosiery, and Other Textile Industries, 213. Industries as distinct from occupations were not separately studied in previous Census reports, and consequently there are no previous figures with which to compare them.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population of the County, 24,116, or 62·9 per cent., were born within the County, 11,696, or 30·5 per cent., in other Scottish Counties, and 2555, or 6·6 per cent., outwith Scotland, the last number including 1839 of English birth, 342 of Irish birth, and 85 Foreigners. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those born within the County are 1779, or 6·9 per cent., less, but those born in other Scottish Counties are 622, or 5·6 per cent., more, and those born outwith Scotland are 141, or 5·8 per cent., more. Those of English birth number 171 more than in that year, but those of Irish birth number 67 less. Foreigners in the County in 1901 numbered 33, and since then they have increased by 52.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County was 9612,—8911, or 92·7 per cent., being inhabited, 671, or 7·0 per cent., uninhabited, and 30, or 0·3 per cent., in course of erection. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, inhabited houses are 335, or 3·9 per cent., more, uninhabited houses 93, or 12·2 per cent., less, and houses in course of erection 4, or 11·8 per cent., less.

Of the inhabited houses, 320, or 3·6 per cent., are one-roomed; 1854, or 20·8 per cent., two-roomed; 1871, or 21·0 per cent., three-roomed; 1375, or 15·4 per cent., four-roomed; 913, or 10·3 per cent., five-roomed; 793, or 8·9 per cent., six-roomed; and 1785, or 20·0 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Of the total population, exclusive of those enumerated in houses of more than 24 rooms, or in households of more than 19 persons (vide note to Table XXVII), 669, or 1·8 per cent., were in one-roomed houses; 6586, or 17·5 per cent., in two-roomed houses; 8038, or 21·3 per cent., in three-roomed houses; 5947, or 15·8 per cent., in four-roomed houses; 4085, or 10·8 per cent., in five-roomed houses; 3492, or 9·2 per cent., in six-roomed houses; and 8888, or 23·6 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

Of the population dealt with in the preceding paragraph, 30,657, or 81·3 per cent., are living not more than two in a room; 35,834, or 95·0 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 37,224, or 98·7 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 7048, or 18·7 per cent., are living more than two in a room; 1871, or 5·0 per cent., more than three in a room; and 481, or 1·3 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those living more than two in a room are 1160 less; those living more than three in a room, 599 less; and those living more than four in a room, 162 less.

Gaelic Speaking.—There were no persons in the County returned as able to speak Gaelic but not English, and 119 as able to speak both Gaelic and English. In 1901 there were also none returned as speaking Gaelic only, and the number returned as speaking both Gaelic and English was 98. Thus there are now in the County 21 more Gaelic speakers than there were in that year.

Of the Gaelic speakers 114 were born in Scotland, and 5 in Ireland. Of those with Scottish birthplaces, 30 were born in Argyll, 19 in Ross and Cromarty, 18 in Inverness, 11 in Perth, 11 within the County itself, and small numbers in Dumfries, Forfar, Lanark, Nairn, Sutherland, and Wigtown.

TABLE XVII.—County of KIRKCUDBRIGHT.—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

REPORT ON CENSUS, 1911.

This Report will be issued in three volumes. The first Volume will deal more especially with information required for local administrative purposes, and with information of local interest. The Second Volume will contain information applicable to Scotland as a whole and, to a large extent, will be a summary of the First Volume, but with the omission of much local detail. The Third Volume will be devoted to special statistical studies, such as the fertility of married women, the occupations of foreigners, and the numbering of the infirm and such like.

The First Volume will be issued in 37 parts, the first four of them containing the Returns for the Cities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, and the remaining 33 containing the Returns for the Counties exclusive of these cities. The county parts will be issued in alphabetical order. The following is a complete list of the 37 parts :—

- | | | | |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|------------------------|
| 1. Edinburgh. | 11. Caithness. | 20. Inverness. | 29. Perth. |
| 2. Glasgow. | 12. Clackmannan. | 21. Kincardine. | 30. Renfrew. |
| 3. Dundee. | 13. Dumbarton. | 22. Kinross. | 31. Ross and Cromarty. |
| 4. Aberdeen (City). | 14. Dumfries. | 23. Kirkcudbright. | 32. Roxburgh. |
| 5. Aberdeen (County). | 15. Edinburgh (County). | 24. Lanark. | 33. Selkirk. |

| 9. Berwick. | 19. Haddington. | 28. Peebles. | 37. Wigtown. |
| 10. Bute. | | | |

So far as practicable the tables throughout all the parts of the First Volume will be uniform, being arranged in the same order and bearing the same reference number; but when for local reasons any table is uncalled for in a city or a county part, that table will be omitted and an explanatory note inserted. The following is a complete list of the serial tables to be included in the 37 parts of the First Volume.

Tables included in the City and County parts of the First Volume :—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Population of Civil Parishes. | 22. Occupations of Population of— |
| 2. Particulars relating to Civil Parishes, giving population, &c., of burghal and extra-burghal portions, of shipping, &c. | (a) County. |
| 3. Population of Civil Parishes since 1801. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 4. Population of Burghs. | 23. Occupations of Married and Widowed Females— |
| 5. Particulars relating to Burghs, showing population of burgh wards, of shipping, &c. | (a) Principal Occupations. |
| 6. Population of Burghs since 1801. | (b) Age-distribution of those Occupied. |
| 7. Population of Registration Districts. | 24. Numbers engaged in the Principal Industries in— |
| 8. Particulars relating to Registration Districts. | (a) County. |
| 9. Population of Ecclesiastical Parishes. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 10. Population of School Board Districts. | NOTE.—This information will be more elaborated in Second Volume. |
| 11. Population of Special Water Districts. | 25. Birthplaces of the Inhabitants in— |
| 12. Population of Special Drainage Districts. | (a) County. |
| 13. Population of Special Scavenging Districts. | (b) Burghs within county having over 20,000 population. |
| 14. Population of Special Lighting Districts. | 26. Houses of stated sizes in— |
| 15. Population of Inhabited Islands. | (a) Parishes. |
| 16. Population of Parliamentary Constituencies. | (b) Burghs. |
| 17. Population of County Districts and their Electoral Divisions. | NOTE.—This table is not strictly comparable with Table 16 of Second Volume of Report on 1901 Census, as it is based on the number of occupied houses while the 1901 Table was based on the number of “Families.” In this Report two families living in one house are treated as one household; in the Report on the previous Census they were treated as two households. |
| 18. Population of Public Health Districts. | 27. Size of Household in Houses of stated size in— |
| 19. Conjugal Condition and Age-distribution of Population— | (a) County. |
| (a) Of City or County. | (b) Burghs within county of over 20,000 population. |
| (b) Of Burghs of over 20,000 population. | NOTE.—The above note to Table 26 applies to this Table. In addition, institutions and houses of more than 24 rooms and households of 20 persons and over are excluded from this Table. |
| 20. Population by Conjugal Conditions and Quinquennial Age-periods— | 28. Grouped List of Institutions. |
| (a) Of Parishes. | |
| (b) Of Burghs. | |
| (c) Of County and of Burghs having over 20,000 population, showing inter-censal change (age-groups and sexes only). | |
| 21. Ages of Children and Young Persons in School Board Districts. | |

It is hoped that the above Tables are sufficiently full to meet all the requirements of local administration, but should local authorities or others desire further censal information, they are at liberty to make application to the Registrar-General in terms of Sect. 9 of the Census Act, which reads: “The Registrar-General may, if and at such time as he thinks fit, at the request and cost of any local authority or any person, cause abstracts to be prepared containing statistical information which can be derived from the Census Returns but is not supplied by the Census Report, and which, in his opinion, the authority, or person, may reasonably require.”

REPORT

ON THE

TWELFTH DECENNIAL CENSUS OF SCOTLAND.

Volume I.—Part 24.

THE COUNTY OF LANARK.

LANARKSHIRE, the most populous county in Scotland, is found by the Census to have a population numbering 1,447,034, amounting to fully 30 per cent. of the total of Scotland, and being 107,707, or 8·0 per cent., more than the population enumerated in it in 1901.

Of this population, a large part, 784,459, or 54·2 per cent., was enumerated within the City of Glasgow, and has already been dealt with in Part 2 of this Report, which gave the census details of the population of that city. In this Part of the Report it is expedient to include this city population for some purposes, and to exclude it for others, but care is always taken to indicate whether it is included or excluded. It may be pointed out, in order to avoid confusion, that the Lanarkshire population within the City of Glasgow differs from the entire population of that City by 37, which is the number of persons enumerated in that portion of the City which lies outside that county, and consists of a portion of the Renfrewshire Parish of Paisley. The division of the County population into that within and outwith the City of Glasgow is materially affected by the Glasgow Boundaries Act of 1912. Particulars of the population affected are given in an Appendix to this Part of the Census Report (p. 1551).

The censuses of 1811, 1821, and 1831 showed increases varying from 45,053 to 72,432. and all subsequent censuses have shown increases of more than 100,000, the largest being in 1901, which amounted to 293,287, and the smallest in 1861, which was 101,397, The rates of intercensal increase found by the censuses taken since 1811 have twice exceeded 30 per cent. ; have five times been more than 20 per cent., but less than 30 per cent. ; and have three times been more than 15, but less than 20 per cent. ; while by only one census, the present one, has the increase been less than 15 per cent. The population is now nearly ten times as large as in 1801, nearly six times as large as in 1821, nearly three and a half times as large as in 1841, and more than twice as large as in 1861. It is 89·1 per cent. more than in 1871 ; 60·0 per cent. more than in 1881 ; 38·3 per cent. more than in 1891 ; and 8·0 per cent. more than in 1901.

Complexity of boundary alterations makes comparison between the present populations of the portions of the County within and outwith the City of Glasgow and those of previous censuses impracticable.

* A small portion of the City—having a population of 37 in 1911, and of 33 in 1901—is in Renfrewshire.

Distribution of Population within the County.—Of the total population of the County, 784,459, or 54·2 per cent., was enumerated within Glasgow; 359,960, or 24·9 per cent., within other burghs, and 302,615, or 20·9 per cent., in the extraburghal portions of the County. Compared with the 1901 populations of the areas within these three divisions at the date of the 1911 Census, Glasgow is found to have an intercensal increase of 8898, or 1·1 per cent., the other burghs one of 54,099, or 17·7 per cent., and the extraburghal portions of the County one of 44,710, or 17·3 per cent. Of the entire intercensal increase of population in the County, 8·3 per cent. is in the population of Glasgow, 50·2 per cent. in that of the other burghs of the County, and 41·5 per cent. in that of the extraburghal parts of the County.

Population of Burghs.—Exclusive of Glasgow, there are 10 burghs in the County varying in population from 89,605 in Govan, and 66,849 in Partick, to 1326 in Biggar, and 5900 in Lanark. The population of Coatbridge is 43,286; of Motherwell, 40,380; of Hamilton, 38,644; of Wishaw, 25,263; of Airdrie, 24,388; and of Rutherglen, 24,319. In 9 of these burghs an intercensal increase of population is found, while in one only, viz., Biggar, is there a decrease. The 1901 population of Biggar was 1366, and, compared with that figure, the present population is 40, or 2·9 per cent., less. The intercensal increases in these burghs ranged from 12,551 in Partick, and 9236 in Motherwell, to 541 in Lanark. In Govan the intercensal increase is 7431; in Coatbridge, 6295; in Hamilton, 5869; in Rutherglen, 5726; in Wishaw, 4390; and in Airdrie, 2100. The rate of increase varies from 30·8 per cent. in Rutherglen, and 29·7 in Motherwell, to 9·0 in Govan, and 9·4 in Airdrie. In Partick the rate of increase is 23·1 per cent.; in Wishaw, 21·0; in Hamilton, 17·9; in Coatbridge, 17·0; and in Lanark, 10·1. These comparisons, like those of the Public Health Districts, are made between the present populations and the 1901 populations within the areas included within the burgh boundaries at the date of the 1911 Census, and not with the populations of the burghs as constituted in 1901.

Figures showing the growth of these burghs since 1841 are collected in Table VI., and it may there be seen how general and extensive that growth has been. Since 1871 the population of Motherwell has increased sevenfold, and of Govan more than fourfold, while the populations of Hamilton and Partick have increased more than threefold, and of Coatbridge and Wishaw more than twofold.

Extraburghal Population.—The extraburghal portions of the County are contained within three Public Health Districts, the Upper, Middle, and Lower Wards. The Upper Ward has a population of 42,978, which is 2833, or 7·1 per cent., more than in 1901; the Middle Ward of 202,663, which is 24,026, or 13·4 per cent., more than in 1901; and the Lower Ward of 56,974, which is 17,851, or 45·6 per cent., more than in that year. Of the total increase in the extraburghal population 6·3 per cent. is found to be in the Upper Ward Public Health District, 53·8 per cent. in the Middle Ward District, and 39·9 per cent. in the Lower Ward District. These comparisons are made between the present population and the 1901 population of the area included within each of these districts at the date of the 1911 Census.

Population of Parishes.—There are 39 parishes entirely within the County, and 2 partly in the County and partly in another County. These latter are Cathcart and Eastwood, the Glasgow portions of which have been annexed to Lanarkshire. The populations of these portions have been dealt with in Part 2 of this Report, which deals with the population of the City of Glasgow; that of Cathcart, so far as within Lanark, is 31,483, and of Eastwood, 6010.

Of the 39 parishes entirely within the County the most populous are Glasgow, 577,559; Govan, 363,571; Old Monkland, 61,026; Bothwell, 54,891; Dalziel, 47,503; Hamilton, 46,419; New Monkland, 38,116; and Cambusnethan, 33,912: and the least populous are Dunsyre, 175; Dolphinton, 245; Walston, 255; Pettinain, 261; and Wandell and Lamington, 271. The amount of the populations of some of these Lanarkshire parishes may be appreciated if we compare them with the populations of the Counties of Scotland. The population of the Parish of Glasgow is larger than that of any of these counties, Lanark alone excepted; and that of the Parish of Govan is larger than that of any, Lanark and Edinburgh excepted; while that of Cambusnethan, the least populous of the eight parishes first mentioned above, is larger than that of any of the eleven counties of Shetland, Orkney, Sutherland, Nairn, Kinross, Clackmannan, Bute, Berwick, Peebles, Selkirk, and Wigtown, and is also larger than the populations of the counties of Nairn, Kinross, and Peebles combined.

The population in 27 of these 39 parishes is found to have increased during the intercensal period, and in 12 to have decreased. The largest increases are 22,121 in Govan; 10,246 in Dalziel; 8986 in Bothwell; 7778 in Old Monkland; 7392 in Rutherglen; 6047 in Hamilton; and 5944 in Glasgow. The intercensal decreases are mostly small, the largest being one of 740 in Avondale. The highest rates of intercensal increase are found in Cadder, 37·8 per cent.; in Rutherglen, 35·2 per cent.; in Dalziel, 27·5 per cent.; in Cambuslang, 23·0 per cent.; in Carmichael, 22·8 per cent.; and in Covington and Thankerton, 22·6 per cent. The highest rates of intercensal decrease are found in Wandell and Lamington, 25·1 per cent.; in Avondale, 12·8 per cent.; in Crawfordjohn, 12·7 per cent.; and in Dunsyre, 12·5 per cent.

Of the 41 parishes wholly or partly within the County, 5 are partly within the City of Glasgow, and none wholly therein. The portions of Cathcart and Eastwood that are not within the City of Glasgow are in the County of Renfrew; the portion of Cathcart Parish within Glasgow has a population that is 10,500, or 50·0 per cent., more than in 1901; and that of Eastwood Parish within Glasgow has a population that is 2476, or 70·1 per cent., more than in that year. Large portions of the populations of the parishes of Glasgow and Govan are within Glasgow City, though both have also large portions outwith it. The population of the City portion of Glasgow Parish numbers 542,183, and is 5462, or 1·0 per cent., less than in 1901, while that of the portion outwith the City is 11,406, or 47·6 per cent., more than in that year. The City portion of the Parish of Govan has a population of 204,723, which is 1401, or 0·7 per cent., more than in 1901, while that of the portion outwith Glasgow numbers 158,848, and is 20,720, or 15·0 per cent., more than in that year. The contrast between the growth of the population of the portions of these two parishes within and without Glasgow City is striking. The Parish of Rutherglen has a small portion only of its population in the City of Glasgow; it numbers 60, and is 17 less than in 1901.

Special Scavenging and Lighting Districts.—It has been already pointed out in other Parts of this Report that the amount of the burghal population in a county is not necessarily a good measure of the amount of the population living under urban conditions, for some burghs are small and the conditions in them essentially rural, while, on the other hand, some populous areas essentially urban in character are not burghs. In this County there are many such urban districts that are not burghs, and as in most instances they are Special Scavenging or Lighting Districts, their populations can be ascertained by reference to Tables XIII. and XIV., where the populations of those Special Districts are collected.

The most populous of the Special Scavenging and Lighting Districts of the County are Shettleston and Tollcross (Lighting), 29,011; Shettleston and Tollcross (Scavenging) 28,926; Cambuslang (Lighting), 20,452; Cambuslang (Scavenging), 18,995; Blantyre (Lighting), 15,501; Blantyre (Scavenging), 15,197; Bellshill and Mossend (Scavenging and Lighting) 15,219; Larkhall (Lighting), 13,079; and Holytown, New Stevenston, and Carfin (Scavenging and Lighting) 10,476.

Parliamentary Constituencies.—Including the 7 Divisions of Glasgow, there are 15 Parliamentary Constituencies within the County of Lanark, 11 being entirely, and 4 partly, within the County.

The four constituencies partly in the County of Lanark and partly in another county are Falkirk Burghs, Kilmarnock Burghs, Mid Lanark, and South Lanark. The Lanarkshire population in Falkirk Burghs Constituency numbers 61,123. It consists of parts of the populations of the burghs of Airdrie, Hamilton, and Lanark, and has increased by 6976, or 12·9 per cent., during the intercensal period. The Lanarkshire portion of the Kilmarnock Burghs Constituency has a population of 20,355. It consists of part of the population of the burgh of Rutherglen and of a small portion, 60, of that of Glasgow, and has increased by 17·7 per cent. during the intercensal period. The Lanarkshire population of the constituency of Mid Lanark has a population of 111,164. It constitutes the major part of that constituency—there being only a small portion in Renfrewshire,—and has increased by 20,300, or 22·3 per cent., during the intercensal period. The Lanarkshire portion of the population of South Lanark Constituency numbers 58,655. It constitutes the major portion of that constituency, there being only a small portion in Dumfriesshire, and has increased by 3·8 per cent. during the intercensal period.

Of the 11 constituencies entirely within the County, 7 are wholly within the City of Glasgow, 3 are partly within and partly outwith that City, while only one is wholly outwith it. The last is North-East Lanark; it has a population of 141,857, being 22,508, or 18·9 per cent., more than in 1901. The seven constituencies entirely within the City of Glasgow are the seven Divisions of the Parliamentary Burgh of Glasgow; their populations—dealt with in Part 2 of this Report—range in size from St Rollox Division, 127,836, and College Division, 99,933, to the Central Division, 66,702, and Tradeston Division, 67,279; the intercensal change in them varied from an increase of 7·7 per cent. in St Rollox Division, and one of 1·9 per cent. in Camlachie Division, to a decrease of 11·7 per cent. in College Division and one of 10·7 per cent. in the Central Division.

The three constituencies entirely in Lanarkshire and partly within and partly outwith the City of Glasgow are the Govan, Partick, and North-West Divisions of the County. The population of the Govan Division of the County is 115,159,—23,160 being within Glasgow and 91,999 outside it. The population of the entire constituency has increased by 10,999, or 10·6 per cent., that of the Glasgow portion of the constituency by 2830, or 13·9 per cent., and that of the portion outwith Glasgow by 8169, or 9·7 per cent. The population of the North-West Division of the County is 126,555,—17,948 being within Glasgow and 108,607 outwith Glasgow; the intercensal change of the entire population is an increase of 26,346, or 26·3 per cent.,—of the Glasgow portion an increase of 4119, or 29·8 per cent., and of the portion outwith Glasgow an increase of 22,227, or 25·7 per cent. The population of the Partick Division of the County is 139,209,—70,334 being within Glasgow and 68,875 outwith Glasgow; the intercensal change of the entire constituency is an increase of 23,648, or 20·5 per cent.,—of the Glasgow portion an increase of 10,256, or 17·1 per cent., and of the portion outwith Glasgow, an increase of 13,392, or 24·1 per cent.

Age and Sex Distribution of the Population.—The age and sex distribution of the population of the City of Glasgow was fully tabulated in Part 2 of this Report, and those of the populations of the County exclusive of Glasgow, and of the Eight Large Burghs of the County, are to be found in this Part.

Of the total population of the County, Glasgow included, 721,369 are male and 725,665 female, and the ratio of females to males is found to be 100·6 to 100. In Glasgow this ratio is 105·7 to 100; in the County exclusive of Glasgow, 94·8 to 100; in the Eight Large Burghs, 95·0 to 100; and in the County exclusive of Glasgow and of the Eight Large Burghs, 94·7 to 100. In 1901 this ratio in the entire County was 98·7; in Glasgow, 103·8; in the Eight Large Burghs, 92·3; and in the County exclusive of Glasgow and of the Eight Large Burghs, 91·6. Thus in each of these divisions of the County and in the County itself this ratio, when compared with the corresponding ratio in 1901, is found to have changed by a relative increase of females and a relative decrease of males, or, in other words, where in 1901 there was a majority of females that majority has been increased, and where in 1901 there was a minority of females that minority has been reduced.

In the Eight Large Burghs this ratio varies from 105·9 to 100 in Partick, and 105·5 to 100 in Rutherglen, to 84·3 to 100 in Coatbridge, and 87·1 to 100 in Motherwell. In Airdrie it is 97·0 to 100; in Govan, 96·4 to 100; in Wishaw, 91·2 to 100; and in Hamilton, 89·9 to 100. In each of these burghs this ratio is now higher than in 1901.

In Glasgow the ratio of females to each 100 males was less than 100 in one age-group only, 0 to 4, being greater than 100 in all other age-groups. In the remainder of the County this is very different, for in all the age-groups of less than 65 this figure was less than 100, and only greater than 100 in the age-groups of over 65.

Of the male population of the entire County 82·8 per cent. are of less than 45 years of age, and 17·2 per cent. of more than that age, while of the female population 81·6 per cent. are of less than that age, and 18·4 per cent. of more than that age. In 1901 the percentage of males of less than 45 years of age was 84·7, and of females 83·1, while that of males of over 45 was 15·3, and of females of over 45, 16·9. There is thus a relative reduction in the numbers of both sexes who are of less than 45, and a relative increase of those of over that age. This change is found to be common to the population both of Glasgow and of the rest of the County. In Glasgow the percentage of the male population who are less than 45 years of age has fallen during the intercensal period from 84·0 to 81·8, and of the female population from 82·3 to 80·4; in the rest of the County this proportion among males has fallen from 85·7 to 83·9, and among females from 84·3 to 83·1.

An examination of the age distribution of the two sexes in the County, exclusive of Glasgow, shows that among males the numbers in all quinquennial age-groups are now greater than in 1901, with the exception of those of age-groups 20 to 24 and 80 to 84, and among females, greater in all age-groups without exception. Among the male age-groups the largest increases are found in age-group 35 to 39, 6220, or 34·8 per cent.; 5 to 9, 5900, or 16·7 per cent.; 10 to 14, 5817, or 18·5 per cent.; and 30 to 34, 4636, or 21·3 per cent. In the female age-groups the largest increases are found in age-groups 5 to 9, 6061, or 17·6 per cent.; 10 to 14, 5856, or 19·5 per cent.; 35 to 39, 5347, or 33·4 per cent.; and 30 to 34, 5143, or 26·6 per cent.

The sections of Table XXc which deal with the age distribution of the populations of the Eight Large Burghs of the County show that, excluding the more uncertain figures of age-groups of over 80, in four of them, Govan, Motherwell, Partick, and Rutherglen, there has been an increase in the number in all age-groups of both sexes; in two, Wishaw and Coatbridge, an increase in all except male age-group 20 to 24; in one, Hamilton, an increase in all except male age-groups 20 to 24 and 25 to 29; while in one, Airdrie, the changes have been more mixed.

Occupations.—Of the male population of the County of ten years of age and upwards, exclusive of the City of Glasgow, 212,482, or 83·5 per cent., were returned as having some remunerative occupation, and of the female population, 53,570, or 22·5 per cent., were so returned. The occupied males are 20,660, or 10·8 per cent., more than in 1901, and the occupied females, 4521, or 9·2 per cent., more than in that year.

In Glasgow the percentage of the males of over ten years of age returned as occupied is 85·4, and in the Eight Large Burghs of the County this percentage varies from 85·6 in Govan, and the same in Motherwell, to 83·7 in Airdrie, and 83·9 in Rutherglen. In Glasgow this percentage among the female population is 35·1, and in the Eight Large Burghs of the County it ranges from 30·7 in Rutherglen, to 14·1 in Motherwell, and 15·9 in Coatbridge.

Of the occupied males of the County, exclusive of Glasgow, 4270 are of less than 15 years of age, 212 of them being less than 14; 31,596 are more than 15 but less than 20; 30,108, more than 20 but less than 25; 96,963, more than 25 but less than 45; 43,379, more than 45 but less than 65; and 6153, more than 65 years of age. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, occupied males of more than 15 but less than 20 are 1600, or 5·3 per cent., more; of more than 25 but less than 45, 13,036, or 15·5 per cent., more; of more than 45 but less than 65, 9004, or 26·2 per cent., more; and of over 65, 1408, or 29·7 per cent., more; but those of less than 15 are 2747, or 39·1 per cent., less; and those of more than 20 but less than 25, are 1654, or 5·2 per cent., less.

Of the occupied females of the County, exclusive of Glasgow, 1840 are less than 15 years of age, 60 of them being less than 14; 18,011 are more than 15 but less than 20; 13,431 are more than 20 but less than 25; 15,171 are more than 25 but less than 45; 4294 are more than 45 but less than 65; and 820 are more than 65 years of age. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901 those under 15 are 1255, or 40·5 per cent., less; over 15 but less than 20, 398, or 2·3 per cent., more; over 20 but less than 25, 1498, or 12·6 per cent., more; over 25 but less than 45, 3286, or 27·6 per cent., more; over 45 but less than 65, 650, or 17·8 per cent., more; and over 65, 59, or 6·7 per cent., less.

In the County, exclusive of the City of Glasgow, the occupations to which the largest numbers of occupied males are returned are those connected with mining, iron and steel manufacture, engineering, shipbuilding, housebuilding, and agriculture.

Occupied males with mining occupations number 56,209, and amount to 26·5 per cent. of the total occupied males of the County. Of them, 37,829 were returned as Hewers, 14,019 as Other Workers below Ground, and 4361 as Workers above Ground. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Hewers are 2647, or 6·5 per cent., less, but Other Workers below Ground are 8353, or 147·4 per cent., more, Workers above Ground are 1493, or 52·1 per cent., more, and the total is 7199, or 14·7 per cent., more. Of the miners, 6374 were enumerated in Hamilton, 3045 in Motherwell, 1705 in Wishaw, 1574 in Coatbridge, 1131 in Airdrie, and 766 in Rutherglen.

Occupied males with occupations connected with the manufacture of iron and steel number 20,168, 2143 being described as Workers in Pig Iron Manufacture, 11,927 as Workers in Puddling Furnaces, Rolling Mills, and Tube Manufacture, and 6098 as Workers in Steel Manufacture. Collectively they number 20,168, which is 5245, or 35·1 per cent., more than in 1901, and amount to 9·5 per cent. of the total occupied males of the County. Of them 6488 were enumerated in Coatbridge, 3011 in Motherwell, 2181 in Wishaw, 1921 in Airdrie, and 583 in Rutherglen.

Males with occupations connected with the engineering trades number 20,145, constitute 9·5 per cent. of the total, and are 1833, or 10·0 per cent., more than in 1901.

TABLE E.—PRINCIPAL OCCUPATIONS OF MALES IN THE EIGHT LARGE BURGHS OF THE COUNTY.

	County.	Airdrie.	Coatbridge.	Govan.	Hamilton.	Motherwell.	Partick.	Rutherglen.	Wishaw.

Seamen	1,885	3	5	1,357	5	5	335	25	5

They include, among others, 3974 Blacksmiths and Strikers, 3740 Erectors, Fitters, and Turners, 3423 Ironfounders, and 2109 Boiler Makers. Of them 5558 were enumerated in Govan, 2725 in Partick, 1767 in Coatbridge, 1679 in Motherwell, 1035 in Airdrie, 940 in Wishaw, 797 in Rutherglen, and 497 in Hamilton.

Males with occupations connected with shipbuilding number 14,528; they constitute 6·8 per cent. of the total, and are 4897, or 50·8 per cent., more than in 1901. Among others these include 5417 Platers and Rivetters, and 2201 Shipwrights. Of these 14,528 occupied males, 8287 were enumerated in Govan, and 5946 in Partick.

Males returned with occupations connected with housebuilding number 10,873; they constitute 5·1 per cent. of the total, and are 3006, or 21·7 per cent., less than in 1901. Of them 3268 were returned as Builders, or Masons, or Bricklayers, or as their Labourers; 3576 as Carpenters or Joiners, or as their Labourers; 1604 as Painters; and 2425 as having other building occupations. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Builders, Masons, Bricklayers and their Labourers are 1564, or 32·4 per cent., less; Carpenters and Joiners and their Labourers, 1469, or 29·1 per cent., less; and Painters, 50, or 3·0 per cent., less. Of those in these occupations, 1587 were enumerated in Partick, 1456 in Govan, 693 in Motherwell, 686 in Hamilton, 657 in Coatbridge, 521 in Rutherglen, 510 in Airdrie, and 448 in Wishaw.

To the agricultural occupations 7445, or 3·5 per cent., of the occupied males were returned, a number which is 190, or 2·6 per cent., more than that of 1901. Of these 1910 were described as Farmers or Crofters, 832 as Sons or Other Relatives assisting on the Farms or Crofts, and 3121 as Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Farmers and Crofters are 52, or 2·8 per cent., more; and Agricultural Labourers are 299, or 10·6 per cent., more; but Sons and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms are 67, or 7·5 per cent., less.

Other occupations to which large numbers of occupied males were returned, are, Seamen, 1885; Railway Servants, 7422; Carters, 3908; Commercial Travellers, 1548; and Commercial Clerks, 5923. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Seamen are 522, or 38·3 per cent., more; Railway Servants are 967, or 15·0 per cent., more; Carters are 67, or 1·7 per cent., more; Commercial Travellers, 503, or 48·1 per cent., more; and Commercial Clerks are 1082, or 22·4 per cent., more.

Of the occupied females of the County, also exclusive of those within the City of Glasgow, the largest number are returned as Domestic Servants; they amount to 10,759, or 20·1 per cent. of the total, and are 117, or 1·1 per cent., less than in 1901. Of these domestic servants, 1675 were enumerated in Partick, 781 in Govan, 599 in Hamilton, 496 in Coatbridge, 403 in Motherwell, 384 in Wishaw, 374 in Airdrie, and 326 in Rutherglen. The number of female domestic servants to each thousand of the population in the Eight Large Burghs of the County varies from 25·1 in Partick, and 15·5 in Hamilton, to 8·7 in Govan, and 10·0 in Motherwell. In Airdrie it is 15·3; in Wishaw, 15·2; in Rutherglen, 13·4; and in Coatbridge, 11·5.

Other occupations to which large numbers of females are returned, and the numbers so returned, are Dressmakers, 3962; Commercial Clerks, 3456; Teachers, 2281; and agricultural occupations, 2272, including 168 returned as Farmers or Crofters, 475 as Daughters and Other Relatives of Farmers and Crofters and assisting on the Farms and Crofts; and 1589 as Agricultural Labourers. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, Dressmakers are 1352, or 25·4 per cent., less; Commercial Clerks, 1913, or 124·0 per cent., more; Teachers, 445, or 24·2 per cent., more; Farmers and Crofters, 5, or 3·1 per cent., more; Daughters and Other Relatives assisting on the Farms and Crofts, 415, or 46·6 per cent., less; and Agricultural Labourers, 202, or 11·3 per cent., less. The total number of females with agricultural occupations is 600, or 20·9 per cent., less than in that year.

Industries.—The Industries of the County (exclusive of the City of Glasgow) defined as the occupations of the employers, are collected in Table XXIVa. Those to which the largest numbers of males are returned are Coal Industry, 59,605; Iron Manufacture, 42,638; Shipbuilding, 17,771; Preparation and Sale of Food, 11,652; House Building and Decorating, 9102; Railway Service, 8370; and Agriculture, 7430; and those to which the largest numbers of females are returned are Domestic and Institution Service, 13,352; Preparation and Sale of Food, 6097; Tailoring and Dressmaking, 6043; Local Government Service, 2616; Agriculture, 2272; and Cotton Industry, 2092.

In Airdrie the industries to which the largest numbers of males are returned are Iron Manufacture, 3262; and Coal Industry, 1241. In Coatbridge they are the same, Iron Manufacture, 9363; and Coal Industry, 1763. In Govan they are Shipbuilding, 10,235; and Iron Manufacture, 4732. In Hamilton they are Coal Industry, 6691; and Preparation and Sale of Food, 781. In Motherwell they are Iron Manufacture, 5355; Coal Industry, 3252; and Railway Service, 1091. In Partick they are Shipbuilding, 7169; and Iron Manufacture, 2372. In Rutherglen they are Iron Manufacture, 1589; and Coal Industry, 874. And in Wishaw they are Iron Manufacture, 3369; and Coal Industry, 1835.

As information regarding industries, as distinct from occupations, was asked for and is tabulated for the first time in this Census, there are no previous figures with which to compare the foregoing.

Birthplaces.—Of the total population of the County, exclusive of that of the City of Glasgow, 585,070, or 88·3 per cent., are of Scottish birth, 463,060, or 69·9 per cent., having been born within the County itself, and 122,010, or 18·4 per cent., in other Scottish counties. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, the total of Scottish birth is 86,318, or 17·3 per cent., more; those born within the County itself, 80,869, or 21·2 per cent., more; and those born in other Scottish counties 5449, or 4·7 per cent., more.

Those of English birth number 20,916: they constitute 3·2 per cent. of the total, and are 2765, or 15·2 per cent., more than in 1901. Those of Irish birth number 47,468: they constitute 7·2 per cent. of the total, and are 6105, or 11·4 per cent., less than in 1901. Foreigners enumerated in the County number 5232: they constitute 0·8 per cent. of the total, and are 2017, or 62·7 per cent., more than in 1901.

The birthplaces of the populations of the Eight Large Burghs of the County are shown in Table XXVB., and for five of these Burghs comparisons with the corresponding figures for 1901 are shewn in Tables G to L. From the figures there given it is found that in these Eight Large Burghs the percentage of the population of Scottish birth varies from 91·0 in Airdrie, and 89·6 in Rutherglen, to 83·6 in Coatbridge, and 84·7 in Wishaw; that the percentage of English birth varies from 4·8 in Motherwell, 4·8 in Wishaw, and 4·4 in Partick, to 2·0 in Airdrie, and 2·8 in Rutherglen; that the percentage of Irish birth varies from 12·4 in Coatbridge, 8·7 in Partick, and 8·5 in Motherwell, to 6·5 in Airdrie, and 6·9 in Rutherglen; and that the percentage of Foreigners varies from 1·7 in Hamilton and in Wishaw, to 0·1 in Rutherglen, and 0·2 in Airdrie.

In Coatbridge, Govan, and Partick the number of English birth has increased, and the number of Irish birth has decreased during the intercensal period; in Motherwell the number both of English and Irish has increased during that period; and in Hamilton the number both of English and Irish has decreased. Such comparison cannot be made regarding the figures of the other burghs, because those of 1901 are not available.

Housing.—The total number of houses enumerated in the County, exclusive of the City of Glasgow, is 140,151, being 25,386, or 22·1 per cent., more than the corresponding figure of 1901. Of these houses, 130,321, or 93·0 per cent., are inhabited, 9154, or 6·5 per cent., uninhabited, and 676, or 0·5 per cent., in course of erection. In 1901, inhabited houses numbered 108,397, and constituted 94·5 per cent. of the total; uninhabited houses, 4490, and constituted 3·9 per cent. of the total; and houses in course of erection, 1878, and constituted 1·6 per cent. of the total. Compared with the figures of 1901, inhabited houses are 21,924, or 20·2 per cent., more; uninhabited houses are 4664, or 103·9 per cent., more; and houses in course of erection are 1202, or 64·0 per cent., fewer.

Of the inhabited houses in the County, exclusive of those within the City of Glasgow, 26,438, or 20·3 per cent., are one-roomed; 64,718, or 49·7 per cent., two-roomed; 19,537, or 15·0 per cent., three-roomed; 6955, or 5·3 per cent., four-roomed; 4356, or 3·3 per cent., five-roomed; 2681, or 2·1 per cent., six-roomed; and 5467, or 4·3 per cent., of more than six rooms.

Table M has been constructed to shew the relative frequency of houses of different sizes in the burghs of the County, other than Glasgow. It may there be seen that one-roomed houses are relatively most numerous in Wishaw, where they represent 28·5 per cent. of the total inhabited houses, and in Coatbridge, where they represent 27·3 per cent.; two-roomed houses are most numerous in Govan, representing 59·3 per cent., in Motherwell, 51·9 per cent., and in Coatbridge, 51·4 per cent., of the total; three-roomed houses are most numerous in Partick, representing 24·0 per cent., and in Rutherglen, 18·3 per cent., of the total; four-roomed houses are most numerous in Biggar, representing 13·4 per cent., and in Lanark, 10·4 per cent., of the total; five-roomed houses are most numerous in Biggar, representing 8·8 per cent., and in Lanark, 6·8 per cent., of the total; six-roomed houses are most numerous in Lanark, representing 6·2 per cent., and in Biggar, 4·7 per cent., of the total; and houses of more than six rooms are most numerous in Biggar, representing 16·7 per cent., and in Lanark, 11·9 per cent., of the total. Houses of more than four rooms are relatively most numerous in Biggar, representing 30·2 per cent., and in Lanark, 24·9 per cent., of the total in each burgh, and least so in Govan, 4·2 per cent., and in Motherwell, 4·8 per cent. In Rutherglen houses of five rooms and over form 13·0 per cent. of the total; in Partick, 11·5; in Airdrie, 9·4; in Hamilton, 9·2; in Coatbridge, 5·8; and in Wishaw, 5·4.

Of the total population of the County, exclusive of Glasgow, and exclusive of houseless persons, and of persons living in houses of more than 24 rooms or in households of more than 19 persons (Vide note to Table XXVIIA.), 100,882, or 15·6 per cent., were enumerated in houses of one room; 337,637, or 52·3 per cent., in houses of two rooms;

105,118, or 16·3 per cent., in houses of three rooms; 35,882, or 5·6 per cent., in houses of four rooms; 22,110, or 3·4 per cent., in houses of five rooms; 13,828, or 2·1 per cent., in houses of six rooms; and 30,134, or 4·7 per cent., in houses of more than six rooms.

The percentage of the population in the burghs of the County, other than Glasgow, living in one-roomed houses varies from 23·0 in Wishaw, 22·4 in Coatbridge, and 19·3 in Airdrie, to 6·7 in Biggar, 8·1 in Partick, and 10·7 in Lanark; and that of the population living in two-roomed houses varies from 61·7 in Govan, 54·2 in Coatbridge, and 53·7 in Motherwell, to 28·5 in Biggar, 33·5 in Lanark, 47·1 in Rutherglen, and 47·3 in Partick. The percentage of the population living in houses of more than two rooms varies from 64·8 in Biggar, 55·8 in Lanark, and 44·6 in Partick, to 23·4 in Coatbridge, 23·9 in Wishaw, and 27·3 in Govan; in Rutherglen this percentage is 39·0; in Hamilton, 31·8; in Motherwell, 29·5; and in Airdrie, 29·2. The percentage of the population living in houses of more than six rooms varies from 19·6 in Biggar, and 12·9 in Lanark, to 1·3 in Govan, and 2·3 in Motherwell.

Of the total population of the County, Glasgow included, exclusive of houseless persons and of persons in houses of more than 24 rooms or in households of more than 19 persons, 576,924, or 41·2 per cent., are living not more than two in a room; 949,573, or 67·8 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 1,204,094, or 86·0 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 823,201, or 58·8 per cent., are living more than two in a room; 450,552, or 32·2 per cent., more than three in a room; and 196,031, or 14·0 per cent., more than four in a room.

Of the population of the County, exclusive of Glasgow, 242,578, or 37·6 per cent., are living not more than two in a room; 405,309, or 62·8 per cent., not more than three in a room; and 530,514, or 82·2 per cent., not more than four in a room; but 403,013, or 62·4 per cent., are living more than two in a room; 240,282, or 37·2 per cent., more than three in a room; and 115,077, or 17·8 per cent., more than four in a room. Compared with the corresponding figures of 1901, those living not more than two in a room are 30,477, or 14·4 per cent., more; those living more than two in a room, 37,496, or 10·3 per cent., more; those living more than three in a room, 16,105, or 7·2 per cent., more; and those living more than four in a room, 628, or 0·5 per cent., more.

In Table O the housing conditions in the burghs of the County are shewn, and it may there be seen that the percentage of the population living not more than two in a room varies from 77·5 in Biggar, 58·9 in Lanark, and 50·3 in Partick, to 28·8 in Coatbridge, and 29·9 in Wishaw; and the percentage living more than four in a room varies from 24·2 in Wishaw, 23·7 in Coatbridge, and 20·2 in Airdrie, to 3·5 in Biggar, 9·2 in Lanark, 9·4 in Partick, and 10·7 in Glasgow.

Of the population of the County exclusive of that of Glasgow and of other burghs, 36·8 per cent. are living not more than two in a room, 60·2 per cent. not more than three in a room, and 79·7 per cent. not more than four in a room; but 63·2 per cent. are living more than two in a room, 39·8 per cent. more than three in a room, and 20·3 per cent. more than four in a room.

Gaelic Speaking.—In the County, exclusive of Glasgow, 8403 persons were returned as being able to speak Gaelic, a number which is 89 less than in 1901. Of these all but 6 are able to speak both Gaelic and English, 5 of the 6 being elderly widows, and the remaining one a child of three years of age. The number reported on the householders' schedules as speaking Gaelic but unable to speak English very considerably exceeded the number here stated, but investigation showed that most of such entries were made in error and, where this was so, the persons have been counted as speaking both Gaelic and English.

Of the Gaelic speakers the largest numbers were born in Argyll, 2267; Inverness, 1781; Ross and Cromarty, 1154; Ireland, 995; and in Lanark, 748. The Gaelic speakers of Irish birth are presumably speakers of Irish, not Scottish, Gaelic.

Glasgow Boundaries Act, 1912.—The particulars relative to the population affected by Glasgow Boundaries Act, 1912 will be found in the Appendix at pp. 1547 et seq.

NOTE.

The boundaries of the City of Glasgow were extended in 1905 to include part of Govan Combination Parish (Kinning Park): vide Census Report, Vol. I., Part 2. The Table shows the population of that Parish as given in the 1901 Census Report, as also, in italics, the 1901 population of its divisions as they existed at the date of the 1911 Census.

The Table also shows the 1901 population of the County inclusive and exclusive of Glasgow City as given in the Report on that Census, and, in italics, as adjusted for alteration of boundaries during the inter-censal period.

The City of Glasgow was further extended in 1909 to include small portions of the landward parts of the Parishes of Eastwood and Paisley in the County of Renfrew—the Eastwood portion containing no population either then or at the date of the Census. The population of the Renfrewshire portion of the City is not included in this part of the Census Report: see Parts Nos. 2 and 30.

TABLE II.—County of LANARK—Particulars of Parishes.

This Table shows the distribution of Parish populations into Parish Wards, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Special Districts, etc., where such divisions of Parishes exist. Undivided Parishes are not included in the Table.

* The asterisk denotes that a change of Parish or County Boundaries was made during the intercensal period.

The boundary of the County was altered in 1891 by the transfer, by Order of the Boundary Commissioners, (1) of the Lanarkshire portions of the Parishes of Kirkpatrick-Juxta and Moffat, to the County of Dumfries; (2) of a part of the Lanarkshire portion of Cathcart Parish to the County of Renfrew, the remainder of such portion having been transferred to the Parish of East Kilbride in Lanark County; (3) of part of the Parish of Carmunnock (containing no population) in Lanark County to the Parish of Cathcart in Renfrew County; (4) of that portion of Glasgow Burgh and City (as extended and defined by the Act 54 and 55 Vict. c. 130) in the County of Renfrew to the County of Lanark; (5) of that portion of the Parish of Govan in the Burgh of Renfrew and County of Lanark to the Parish and County of Renfrew; and (6) of part of the Parish of Govan (Kinning Park) in Renfrew County to Lanark County.

† The figures for 1801 and 1811 differ from those stated in the Preliminary Report on the Census of 1911. The figures in this Table were extracted from the Census Reports for the years to which they refer, while the figures in Table II. of the Preliminary Report were extracted from a retrospective Table given in the Census Report for 1851.

¹ Cathcart Parish returned wholly in Renfrewshire in 1801.

² Culter Parish, which, up till 1891 inclusive was partly in the County of Peebles, was returned wholly in Lanarkshire in 1801–1851.

³ Dalserf Parish: no return was made in 1801.

⁴ Glasgow City Parish and Barony Parish were united in 1898 by Order of the Secretary for Scotland to form the Parish of Glasgow.

⁵ Govan Parish returned wholly in Lanarkshire in 1801–1811. In 1831 and 1851 a portion of the Parish of Govan, for which no separate Returns were made, was included in those of the Parish of Gorbals.

⁶ Kirkpatrick-Juxta and Moffat Parishes were returned wholly in Dumfriesshire, the former in 1801–1861, and the latter in 1801–1831.

* Royal Burghs. † Town with privileges of a Royal Burgh (48 & 49 Vict. c. xli., sec. 6). † Kinning Park merged in City of Glasgow.

NOTE.

Where the boundaries of any Burgh have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the Burgh as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Burgh. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

NOTES.

Where the boundaries of any Registration District have been altered since the Census of 1901, the population of the District as given in the Report on that Census is shown, as also, in italics, for purposes of comparison, the 1901 population of the area now included in the Registration District. The date of alteration in each case is added in parentheses.

The boundaries of the City of Glasgow were extended in 1905 and 1909 (see Note to Table I.); and the Registration Districts of the City and Parish were rearranged in 1907 (see also Vol. I., Part 2, of Census Report).

The 1901 population of the County exclusive of Glasgow City, as given in the Report on that Census, is shown in the Table, as also, in italics, the 1901 population of the County exclusive of the area now included within the City.

TABLE VIII.—County of LANARK—Particulars of Registration Districts.

This Table shows the distribution of Registration District populations into Parishes, into Burghal and extra-Burghal portions, and into Mainland and Insular portions. Registration Districts not appearing in the Table are not so divided. The Table also shows the grouping of Registration Districts, or parts of Registration Districts, into the respective Parishes of which they form part.

TABLE XVII.—County of LANARK—County Districts and their Electoral Divisions.

Counties for purposes of local administration are divided into County Districts, which for certain purposes include Police Burghs, but exclude Royal Burghs and Parliamentary Burghs so far as situated within their police boundaries. The Electoral Divisions referred to in this Table are the areas into which a County or a District of a County is divided for the purpose of the election of members of the County Council.

NOTES.

During the intercensal period the contents and boundaries of the County Electoral Divisions of Millerston & Springburn and North Shettleston, as also those of the Burghs of Govan, Partick, and Motherwell, and of the Parishes of Cadder, Bothwell, and Cambuslang were altered by Order of the Secretary for Scotland. The 1901 Census populations of these Divisions as then constituted, as also those of the Burgh of Kinning Park which was annexed to the City of Glasgow in 1905, are given in the Table in italics. They are not comparable with the 1911 populations of the Electoral Divisions as re-arranged.

The Burghs of Lanark and Rutherglen were extended during the intercensal period: Vide Table IV. The 1901 Census populations of the areas now included in the landward portions of the Parishes of Lanark and Rutherglen are shewn in the Table in italics.

TABLE XVIII.—County of LANARK—Public Health Districts.

Public Health Districts consist of (1) all Burghs within the County, including Police Burghs, each being a separate District; and (2) County Districts exclusive of any Police Burghs that may be situated within them.

APPENDIX.

POPULATION OF AREA AFFECTED BY GLASGOW
BOUNDARIES ACT, 1912.

Glasgow Boundaries Act, 1912.—This Act became effective on the 5th November 1912, and as it affects a large section of the population of this County and also of the Counties of Dumbarton and Renfrew, we give as an appendix to this Part of the Report a series of tables dealing with the census population of the area now being annexed to Glasgow.

In terms of the Act, portions of the Dumbartonshire parish of New or East Kilpatrick, of the Lanarkshire parishes of Glasgow and Govan, and of the Renfrewshire parishes of Cathcart, Eastwood, and Renfrew, become included within the boundaries of the City of Glasgow, and, so far as they are outwith the County of Lanark, are transferred so as to be included within the boundaries of that County. Thus the Act not only effects an alteration of the boundaries of the City, but also alterations of the boundaries of the Counties of Dumbarton, Lanark, and Renfrew.

The total area annexed to Glasgow had a population on census day, 2nd April 1911, of 223,991, of whom 110,901 were males, and 113,090 females. In it 51,633 houses were enumerated, 46,421 being inhabited, 4850 uninhabited, and 362 in course of erection.

TABLE P.—SHEWING EFFECT OF EXTENSION ON COUNTY POPULATIONS.

Counties.	Population at Census, 1911.
	Before Extension.	After Extension.	Difference.
Dumbarton	139,831	136,233	— 3,598
Lanark { Within City . .	784,459	1,008,450	+ 223,991
	662,575	477,631	— 184,944
Renfrew { Within City . .	37	37	—
	314,515	279,066	— 35,449

The extended City of Glasgow had, on census day, a population of 1,008,487, of whom 492,205 were males, and 516,282 were females. In it 236,080 houses were enumerated, of which 209,478 were inhabited, 25,753 uninhabited, and 849 were in course of erection.

The alterations on the Census populations of the Counties affected are shewn in Table P. The portion of Dumbarton transferred to Lanark has a population of 3598, and the effect of the transfer is to reduce the census population of that County from 139,831 to 136,233. The portion of Renfrew transferred to Lanark has a census population of 35,449, and the transfer reduces the population of that County from 314,552 to 279,103. Of the population of the City, a small number, viz. 37, remains in the County of Renfrew. It is the population of a small portion of the Parish of Paisley annexed to Glasgow by the Glasgow Corporation Act, 1909. This portion of Paisley Parish and a small unpopulated portion of the Renfrewshire parish of Eastwood, annexed by the same Act, are the only areas annexed to Glasgow from counties other than Lanark that have not been transferred to Lanark.

The population added to the County of Lanark by the Act of 1912 amounts to 39,047 and raises the census population from 1,447,034 to 1,486,081.

The population transferred from the portion of Lanarkshire outwith the City of Glasgow to the portion within the City amounts to 184,944, and its transfer reduces the census population of the portion of that county outwith Glasgow from 662,575 to 477,631.

The area annexed to the City of Glasgow contained three burghs, Govan, Partick, and Pollokshaws. These now cease to be independent burghs. The census population of Govan is 89,605, of Partick, 66,849, and of Pollokshaws, 12,932.

The annexed area is situated in six parishes, Cathcart, Eastwood, Glasgow, Govan, New or East Kilpatrick, and Renfrew. The boundaries of these parishes are not altered. The distribution of their populations within and outwith the City according to the previous and the new boundaries of the City, is shewn in Table R.

The effect of the extension is to transfer a population of 12,801 from the portion of Cathcart Parish outwith the City to the population of the portion within the City, to reduce the population of the former from 15,205 to 2404, and to increase that of the latter from 31,483 to 44,284. In Eastwood the population transferred amounts to 12,932; it increases the population within the City from 6010 to 18,942, and decreases that outwith the City from 18,505 to 5573. In Glasgow Parish the population transferred numbers 26,114; it increases the City portion from 542,183 to 568,297, and decreases the portion outwith the City from 35,376 to 9262. In Govan Parish the transferred population numbers 158,830; it increases the City portion from 204,723 to 363,553, and decreases the portion outwith the City from 158,848 to 18. In the small portion of this Parish which remains outwith the City only 4 inhabited houses were enumerated at the census. In New or East Kilpatrick the transferred portion has a population of 3598: on census day the population of the entire Parish was 13,798 and was all outwith Glasgow, and the transfer has reduced the population outwith the City to 10,200. The census population of the Parish of Renfrew was 27,434 and was entirely outwith the City;—the part now annexed to the City numbers 9716, and reduces the population of the Parish outwith the City to 17,718.

Before the extension of Glasgow there were 6 parishes partly within the City of Glasgow, and none entirely within the City. The effect of the extension is to increase the population of the City portions of 4 of these and to add 2 to their number, so that after the extension there will be, within the City, portions of 8 parishes, but none of them will be entirely so. The population of the City within Paisley and Rutherglen Parishes has not been affected.

The annexed area is divided into 11 burgh wards, raising the total number of burgh wards in the City from 26 to 37. The census detail of these new wards is shewn in Appendix Table 1, on page 1551.

Previous to the extension there was one School Board District, Glasgow, entirely within the City, and 8 partly so. By the extension, the distribution of the populations of 4 of these 8, Maryhill, Springburn, Rutherglen, and Paisley, has not been affected; in 4, Shettleston, Govan, Cathcart, and Eastwood, the city portion has been increased, but in none has the entire School Board District been brought within the City.

* The Seven Divisions of the Parliamentary Burgh of Glasgow are wholly within the City; the other Constituencies are only partly so.

By the extension, portions of the School Board Districts of New Kilpatrick and Renfrew Landward have been brought within the City.

Between the dates of the taking of the census and 5th November 1912,—when the Boundaries Act came into operation—the School Board Districts of Glasgow, Maryhill, and Springburn were combined by order of the Scotch Education Department and the combined district, whether the new or the old city boundaries are taken is partly within and partly outwith the City. There are now 9 School Board Districts partly within the City, but none wholly so.

In terms of the Act all Special Water, Drainage, Scavenging and Lighting Districts, so far as situated in the area annexed to the City, are abolished. A list of these Districts is given in Appendix Table 5, on page 1556.

By the extension, the portions of the City of Glasgow formerly in the Parliamentary Constituencies of the North-West, Govan, and Partick Divisions of Lanarkshire, and in the East and West Divisions of Renfrewshire, are increased, and for the first time there is a portion of the City in the Constituency of Dumbartonshire. Before the extension there were 13 Parliamentary Constituencies wholly or partly within the City and the extension raises the number to 14. Of the population of the annexed area the number in Govan Division of Lanarkshire is 91,981; in Partick Division of Lanarkshire, 66,849; in North-West Division of Lanarkshire, 26,114; in East Renfrewshire, 25,733; in West Renfrewshire 9716; and in Dumbartonshire, 3598.

The Age Distribution, the Occupations, the Industries, and the Housing Conditions of the population of the annexed area are shown in Appendix Tables 7 to 15.
